TWO KILLERS SEIZED; CONFESS

BARE POLITICAL AIMS OF KING'S AMERICAN TRIP

Warm U.S. Welcome Foreseen in Britain.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 3.—The political aspect of the visit which King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth of Britain will pay to America was stressed here today by resolutions in both houses of parliament. These resolutions expressed the loyalty and deep interest with which the progress of the king and queen will be followed during their six weeks' absence from the country. The royal couple is scheduled to depart next Saturday.

Lord Snell.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, introducing the motion in the house of commons, said he hoped the royal visit would further cement the ties of empire.

Chamberlain pointed out that the king and queen would go on from Canada to the United States, emphasizing that they were doing so at the invitation of President Roosevelt.

Cites Relations with U. S.

"The visit will be the first of its kind by the reigning sovereigns of this country," Chamberlain said. "Relations between ourselves and the United States long have been of a special character, because of our common language, common ideals, and tradition. We can be sure that their majesties will be warmly welcomed by the great republic across the Atlantic."

When a similar resolution was introduced in the house of lords by the earl of Stanhope, first lord of the admiralty, Lord Snell, Labor leader in the house of lords, referring to the abdication of former King Edward VIII., said:

"His majesty was called on unexpectedly during an acute constitutional crisis to assume a heavy responsibility. As he sets out on his journey full of promise and significance, he should know that he takes with him the grateful admiration of his people."

Says U. S. Visit Is of Interest.

Lord Snell described the royal visit to Washington, D. C., as of very great interest.

The archbishop of Canterbury said the royal visit to Washington "might well prove to be a landmark in relations between Canadians and the people of the United States, on which so much of the future of the world depends."

King George and Queen Elizabeth tonight made their last public appearance before leaving for America, and experienced having one of their requests turned down. Arturo Toscanini, the world's highest paid conductor, turned down a royal request to meet the king and queen during an interval of a concert at Queen's hall.

Conducts Beethoven Concert.

The temperamental maestro, who is 72 years old, was conducting the British Broadcasting corporation's symphony orchestra in the first Beethoven concert of the London music festival. As usual at such events, those responsible for the performance were asked to visit the royal box.

What was unusual was that the conductor himself did not show up to make his bows to royalty, although the king personally was said to have sent word asking if he would like to appear.

Bullitt to Attend Party.

Toscanini's boycott caused comment among the audience. Later it was stated that the conductor, feeling the strain of the performance and following his invariable custom of tolerating no distractions, had asked to be excused. After explanations the royal party apparently decided to let the matter drop.

Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy will give a dinner party tomorrow night for the king and queen. It was announced today that William C. Bullitt, American ambassador to France, will fly over from Paris for this function so that, just before his departure, the king will get an earful from President Roosevelt's two closest advisers on foreign politics.

TAVERN BANDITS NABBED AFTER DETROIT CHASE

Girl Captured with Desperadoes.

KILLER-BANDIT PICTURES.

Pictures of the two Chicago tavern holdup slayers and the girl who fled with them to Detroit, where they were arrested early today, appear on the back page. They were rushed to THE TRIBUNE by Associated Press Wirephoto.

Detroit, Mich., May 4 [Thursday].—[Special.]—Two gunmen, who killed an undertaker and shot two policemen in an attempted holdup in Chicago early yesterday, were seized here early today in a running gun chase through Detroit streets. They confessed the Chicago slaying. The blonde girl who had been their companion in Chicago was still with them.

The two men are Orville Watson, 29 years old, who was shot in the holdup and who was operated on by a Chicago physician under threat of death a short time after their escape in a hail of gunfire, and Edward Riley, 739 Belmont avenue, Chicago. Both are former Michigan convicts. Watson lived at 908 Belle Plaine avenue, Chicago, with Susanna Smith, 22 years old, who was present during the operation and at one time held the gun on Dr. Siegmund Hirschfeld, lured to do the surgery.

Policeman Spies License Plate.

The two men and the girl arrived in Detroit about 10 o'clock last night. They were driving about in the northwest section of the city, presumably on the lookout for a doctor to attend the bullet wounds from which Watson was suffering, when their Illinois license plates attracted the attention of Patrolman Roy Palmer, leader of an automobile squad.

Palmer ordered them to stop. He wanted to investigate because the word had gone out that the bandits wanted in Chicago were likely to make for Detroit. But the car sped away at Palmer's command and headed for the center of Detroit at seventy miles an hour. Palmer's squad followed, firing.

After a chase of about a mile passersby saw two guns hurled from the bandit car. The guns were turned over to other police squads attracted by the firing. One was a .32 caliber revolver, and the other a 7.65 millimeter Mauser pistol, the same kind of weapons the bandits had used in Chicago.

Come Out with Hands Up.

About a mile farther on, the bandit car stopped and the two men came out with their hands up, surrendering to Palmer's squad. They readily admitted their identity. Police said the bandit car had been struck by bullets several times, but that none of its occupants had been wounded in the chase. They said also that Watson and Riley had fired no return shots.

The car in which they reached Detroit was a Ford, presumably the same one they stole after abandoning the one in which they fled the holdup scene.

Watson was pale and obviously in great pain from his wounds when he arrived at the homicide bureau here. After a short period of questioning he was taken to the Detroit Receiving hospital for treatment. Watson has served two terms in Michigan prisons and Riley has served two under his own name and, it was believed, a third under the name of Ryan.

The three waived extradition to Illinois and are expected to be removed by Chicago police after a court hearing tomorrow. It was believed that Watson's condition, however, would

Federal Barge Lines Tied Up by C I O Strike

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New Orleans, La., May 3.—[Special.]—The full extent of a C. I. O. strike against the government owned federal barge lines was admitted here today by L. E. Barry, superintendent of terminals in New Orleans.

Twenty-three towboats and their barges, involving more than one hundred thousand tons of merchandise, are tied up at ports the length of the Mississippi river—from Minneapolis to New Orleans. Masters, pilots, and engineers have been threatened and slugged. Boats at New Orleans have been fired upon. Crews have been clubbed.

Organized During War.

The federal barge lines were organized during the world war to help speed transportation of war materials for shipment from New Orleans.

The line, known as the Inland Waterways corporation, has developed powerful and new type towboats which have been used as models for the private interests that have started other lines. These tow boats and their acres of barges carry more freight than did any of the old time "floating palaces" of the river's golden era.

Protection Denied Loyal Men.

The United States government has denied protection for the loyal men on the boats tied up at New Orleans.

The C. I. O., which has been fostered and protected by the Roosevelt administration in several major strikes, including that of the United Automobile Workers in Michigan, now has paralyzed the government's twenty-five million dollar federal barge line. Capt. C. Elmer Patton of Memphis said today that the situation is serious. Barry believes the only hope of peace lies in allowing the boats to remain tied to the bank.

The strikers are members of the Inland Boatsmen's union, an affiliate of the C. I. O. Through Felix Siren of the general council of river workers, which represents the I. B. U., it has appealed to United States At-

TEAR GAS BOMBS HURT 15 AFTER SENTENCING OF 2 IRISH EXTREMISTS

LONDON, May 3.—(AP)—Tear gas bombs believed by police to have been planted by Irish republican army agitators exploded tonight in two crowded movie theaters in Liverpool. Fifteen persons were taken to hospitals. The bombings were regarded as reprisals for the sentences imposed on two Irish republican army members in London today for attempting to blow up the Hammersmith bridge on March 29.

As he was taken away to prison after his ten year sentence was pronounced, William Browne cried: "At the end of my sentence—whether it is ten, twenty, or forty years—I'll try the same thing again."

John Connell, who was sentenced to twenty years imprisonment, told the Central Criminal court judge: "The fight will continue until the British government has withdrawn its forces from Ireland."

HORSE AND BUGGY PROBLEM SOLVED WITHOUT A NEIGH

The city council yesterday washed its hands of Chicago's horse trough dilemma and turned the matter over to the park board. It began back in 1894 when David Wallach died, leaving the city $5,000 with which to build a combination drinking fountain and horse trough on the lake front.

But automobiles had begun to replace horses before the money was used. Meanwhile the heirs sued to collect $9,000 interest accrued on the bequest.

Under the terms of yesterday's settlement every one was satisfied. The heirs will get their interest. And park officials have promised to build a handsome horse trough in Burnham park near 55th street—at the side of a bridle path.

Chicago Says Skoal to Norse Royalty Today

Chicago will be host today to Crown Prince Olav of Norway and his princess, Martha, who will arrive at 7:50 a. m. for a three day visit.

The prince and princess will be the second royal couple to visit Chicago within a week. Crown Prince Frederik and Princess Ingrid of Denmark were here last week on their American tour as good will ambassadors.

A military guard of honor and special police will form barricades around the 12th street station, where Olav and Martha and their retinue of eighteen will be welcomed. They will be received by Sigurd Maseng, royal Norwegian consul of Chicago, Mrs. Maseng, and Arthur Anderson, heading a welcoming committee of Norwegian-American citizens.

Strenuous Program Planned.

After a ceremony at the station the crown prince and princess will go to the Blackstone hotel. Within an hour they will begin a strenuous program of visits and public appearances.

Prince Olav, son of King Haakon VII., is one of the most popular men in Norway. He is tall, handsome and blond. Although he was born in England of a British mother, the late Queen Maud, he has become the typical Norseman.

His brunette wife, Martha, is the daughter of Prince Paul of Sweden, and the cousin of Princess Ingrid of Denmark. She is 35, the age of her husband, and is the mother of two daughters and a son, Prince Harald.

Guests at Banquet Tomorrow.

Their first call today will be an official visit to Mayor Kelly at the city hall. Then will follow flying trips to hospitals, churches, old peoples' homes, and orphanages, as well as a tour of the city. Tomorrow evening they will be guests at a banquet in the Palmer House.

Norwegian-American women will present an eight pound silver jewel box to the princess. It was displayed yesterday by Miss Norma Bernts, daughter of former Consul Olaf B Bernts.

LITVINOV OUSTED; BRITISH ALLIANCE SCHEME PERILED

Nazis Offer Treaties of Nonaggression to 11 Nations.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 3.—Negotiations for bilateral nonaggression treaties between Germany and eleven of the thirty-one countries described by President Roosevelt as living in fear of German or Italian invasion were conducted by Reichsfuehrer Hitler's high pressure diplomats today.

Richard J. Sandler [Swedish foreign chief.]

If Hitler succeeds in concluding these agreements he plans to announce them in a speech at the end of May which, his confidants assert, will present a peace plan that will startle the world. He made such a promise to foreign statesmen visiting Berlin at the time of his 50th birthday on April 20. The present negotiations indicate Hitler is endeavoring to fulfill his promise or boast.

Neutrality in War Sought.

Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Estonia, Latvia and Greece received notes from Germany offering them nonaggression pacts, provided they guaranteed their neutrality should a war break out between the big powers. It is assumed that the four remaining countries with whom Germany is negotiating are the Netherlands, Belgium, Switzerland, and Luxembourg. Official circles declare that similar negotiations will be opened with other countries—presumably the smaller ones on Mr. Roosevelt's list—when the time permits.

[The American President in messages to Hitler and Premier Mussolini of Italy urged them to make ten or twenty-five year pledges of nonaggression to the thirty-one nations.]

Thus the Nazis hope to make it impossible for Mr. Roosevelt to repeat that small nations fear German or Italian aggression. At the same time the Nazis figure that the smaller nations will be only too grateful to be guaranteed so-called neutrality in case of a major war.

Diplomats See Pitfall.

Foreign diplomats in Berlin see a dangerous pitfall in this guaranteed neutrality. They argue that it is easy for a major power to claim that a smaller nation allowed its neutrality to be violated under some pretext or other. They declare that when a pact exists the strong nation may be tempted to take energetic action against any real or alleged violation of neutrality.

Hitler's government is looking forward with eagerness to the result of the conference in Stockholm next Tuesday when the Swedish, Norwegian, Finnish, and Danish foreign ministers will frame a joint reply to the German offer. Foreign Minister Richard J. Sandler of Sweden urged that the conference be held in Stockholm.

Rejection Predicted.

Nazis are perturbed by reports from Sweden that the general impression prevailed the Scandinavian nations would reject the German proposals. There were signs that Norway particularly looked with disfavor upon the invitation.

J. C. Hambro, president of the Norwegian legislature, said his government had made the wrong answer to Hitler's query on whether Norway considered herself menaced by Germany. Norway replied she did not regard herself endangered.

The answer should have been, Hambro told the house, that after what had occurred in Europe every one felt threatened by Germany.

"It is not desirable and not natural that we should bind ourselves by any security pacts to one or the other groups of powers," he added.

Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop will leave Berlin for Como, Italy, tomorrow to confer with Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano of Italy on European problems.

Mystery Surrounds Firing of Veteran Moscow Leader.

MOSCOW, May 3.—(AP)—The soviet government tonight disclosed that Maxim Litvinov, veteran representative of soviet Russia at Europe's council tables, had been supplanted as commissar for foreign affairs.

Vyacheslav Molotov, chairman of the council of people's commissars, was given the foreign affairs commissariat to add to his previous duties.

He already occupies a position equivalent to premier of the soviet union and is regarded popularly as Dictator Josef Stalin's right hand man. He is 49 years old.

An official radio broadcast said Litvinov had been released at his own request.

Viewed as Turning Point.

Litvinov's retirement, which came at a critical time in European affairs and during important negotiations for a British-French-Russian alliance against Germany and Italy, caused a sensation among foreign diplomats in Moscow. Envoys were reluctant to give a hasty opinion of what it portends, but they agreed a vital turn in Russian foreign policy appeared to have come. The soviet foreign office made no comment, however.

[A dispatch from Riga, Latvia, published in The Chicago Tribune on March 8, revealed that Litvinov was living in virtual retirement. It said he had been superseded by men commissioned to repair the damage that Litvinov's policy had inflicted on soviet prestige. Specifically, the dismissed foreign commissar was charged with isolating Moscow from the rest of Europe.]

European Powers Shocked.

Reports from other European capitals indicated that the soviet move had been a great shock to the powers, causing them to cast about hurriedly for an explanation. Apprehension was expressed that the Russian action would wreck the French-British plans. Some political sources saw Litvinov's displacement as the result of divergences of views between him and other soviet leaders on the question of European security.

[London reports last week said soviet Russia, in response to British efforts to get a soviet security pledge to Poland and Rumania, had made a counterproposal for a broad collective security pact with France and Britain. The independence of the Netherlands, Belgium, Switzerland, the Baltic nations, and other small powers would have been guaranteed by such an agreement. The British cabinet was reported to have turned down the proposal today.]

Snubbed by Diplomats.

Litvinov, who is 62 years old, at first was assistant commissar of foreign affairs, then acting commissar, and finally in 1930 was made commissar. He was one of the most prominent figures at Geneva during the recent and most difficult years of the league of nations.

For many years Litvinov's contact with European diplomats was a long series of snubs. Eventually, however, he won recognition as one of the outstanding figures in international relations.

In London in 1918 he entered the Russian diplomatic service abruptly by producing a cable from Leon Trotzky announcing his appointment as ambassador of the Russian people. When Bruce Lockhart, British diplomatic agent, was arrested in Moscow after the revolution, Litvinov was held in London as a hostage and later deported.

On his return to Moscow, Litvinov specialized in western European affairs.

Signs Pact with Germans.

When his career in the foreign commissariat began in 1921 it was difficult to obtain even diplomatic recognition of Russia in the world's capitals. In 1922, however, he made major European powers take notice when, at Rapallo, Italy, he concluded an agreement with Germany—which then was second in international unpopularity only to Russia.

He was at first an outspoken critic of the league of nations, but led Russia into the league in 1934 and thereafter used the league as a lever to work for his policy of collective resistance against aggressors. He was particularly active during the league's attempt in 1935 to deal with Premier Mussolini's conquest of Ethiopia, and also with Reichsfuehrer Hitler's remilitarization of the Rhineland.

His efforts to bring the western democratic powers into a collective front to resist Fascist aggression suffered a severe setback last September Then Prime Minister Chamberlain of Britain, Premier Daladier of France, Hitler and Mussolini met at Munich and settled the fate of Czecho-Slovakia without soviet Russian participation.

Saw Roosevelt in 1933.

Litvinov went to Washington, D. C., on Nov. 7, 1933, and conferred with President Roosevelt ten days before the United States recognized soviet Russia.

The veteran diplomat's last public appearance as foreign affairs chieftain was made Monday. On that day he appeared with other leaders on top of Lenin's tomb to review a giant May day demonstration.

Litvinov, who is of Jewish extraction, married a British woman, Ivy Low, daughter of Sir Sydney Low, while he was living in London. They have two children.

FRANCE TO FLOAT $160,000,000 LOAN FOR WAR NEEDS

PARIS, May 3.—(AP)—The French finance ministry announced tonight that it would float a loan of 6,000,000,000 francs [about $160,000,000] on May 15. Sources close to the government said most of the money would be diverted to France's expanding war industries.

The 6,000,000,000 franc issue will run for 40 years and bear 5 per cent interest. It will be offered at a 2 per cent premium so that the buyer will pay only 98 francs for a 100 franc bond.

The government also extended indefinitly a ban on Japanese importations first approved by the commerce ministry July 1, 1938. It prohibits all importations from Japan except raw silk and raw camphor and articles approved by French consular officials in Japan. Commercial sources said the action was taken because the drain on finances for the Chinese war reduced Japanese purchases from France far below terms agreed on in a 1938 trade treaty.

BRITISH PREMIER SAD; DICTATORS STOP HIS READING

LONDON, May 3.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain complained tonight that the speech-making of the dictators interfered with his favorite pastime—the reading of romantic literature. Disclosing his romantic side at the 149th anniversary dinner of the Royal Literary fund, Chamberlain said:

"One of the things about which I have to pick a bone with the dictators is that they leave me so little time for reading. For days together they have been making speeches. Often I cannot read for twenty minutes without a visitor coming in and saying. 'He has done it again.'"

DUTCH MINISTER SEEKS POWER TO MUZZLE PRESS

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, May 3.—Power to suppress newspapers and other periodicals is demanded in a bill that Minister of Justice Carel Goseling introduced today. It is directed against newspapers guilty of repeated offenses against the security of the state, public order and the authorities, according to the preamble.

The new press bill is criticised on the ground that recent press offenses have been insufficient to justify a measure that could easily be used to curb freedom of the press.

LITVINOV OUSTER CALLED BLOW TO FOES OF GERMANY

Paris Sees Bad Omen in Moscow Action.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 3.—French diplomatic circles received a shock tonight when it was announced that in the midst of British and French attempts to get soviet Russia into a military alliance Maxim Litvinov had been replaced by Vyacheslav Molotov as the soviet union's commissar for foreign affairs.

The change came at the worst possible moment from the point of view of Paris and London. It came at a moment when talks between the three powers—designed to reach a pact perfecting the system of defense alliances which the British have been setting up in eastern Europe—were supposed to have struck a temporary snag over the form and extent of soviet aid and the compensations to be granted Moscow for joining the security system.

Seen as a Bad Sign.

Worse still, it came just when the democracies were anxious to present the appearance of making quick headway with a defense against the Nazis. This is necessary in order to give the maximum amount of moral support to Josef Beck, the Polish foreign minister, who will reply to Adolf Hitler's demands regarding the Free City of Danzig and the Polish corridor Friday.

The mysterious disappearance of Litvinov from the foreign office was almost unanimously interpreted as an unfavorable omen for the western democracies.

The first conjecture was that Dictator Josef Stalin was angry at the delay in the completion of a pact with Britain and France.

British Resist Soviet Plea.

This viewpoint was not accepted, however, by radical observers, who are in contact with soviet circles here. According to them, Litvinov's negotiations with Paris and London were stalemated by the soviet demand that the guarantees the British already have given in eastern Europe be extended to the Baltic states and that the soviet union be given equivalent guarantees in the far east.

The reluctance of the British to to meet these requests, it was feared by these observers, has made Stalin reconsider the whole question of engaging Russia in the European mess.

LITVINOV'S FALL UPSETS BRITISH SECURITY TALKS

Successor May Ignore Scheduled Parley.

LONDON, May 3.—(AP)—The fate of British-French-soviet discussions on European security measures was obscured tonight by the sudden removal of soviet Commissar Maxim Litvinov as Britain offered to exchange nonaggression agreements with Germany.

Litvinov's removal created grave doubt that there would be any meeting of the foreign ministers of the three powers. Previously the three had been expected to meet in Geneva May 15 to find a common way of halting aggression.

Three Reported Agreed.

Litvinov was reported to have agreed with French Foreign Minister Bonnet and Viscount Halifax, Britain's foreign secretary, on the meeting. There was no indication tonight whether his successor, Vyacheslav Moltov, would attend.

The development in Moscow followed the British cabinet's rejection of soviet counter proposals advanced when Britain attempted to get a soviet guarantee of Poland and Rumania, similar to the British-French pledges. The Russians countered with suggestions for a broad collective security agreement. The first impression in London diplomatic circles was that Litvinov's removal might be disastrous to efforts for bringing Russia into the French-British alliance.

Offers Nonaggression Pact.

It followed close behind Prime Minister Chamberlain's offer to exchange nonaggression assurances with Germany.

Chamberlain, replying to a question in the house of commons, expressed British willingness to deal with Germany in these words:

"In recent statements I have made it clear that there is no foundation whatsoever for the charge that the British government has adopted a policy of encircling Germany.

"What President Roosevelt proposed [in messages to Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Premier Mussolini] and what I understand Herr Hitler to offer is an exchange of assurances of nonaggression rather than a guarantee on a reciprocal basis such as recently was given to Poland.

"The British government is certainly ready to consider proposals for an exchange of reciprocal assurances with the German government."

FATALLY STABBED IN QUARREL.

Ira Davis, 30 years old, colored, 331 East Fifty-fifth street, a WPA laborer, was stabbed to death yesterday in his room during a quarrel with another colored man

Hungary Votes Law to Take Jobs Away from 300,000 Jews

BUDAPEST, Hungary, May 3.—(AP)—Drastic anti-Jewish laws which may deprive an estimated 300,000 Jews of their means of livelihood and compel them to seek new homes abroad within five years were adopted by the Hungarian parliament today without dissent.

The measures limit Jewish participation in business and the professions roughly to 6 to 12 per cent of the total number of persons engaged in the various callings. They also line up Hungary with her friends, Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy, in anti-Jewish legislation.

Passed as Leaders Return.

The laws were adopted only a few hours after the return of the premier, Count Paul Teleky, and his foreign minister, Count Stephen Csaky, from talks with Chancellor Hitler and other Nazi officials in Berlin. The measures will be operative as soon as the premier and Regent Admiral Nicholas Horthy sign them.

Shortly after the parliamentary action, Dr. Dezso Kenedy, one of Budapest's most prominent Jewish physisians, killed himself. He had emigrated with his family to Argentina, but had returned here because of the climate.

Passage of the bill had been apprehensively awaited for some time by most of Hungary's estimated 750,000 Jews. The nation's total population is about 10,030,500. For a five year period the law stipulates that Jews will be dismissed from professions and business in groups of every three months.

Forbidden Government Service.

The usual percentage of Jewish participation in business and industries was limited to 12 per cent. For most professions the proportion was six per cent. No Jew is to be allowed in public or government service. Jews may hold no leading position in journalism, theaters, or the cinema. The state may appropriate, with compensation, farm land in excess of a half acre owned by Jews.

Jews may vote only for a list of Jewish candidates. Jewish members of parliament may not exceed more than six per cent of the whole membership.

Exempt are Jews whose forebears have been Hungarians since 1848 and who professed Christianity in 1919 or before, and Jewish war veterans. About 300 Jewish newspapermen were informed they must quit their jobs on Hungarian newspapers before Jan. 1, 1940.

WOMAN SPY SHOT BY RUSSIA; DUPED A MILITARY MAN

MOSCOW, May 3.—(AP)—Execution of a woman spy who wheedled official secrets out of her victim by pretending she felt neglected, was reported today by the Leningrad newspaper Pravda.

Identified only as a certain woman, she was said to have worried Military Man Z into blurting out secret information in order to convince her that it was really important work which kept him away from her occasionally.

She wrote the details down later and sent them to the agent of a foreign espionage service, the paper said. The two were arrested. She was condemned to death and shot. Her dupe pleaded guilty to criminal carelessness and was sentenced to long term imprisonment.

ITALY DELIVERS FAST DESTROYER FOR REDS' FLEET

MOSCOW, May 3.—(AP)—Soviet Russia's new Italian-built 2,895-ton destroyer, Tashkend, was delivered formally at Odessa today. Guido Relli, attaché of the Italian embassy in Moscow, represented Premier Mussolini's government in the transfer. The destroyer is said to be capable of a speed of 42 knots.

At the same time the Black sea fleet completed spring maneuvers which Commander-in-Chief F. S. Ochiabrsky said proved unquestionably its high military preparedness.

ZEAL FOR SOVIET SPREAD BLAMED IN LITVINOV FALL

BERLIN, May 4.—[Thursday.]—(AP)—German newspapers today attributed the retirement of soviet Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov to the failure of his policies.

Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung said Litvinov, in expanding soviet relations with other nations, also sought to gain a foothold in these countries to fulfill his real bolshevistic mission. His instrument, the paper said, was the people's front.

"With the development of this idea began Litvinov's downfall and an almost unbroken series of failures for soviet foreign policy, so that the question always kept appearing of how long Litvinov would be able to maintain himself in the face of them."

Boersen Zeitung said Litvinov for a long time was in disgrace in the highest circles and only current diplomatic negotiations, the threads of which he held in his hands, had saved him previously.

POLES CRY 'DOWN WITH HITLER' AT MILITARY PARADE

Warsaw Seeks British Help in War of Words.

WARSAW, Poland, May 3.—(AP)—The Polish government sought British support tonight in the battle of words with Nazis over control of the Free City of Danzig and Pomorze [Polish corridor], Poland's commercial lifeline to the Baltic.

Foreign Minister Col. Joseph Beck, his speech completed for Friday's session of the Sejm [parliament], conferred with the British ambassador, Sir Howard William Kennard, on the contents of this new reply to German demands.

Semi-official sources said that Beck's address was not expected to close the door on the possibility of further German-Polish negotiations, but that its tone would be very firm.

"Down with Hitler."

To Adolf Hitler's demands for Danzig and a 15.5 mile wide artery across the Polish corridor to East Prussia, Warsaw crowds responded today with cries of "Hurrah for Polish Danzig!" "Down with Hitler!" and "East Prussia must be Polish!"

The anti-Nazi shouts rang out from throngs watching an eight mile parade of Polish troops celebrating the 148th anniversary of Poland's first constitution.

[Poland's first constitution followed the revolution of May 3, 1791, after the first partition of the country in 1772 by Russia, Prussia, and Austria. The constitution converted Poland into an hereditary limited monarchy with a form of parliamentary government, curtailed privileges of the gentry and brought mitigation of serfdom and religious toleration. New Russian and Prussian invasions followed and the constitution was abolished as a dangerous novelty.]

Newspapers called editorially for cession of East Prussia to Poland as a real solution of the Polish-German problem.

Poles Count on British Aid.

Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski, a former premier, wrote in the newspaper Kurjer Warszawski that he was sure Great Britain and France would uphold their guarantees of Polish territorial integrity.

"Should war break out, the Poles would prove experienced and resourceful allies of Britain and France," he said.

Beck's speech, a reply to Hitler's denunciation last Friday of the 1934 Polish-German nonaggression treaty and an analysis of German demands for Danzig and the German trans-corridor road, was expected to start Friday between 11:15 and 11:30 a. m. [5:15 and 5:30 a. m. Chicago daylight time]. It will be broadcast on both long and short waves. It will last about forty minutes.

The Warsaw radio station planned to broadcast English, French, and German translations. The original speech in Polish is to be sent over several American chains.

SHOOTING IS HELD SUICIDE.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide yesterday in the death of Albert Bruhn, 25 years old, of Omaha, Neb., a former sailor. He was found shot in an automobile parked behind 4414 Broadway early Tuesday.

Miss Carroll, winner from among 100 customers and salesgirls of the business district's stores, was given a complete summer wardrobe. Samuel R. Balis is president of the business association. A. D. Paker is executive secretary.

BRITISH LAUNCH 2D BATTLESHIP OF 35,000 TONS

BIRKENHEAD, England, May 3.—(AP)—Forty thousand persons cheered as the second 35,000 ton battleship built under Britain's new rearmament program was launched here today. It was christened the Prince of Wales by the princess royal, sister of King George VI.

The Prince of Wales is a sister ship to the King George V., which the king himself launched at Newcastle Feb. 21. Three others of this class are under construction. Four more battleships, expected to be of 40,000 tons or more, are authorized or planned by the navy. The main armament of the Prince of Wales will be ten 14 inch guns, with a secondary armament of sixteen 5.25 inch guns.

GERMANY EXPELS 6 ENGLISHMEN IN WAR OF REPRISAL

Writer for London Paper Among Victims.

BERLIN, May 3.—(AP)—Hugh Carleton Greene, chief Berlin correspondent for the London Daily Telegraph, and five other British subjects in Germany have been ordered to leave the country on May 24. British sources said the expulsion orders were reprisals for the ousting of Germans from England.

[Britain was reported Tuesday to be preparing to expel more than fifty German Nazis from England. It was understood they were accused of trying to spread Nazi propaganda.]

Greene is the twenty-second foreign correspondent to be expelled since the Nazis came to power in 1933. He said it was explained to him that his expulsion did not indicate criticism of his work or of the editorial policy of his newspaper, but that it was a pure reprisal—a direct answer to the expulsion from England of the London correspondent of the national Zeitung of Essen.

Belgium Ousts Nazi Writer.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, May 3.—(AP)—The Belgian government today expelled a German newspaperman, Fred Otto Ehlert, vice president of the Foreign Press association. The expulsion followed an inquiry by a Socialist deputy concerning an incident at Winterslag April 30.

At a meeting of 300 Austrians and Sudeten Germans working in Belgium, the Socialist newspaper Le Peuple reported, a police officer asked to see the identity papers of persons wearing Sudeten German Nazi uniforms. He was told by a man who represented himself as a German consul that in three days' time he [the officer] would not have the right to ask for identity papers.

Ehlert was accused by Socialists of causing the incident, although he was not named in the newspaper's account as being the consul.

Ehlert denied the newspaper version. He said: "I pointed out that they were not uniforms but Tyrol dresses and warned that I would complain to the German consul.

GERMAN TROOP ARRIVAL STIRS ITALIANS' ANGER

Demonstrations Against Nazis Reported.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 3.—The presence in Italy of German troops has aroused open opposition in some discontented Italian quarters, it was reported by reliable sources in Paris today. The number of Nazi soldiers in the peninsula has been placed at 100,000 by some observers. They have been stationed in important industrial centers and strategic bases, especially in the Trento and the Venice regions.

The quartering of German troops in Italy is a part of the Rome-Berlin axis plan for complete collaboration between the two countries' armed forces.

According to several reports, a crowd at Monza, near Milan, a few days ago staged an open demonstration against a group of swastika decorated German soldiers who provoked the townsfolk by shouting, "Heil Hitler" in the town square. Clashes between Italian and German officers also were said to have occurred.

Protest by Women.

An outbreak similar to that at Monza was said to have occurred a few days ago at Udine, when women of the town demonstrated against calling up a battalion of reservists. The women, it was reported, were joined by a number of reservists, who staged a demonstration near a camp for German soldiers outside Udine.

According to another report, which lacks confirmation, several persons were killed and wounded at Milan when Fascist flying squads were called out to suppress a demonstration against the arrival in Italy of Nazi soldiers.

An auto road running from Brescia to Milan, which was used by German troops after they had entered Italy through Brenner pass, has been under military guard during the last week.

These accounts of unrest in Italy are being given careful attention by French observers as the result of further reliable reports that Italy is about to be subjected to another capital levy to support the armaments burden.

Take Up Challenge.

Taking up the challenge of the democratic powers' huge rearmament schemes, the Italian cabinet decided last Saturday to boost military credits by 7 billion lire—about $1,300,000,000 at the current rate of exchange. This brings the total Italian debt for national defense alone to 22 billion lire—about $4,188,000,000.

To the question of where Italy was going to find the needed sum which represents the current costs of Premier Mussolini's political adventure with Reichsfuehrer Hitler, the answer is that it cannot be drawn from normal fiscal intake.

The only alternative, according to the best information available here, is another levy on private capital. This is expected to be decreed in the near future.

The alleged unwillingness of the Italians to foot this armaments bill has been increased by knowledge of the huge programs on which Paris and London have embarked. These programs were published in the Italian press to prove the bellicose intentions of the democracies. They have had the effect of convincing many Italians that a poor country like theirs cannot hope to compete with the immense resources of the democracies and is courting disaster in the attempt.

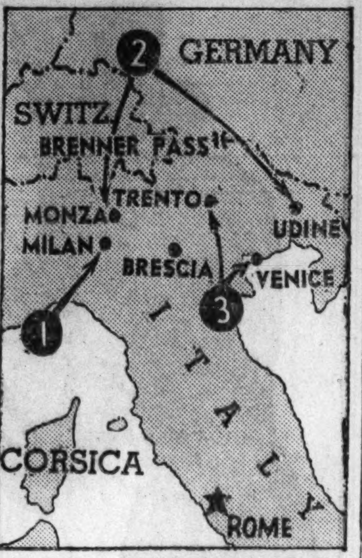
Must Cut Down on Coffee.

ROME, May 3.—(AP)—Italians were notified by the Fascist press today that they must give up a large measure of their coffee drinking for reasons of national policy. Purchases of arms materials abroad may require the use of part of Italy's gold reserve and, it was explained, most coffee exporting countries have refused to enter into barter arrangements.

Negotiations for a barter arrangement with Brazil, which supplies most of the coffee used in Italy, apparently have broken down. Coffee has been scarce in Italy for months and recently it has been practically unobtainable in stores.

Trouble in Italy

(Story in adjoining column.)



Paris heard yesterday that Italian anger had been stirred by the arrival in Italian towns of German troops. The reports were: 1. That several persons were killed and wounded by Fascist flying squadrons in suppressing a demonstration against Nazi troops. 2. That crowds staged open demonstrations against Nazi troops at Monza and Udine. 3. That some of the Nazi soldiers in Italy, said to total 100,000, have been stationed in the vicinity of Trento and Venice.

Policewoman Impersonator Gets Year for Shoplifting

Miss Muriel Kyle, alias Byers, who has frequently been arrested for impersonating a policewoman or a newspaper reporter, was sentenced to a year in the women's reformatory at Dwight yesterday for stealing a blouse from a department store. The sentence was imposed by Judge Oscar S. Caplan in Women's court.

FRENCH MISSION VISITING U. S. TO BUY MUNITIONS

Calls at War Department to Reveal Presence.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 3.—[Special.]—The war department this afternoon announced that a high French army mission is making an official visit to the United States for the purpose of purchasing munitions.

The announcement recalled the furor over America's foreign policy which was fired by the visit of a French aviation mission. It was learned that the French were being sold planes designed for the American army when a member of the French military mission was injured in the crash of an ultramodern fighting plane.

At first administration spokesmen denied that its officials were expediting the sale of America's best planes to France.

Roosevelt Acknowledges Aid.

Later President Roosevelt himself acknowledged he had personally facilitated the sale of planes to France because larger French orders would eventually mean better planes for the army air corps in that orders would keep factories busy.

At the height of the celebrated controversy the President held a meeting with the senate and house military affairs committees to explain the plane deal and his foreign policy. It was reported that at the conference he put America's first line of defense at the Rhine. This was vigorously denied by administration spokesmen, although the President held his silence.

Brief Announcement Made.

In a brief announcement the war department said the munitions buying mission called upon Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson late yesterday afternoon to inform him of its presence in this country.

The group included Maj. Gen. Andre Gavard, inspector general of ordnance of the French army, and Maj. Salmon, a metallurgical expert of the French technical staff, accompanied by the French military attaché, Lieut. Col. Emanuel Lombard.

"It is understood that they are here with a view to the possible purchase of munitions," the war department said.

Demands U. S. Keep Hands Off Medical Profession

Rockford, Ill., May 3.—[Special.]—Dr. Samuel Munson of Springfield, making the president's address at the Illinois State Medical society convention here today, demanded that the government keep its hands off the medical profession. Without government interference, he said, scientific medicine will go forward with continued intensive organization to fulfill its destiny to the American people.

CROATS NERVOUS; EXPECT TROUBLE OVER AUTONOMY

Serb Delay in Signing Pact Stirs Capital.

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ZAGREB, Jugo-Slavia, May 3.—With rifles slung over their shoulders police today impressed on the population of this Croatian capital that they are ready for trouble. Nervousness prevails here as the Belgrade government keeps delaying its decision on the agreement for Croatian autonomy signed last week by Dr. Vladko Matchek, Croatian leader, and Premier Dragisha Tsvetkovitch.

Objection of the Jugo-Slav general staff and of Regent Prince Paul to some terms of the agreement, especially a provision which would allow only Croat soldiers to be garrisoned in Croat territory, is believed the reason for the delay.

The nervousness is caused by the determined attitude of the young radical Croatian autonomists. They already have given notice that they will not yield an inch on the terms of the Matchek-Tsvetkovitch agreement, which they regard as embodying their minimum demands.

Prepared for Refusal.

Furthermore, they are prepared for Serbian rejection of the agreement, which would mean formation in Belgrade of a new cabinet pledged to settle the Croat problem by force.

The young Croats are ready to oppose force with force. Their defense organization is the so-called Farmers' Protective association, to which belong about 30,000 determined young patriots all over Croat territory. To keep within the law it poses as a farmers' league, but in reality it is a nationalist organization similar to the Hlinka guard which carried on the struggle that led to the separation of Slovakia from the Czecho-Slovakian government at Prague.

A sensation was created here by an article signed by Dr. Milan Fantov, one of Dr. Matchek's lieutenants. Fantov wrote a glowing account of the happiness of the million Croats living in the United States who, he said, enjoy full cultural freedom, while Croats in their own land are continually oppressed and under the domination of foreign dynasties.

Hint Independence Move.

The last words are regarded as especially significant. This is the first time any Croat has publicly insinuated that he regards the Karageorgevitch dynasty enthroned at Belgrade as foreign.

[The founder of the dynasty was Kara-George [Black George] Petrovitch, who in 1804 raised the first Serbian revolt against Turkish rule.]

Observers are wondering, considering Fantov's responsible position in the party, if these words indicate that the Croats are contemplating nothing less than complete independence from Belgrade.

In circles close to Dr. Matchek the tone continues to be optimistic. These Croat leaders profess to believe that they will soon get an answer from Belgrade saying that the regent, Prince Paul, and the general staff have accepted the Matchek-Tsvetkovitch agreement.

GERMANS OFFER $80,000,000 CREDIT TO JUGO-SLAVIA

BELGRADE, May 3.—(AP)—An offer of a 200,000,000 mark [about $80,000,000] merchandise credit from Germany to Jugo-Slavia was being considered today by economic experts preparing for German-Jugo-Slav trade discussions.

Government quarters said that Germany had offered the credit with the suggestion that it be used over a ten year period, largely for purchase of war materials. It was reported that payments to Germany were to be made in agricultural products and raw materials. Interest at 6 per cent would be paid during the life of the agreement.

Jugo-Slavia previously had refused a similar offer because financial advisers regarded the interest and carrying charges excessive.

[In Berlin it was reported that Germany is now exchanging military materials for Jugo-Slav farm products and is also selling arms to many other countries, including Greece.]

If You See a Tree Skating, Don't Swear Off, It's Real

If you think you see a tree on roller skates today you may be right. A giant elm 2½ feet in diameter will be moved by park engineers to make way for a new section of the Outer drive near North avenue. The tree is so big that a floor will be built under its roots and rollers will be attached.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

BALLOT LINEUP IS ANNOUNCED FOR JUDICIAL VOTE

Eight Sitting Republicans on Democratic List.

The Tribune tomorrow will publish the first of a series of sketches of judges of the Circuit court of Cook county who are candidates for reëlection on June 5.

The ballot lineup of the candidates in the Cook county judicial election on June 5 was established yesterday when Secretary of State Hughes completed certification of nominations to local election officials.

In group elections such as the election of twenty judges of the Circuit court this year the individual candidates whose names appear opposite each other are not merely in a two man race. The highest twenty, regardless of their ticket positions, are elected.

Unusual Secrecy About Lineup.

This year also there has been unusual secrecy about the order in which the names on the two tickets were arranged by the two party conventions. Each wanted the advantage of placement in the way that would give the best return on racial, sectional, and other differences.

This interest was not aroused by the other six places on the ballot—the one full term and the five vacancies or short terms in the Superior court.

The complete ballot order, with the initial R indicating the Republican judges on the Democratic ticket, and asterisks denoting the sitting judges, follows:

When County Clerk Flynn, in his turn, took the certificate of Secretary of State Hughes and certified its contents to the Chicago election board the last official step had been taken to set the stage for what political observers believe may be a highly interesting election, unusual because they say the issue of coalition versus separate tickets has been raised more acutely than ever before.

What Happened at Conventions.

The unusual character of the campaign was created by what occurred in connection with the two party nominating conventions as well as what occurred on the floor at those meetings. Probably only a matter of a few hours prevented a complete coalition agreement that would have left only one ticket on the ballot.

Coalition in some form has been practiced in every Circuit court election since 1921. There had been a general assumption that it would develop this year. The eight Republican judges whose terms expire favored it and to some degree took it for granted. They agreed to go on the Democratic ticket, and did not reply to efforts to ascertain whether they would run under their own party label if the organization determined to put a full Republican ticket into the field.

A majority of the Republican judicial convention, which consists of the members of the county central committee, casting voting strength based on the party vote in their wards or townships, favored coalition. Chairman Edward F. Moore, Secretary Robert C. Rohn, and a few others opposed it. There were three sessions. At the first the action pointed toward a separate Republican ticket. At the second there was decisive action for coalition. And the Democrats were proceeding in the belief that there would be coalition.

Break at Third Session.

The break came during the third Republican session. After hours of unsuccessful effort to persuade Chairman P. A. Nash of the Democratic organization to drop Judge Michael Feinberg, a Republican, from the proposed fusion slate the Republican procoalition structure went to pieces when without warning the Democrats made their nominations, including on their slate all the Republican judges, among them Judge Feinberg.

It is now said that if the Democrats had not grown impatient, had not nominated and adjourned, the coalition agreement might still have been worked out. But under the circumstances that confronted them the procoalition Republicans joined with the advocates of separate party action and nominated a complete ticket. This ticket included none of the sitting Republican judges, because of their treatment of earlier overtures and because they had accepted nomination from the Democrats.

The Democratic leaders have decided to base their campaign on organization work. The Republicans' hopes are based on publicity and the sentiment they believe it will arouse.

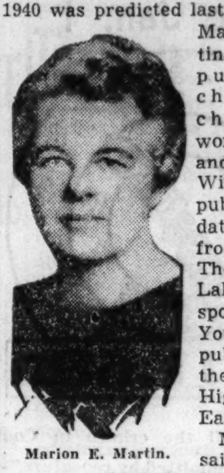
Veterinarian Seeks New Trial in Death of His Wife

Morrison, Ill., May 3.—[Special.]—Attorneys for Dr. Lyle Dingman, Prophetstown veterinarian, who last week was found guilty of manslaughter in the death of his wife, Laura, filed a motion for a new trial today. They contended that improper evidence offered by the state was admitted into the case and that proper evidence offered by the defense was refused.

G. O. P. LEADERS PREDICT VICTORY, WAR OR NO WAR



Marion E. Martin.

Victory for the Republican party in 1940 was predicted last night by Miss Marion E. Martin, national Republican vice chairman in charge of the women's division, and Raymond E. Willis, former Republican candidate for senator from Indiana. They spoke at a Lake county rally sponsored by the Young Men's Republican club at the Roosevelt High school in East Chicago.

Miss Martin said nothing but a war could halt the party. Willis said a war would be no obstacle. Republican mayors of a number of cities sat on the speaker's platform with Dr. David R. Johns, 1st district chairman, and Frank Schutts, county chairman.

Franco's German Aviators to Begin Returning Home

BURGOS, Spain, May 3.—(AP)—German aviators who fought for Gen. Francisco Franco in the Spanish civil war are expected to begin going home soon. Meeting Your Husband for Dinner in Town ?

Not a scientist but a native poet discerned an uncharted period of the day when he penned the lines — "Between the dusk and the daylight, When the night is beginning to lower, Comes a pause in the day's occupation. . . ." That pause interprets itself when "you're meeting him for dinner in town." It's the time between office closing and when dinner-theatre begins.

Somewhere in your early evening program, there is this time when, together, you can conveniently stop in at Boynton's at the Wabash Avenue entrance to the Palmer House. Since Boynton's is open until eight each evening—your altruistic suggestion to do so will find high favor, for men love to shop for themselves.

He'll look at shirts priced for as little as $2, he'll finger ties in the vast $1 stocks, try on a hat or two and look to you for tacit approval.

This "pause in a day's occupation," your interest in his appearance and his wardrobe deficiencies, will warm him to a congenial mood for the evening. He'll be well satisfied, for at Boynton's there are new men's furnishings of fine quality at nationally established prices.

THUG THREATENS JUDGE; FACES 30 YEARS IN PRISON

Three Juvenile Burglars Get Year to Life.

Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley of the Criminal court yesterday sentenced a vicious young thief to three concurrent prison terms of one year to life, then ordered them to run consecutively when the young hoodlum cursed and threatened his life.

Three other young toughs, the oldest 17, encountered the same brand of swift and efficient justice from the veteran Criminal court judge. They were convicted as house burglars. The judge refused to consider their age as a mitigating circumstance. Each was sentenced to prison for one year to life.

Robs Four Within Hour.

Paul Kelly, 20, was the young robber whose outburst increased the years he must spend in prison. On April 20, Kelly stole an automobile at 8:30 p. m. Within the next hour, near 72d and Aberdeen streets, he robbed two women and two men before he was caught.

Judge McKinley recalled that on Dec. 13 Kelly had been sentenced to ninety days in the Bridewell for tampering with a car. This short stay behind bars, he commented, was apparently devoted to a post graduate course in crime.

"That's right," drawled Kelly, as he slouched before the judge. "I hung around the older guys. They taught me how to cross ignition wires in order to start up an automobile without keys. And they told me a lot about how to rob."

Bailiff Tells Judge of Threats.

Judge McKinley then passed sentence. Later he was informed by a bailiff, that while being taken back to the county jail, Kelly cursed the judge, boasting:

"I'd like to have that —— in an alley for two minutes. I'd show him something. When I get out he'll find out what's going to happen to him."

Judge McKinley at once ordered Kelly to be brought before him today when he will officially rule that the prison terms are to run consecutively. Thus Kelly will be kept in prison possibly for as much as thirty or more years.

The juveniles convicted are George Haas, 15; Louis Hellfritsch, 16, and Arthur Jackson, 17. The first two were sentenced to three concurrent terms, and Jackson to two terms. Later in the week Judge McKinley said he might consider a shorter term for Jackson, who abandoned his comrades after two burglaries when he discovered Haas was carrying a revolver.

Age Fails to Sway Him.

Haas and Hellfritsch have been implicated in eight burglaries in the south shore neighborhood. On March 18 Harry Turrell, 8211 Kimbark avenue, trapped them when he returned while they were looting his home. Turrell wrested a gun from Haas and used it to capture Hellfritsch.

When the age of the three was urged as a reason for a light sentence, Judge McKinley said:

"Where serious crimes like this are committed, age means nothing. The law calls for a sentence of one year to life. The law must be enforced."

THE CRIME CLOCK

Chicago's Record Since Jan. 1

Brickbats His Calling Card, but Court Grants Probation

Thomas McMahon, 2318 Orchard street, made no denial when accused in South State street court yesterday of throwing bricks through the office door of the Elevators Operators' and Starters' union at 202 South State street. He had wrapped them in paper on which he had written his name and address. Judge Francis Borrelli placed him on probation after McMahon explained that he had been ousted from the union and that he hoped by his brick throwing to force the union to take him back.

YOUTHFUL PAIR HELD AS FILLING STATION BANDITS

Roy Graff [top] and Bruno Skirmont.

Bruno Skirmont, 20 years old, a graduate of the St. Charles School for Boys, and Roy Graff, 21, who has twice been in the Bridewell for automobile tampering, were held last night by New City police on charges of holding up a filling station at Archer and Kedzie avenues on April 1.

Police questioned the pair in an effort to connect them with two station robberies on the southeast side early yesterday. William Bombkins, 2425 Jackson boulevard, and John Manla, 4330 South Wood street, the station attendants, said the pair resembled the bandits who robbed them.

Graff gave his address as 4208 South Rockwell street and Skirmont 4640 South California avenue.

Youth Admits to Judge He Could Stand a Little Trial

Big Stone Gap, Va., May 3.—(AP)—Charged with distilling, a strapping mountain youth stood before Judge John Paul in United States District court and said he had neither lawyer nor witnesses. "Well, do you want to stand trial?" asked the judge. The accused shifted his feet in embarrassed silence. "I could stand a little trial," he blurted.

INDIANA WELFARE FUND EMBEZZLER GETS 2 TO 14 YEARS

Joseph Marsh was sentenced yesterday to 2 to 14 years in prison for stealing $3,500 from funds intended for dependent and crippled children, widows, and the aged and blind. March was principal clerk for the Lake county, Ind., welfare department at Gary until it was found that he was forging orders on the department's funds. He was discharged last January. He told Judge William J. Murray at Crown Point yesterday that he made claims in the names of persons who had once been receiving assistance and then obtained the checks and cashed them. Marsh, who is 38 years old, is married and the father of four children. His home is at 5016 Magun street, East Chicago.

Golf Champion RALPH GULDAHL takes delivery of the 15,000th Studebaker Champion!

SUCCESS!

$660 and up delivered at the factory

15,000 new Studebaker Champions bought in record time!

Matchless new restful riding comfort on all kinds of roads is assured by Studebaker's 5-year-tested self-stabilizing planar wheel suspension. It costs nothing extra. On rutty roads or smooth, you always ride restfully.

Delightful handling ease and safety put this Champion far in front. Steering wheel gear shift and dual-ratio steering are standard without extra charge. Tremendously strong steel body is reinforced by steel box girders.

Spurred by public demand, Studebaker dealers throughout the world have purchased 15,000 new Studebaker Champions in record time—and deliveries to motorists are being made with all possible dispatch everywhere.

STUDEBAKER Champion Number 15,000 goes to Golf Champion Ralph Guldahl!

And here's what this noted holder of the National Open and Masters' golf titles says about this remarkable new lowest price car:

"I've long been sold on Studebaker quality and performance. In fact, I already own a Studebaker President Eight. So naturally, when I wanted the tops in a lowest price car, I picked this new Studebaker Champion. It's got plenty of championship form and perfect follow-through."

Golf experts say Ralph Guldahl is headed for recognition as the world's greatest golfer. And automotive experts say, that in his Studebaker Champion, he unquestionably owns the world's greatest lowest price car.

Don't buy any new car until you first see for yourself why Champion Guldahl and thousands of other keen motor car buyers prefer this new Champion.

Its Raymond Loewy styling rates it first in smartness. 10% to 25% greater gas mileage puts it first in economy. Its lower center of gravity and stronger, sounder steel body top the field in safety.

And better still, this 6-cylinder Champion is a true blood team mate of Studebaker's Commander and President—built by the same 7,300 Studebaker master craftsmen.

At no extra cost, this Studebaker Champion gives you self-stabilizing planar independent wheel suspension, non-slam Hancock rotary door latches, steering wheel gear shifter. See it—drive it—today—a thrilling Champion! Low down payment—easy terms.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

TAVERN KILLERS SEIZED IN WILD CHASE IN DETROIT

Pair and Girl Confess Holdup Slaying.

LITTLE HOPE FOR VICTIMS

In Chicago Policemen Edwin McIntyre and Philip Kelly, shot by Riley and Watson in the holdup of a tavern at 4623 North Western avenue early yesterday, were believed to be near death last night in Ravenswood hospital. McIntyre was shot through the head and Kelly was struck in the abdomen, the wrist, and the chest. McIntyre was given the better chance of the two to survive, but there seemed little hope. Alex Ferguson, 57 years old, 2525 Leland avenue, an undertaker friend of the two policemen, was killed in the affray.

Twice yesterday Chicago police were close on the trail of the two bandits. Once they missed Riley by minutes when he went to a hotel at 739 Belmont avenue and checked out of his room. Again they arrived at a house at 2437 North Racine avenue soon after he had left a dog there with the janitor, Harry Hill.

Both Are Ex-Convicts.

Hill formerly was a convict in the Michigan prison and had served terms with Riley and his wounded companion, Watson.

The clews thr led to the hotel and to Hill were found in the flat at 908 Belle Plaine avenue, where the bullet was removed from Watson with a safety razor blade and without anesthetic by Dr. Hirschfeld, who lives at 833 Sheridan road. Ie is 69 years old.

The shooting occurred shortly before midnight. McIntyre and his wife, Kelly, Ferguson, and several other patrons were seated at the bar when the robbers entered. Both policemen were off duty and not in uniform. They began shooting almost as soon as the command to raise their hands was given.

Flee in Tan Sedan.

Ferguson was caught in the line of fire and one bullet ended his life. When the policemen fell Watson and Riley fled out a side door and drove away in a tan sedan. The car was found later near Broadway and Ardmore avenue. Presumably the bandits went at once to the Belle Plaine avenue flat.

Less than an hour later Riley went into the Lorenz drug store at 3964 Broadway and persuaded the night manager, William Schlau, to put in an emergency call for a physician. He said that a woman who had recently undergone an operation was in need of attention. Schlau called Dr. Hirschfeld, who protested that he did not wish to go. He consented when it was represented to him that the situation was desperate.

Operates with Razor Blade.

Riley went for him in the tan car used in the holdup. As they reached the third floor flat in which the wounded Watson lay Riley displayed a pistol. He ordered the immediate removal of the bullet. Dr. Hirschfeld said he had no instruments.

A razor blade was placed in his hands. The wounded Watson was placed on his stomach and the elderly physician went about the delicate operation. All the while Riley stood over him with the pistol.

"There is the bullet," said the doctor when he had finished. "But this man will probably die unless he gets immediate hospital treatment."

Watson asked weakly for the bullet. "I'll send it to the guy who shot me," he said.

Riley went out. The woman held the pistol meanwhile. When Riley returned he told the woman he had "found another joint." The pistol was given to the wounded man and he held it while the woman and his friend hastily packed up. On the way out Watson collapsed twice, but was urged on by the others and revived by douses of water in his face.

"Keep this from the police and you'll get $250," Riley told the doctor. "In any event, don't leave here for ten minutes. It's a break that we're not tying you up."

Dr. Hirschfeld, who had been in the flat nearly four hours, notified the police soon afterward.

A laundry check bearing Riley's name, found in the place, sent the police to the Lakeview hotel. There, in his room, the telephone number of Hill was discovered. Watson and his woman friend had been in the Lakeview from March 8 to April 4.

RAPIST GUILTY; FACES TRIAL AS A SLAYER NEXT

State Maps Attempt to Send Him to Chair.

Samuel Hryciuk.

Samuel Hryciuk, 19 years old, who is accused by the state of two murders, numerous attacks on women and other shocking sex crimes, was convicted of rape yesterday by a Criminal court jury. The state's attorney's office considered this the first step in its plan to send him to the electric chair or to prison for life.

The jury, after debating less than half an hour, returned a guilty verdict with a recommendation of life imprisonment, the maximum penalty Judge George Fred Rush said he would hear a motion for new trial May 12.

Charged with Murder.

On that date Hryciuk is scheduled for trial on the first murder charge. The victim was Mrs. Bertha De Meyer, 67, a recluse, who was beaten and strangled to death in her home at 1657 North Troy street in November, 1937.

Following his arrest on March 14, Hryciuk, who lived at 2621 Potomac avenue, signed confessions in which he admitted the two murders and the other crimes.

Later Hryciuk repudiated the confessions. Because the evidence in the murder cases consists solely of his admissions, Assistant State's Attorney Samuel Freedman explained that the state sought to obtain the rape conviction to strengthen its murder case.

Jury Hears Confession.

In the rape case Hryciuk testified the confession was obtained by police brutality. Judge Rush, however, allowed it to be read to the jury, after the woman complainant had identified Hryciuk and described the attack.

The witness, 45 years old, the widowed mother of a son 11 years old, is a teacher on a WPA school project. She was attacked the night of June 1 in Humboldt park.

The second slaying, which Hryciuk confessed, was that of Mrs. Caroline Schenke, 37, of 2856 North Harding avenue. She was beaten to death in October, 1937, in an alley near her home.

PROMISES GIRLS FILM FAME; LANDS IN WHEATON JAIL

"I'm a Hollywood talent scout. You're the girl I've been looking for everywhere—the perfect type for the movies."

Impressionable Wheaton girls have been walking on air since they learned that in strictest confidence from James Todd, 33 years old. But one of them, Miss Dorothy Steinhoff, 23 years old, became suspicious that she wasn't the only girl he'd told. She was right. Nor was that all. The talent scout admitted that he's from Chicago, instead of Hollywood, and that Hollywood doesn't even know he's out scouting for talent.

He was in jail serving a thirty day term yesterday because he had no money to pay the $100 fine imposed by Police Magistrate Frank Herrick on a disorderly conduct charge.

ALL LITTLES ARE BIG

By CALEB

LIFE teems with paradoxes. None, however, offers more startling food for thought than the bigness of the little. A germ is little. Except microscopically, it does not exist. A diamond is little—even an Orloff or Kohinoor bulks pigmy to the common pebble. A fragment of radium is little. A drop of hydrocyanic acid is little. Words, too, can be little—if or but or what. Yet each of these, in use or result, can prove staggeringly big: big as Destiny itself. And thereby hangs the paradox!

With that thought for preamble, perhaps the letter recently received from an unknown reader of these messages carries a moral deeper than meets the eye . . . "As an old wholesale drygoods and ready-to-wear salesman," he writes, "I can't help but admire the perpetuation of the policies of Marshall Field senior during all these years, not only in big things, but in little things.

"Fifty-five years ago, I had occasion to spend a day with an old gentleman in Prairie City, Ill., who had been a merchant and bought goods of Marshall Field when he was a traveling salesman. The outstanding small thing that impressed this old merchant was the position Mr. Field took on carpet warp. At that time, people made and used quantities of carpet warp, put up in five-pound bundles. The wholesale drygoods houses used hundreds of thousands of pounds. The packages were wrapped with heavy pasteboard and twenty strands of heavy string.

"The department managers insisted the package should weigh five pounds with the pasteboard and string, but Mr. Field held out he was selling carpet warp, not pasteboard and string, and they should give exactly five pounds of carpet warp. . . This," our friendly commentator concludes, "is probably one of the thousands of ideas of exactness that have kept Marshall Field's in their top position."

Expressions such as the above give us more than the momentary gratification of compliment. They come, when couched in the explicit terms of some reminiscence of the store's founder, as timely reminders that, in the complex and involved business of serving many thousands of customers, all littles are big. . . . That no detail is unimportant. The wrapping of a package, the tightening of a gadget, a figure in an entry, does its definite bit to make or mar a given transaction. "Ideas of exactness" can never be too strongly stressed as the media of lasting good will; and today, as long ago, we are "selling warp, not pasteboard and string."

STATE ECONOMY INQUIRY'S DEATH AROUSES G. O. P.

Action Branded Democrat Whitewash Plot.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 3.—[Special.]—Twelve hours after the economy committee was abolished last night under Democratic management the state senate voted appropriations totaling more than 10 million dollars, including both the Democratic and Republicans bills to increase old age pensions.

Meanwhile the house resounded with indignant speeches from Republican members of the late economy committee, who called dissolution of their body the result of a Democratic plot.

Clinton Searle of Rock Island, one of the G. O. P. members who spoke, termed Senator Clinton L. Ewing [R., Douglas], who moved for dissolution of the committee, a so-called Republican.

Searle, Sam O. Dale, Fairfield, and John A. Bingham told how the move to kill the inquiry body had come by surprise on the stroke of midnight. They called it a Democratic whitewash.

Report to Be Drafted.

The committee will have its last meeting today and will attempt to draft a report. The three house members named above, with Representatives F. W. Rennick [R., Buda] and David I. Swanson [R., Chicago] and Senator Earl B. Searcy [R., Springfield], chairman of the committee, are expected to present a minority report detailing the disclosures made by the committee.

Despite their setback last night the Republicans are by no means discouraged in their determination to reduce the budget. They will continue, leaders said today, to question appropriations in committee hearings and fight for cuts on the floor of both chambers if their attempts in committee are stifled.

Early in today's session the house majority leader, Robert J. Branson [R., Centralia], declared the G. O. P. would insist upon at least a 10 per cent slice in the cost of government. He and Senator Searcy have fought for reductions at every opportunity and both will continue.

Bills Speeded Through.

Most of the appropriations bills were whipped through the senate so fast today that an apology was made to civics class students in the galleries. Ten of them went through by unanimous consent of the senate to apply a previous roll call. This took five minutes.

"I see there are many students from civics classes in the galleries," said Senator Richard J. Barr [R., Joliet]. "I want to tell them that all of these bills received thorough consideration in committees."

But when the bill providing for an increase in maximum old age assistance payments of from $30 to $42 a month went through in the same breezy manner, without debate, one of the Democrats objected.

Force G. O. P. Bill to Vote.

When Republicans tried to get their old age pension bill passed by a vote taken on a previous measure there were cries of "no, no" from the Democratic majority. It provides for $30 a month minimum pension for all needy persons over 65 years old instead of the present $30 maximum based on individual circumstances, which results in monthly payments averaging $19. The bill was passed by a vote of 33 to 5.

Senator Harold G. Ward, Mayor Edward J. Kelly's floor leader, estimated that the Democratic plan would increase the present average payment from $19 to $21 a month. With about 120,000 pensioners on the rolls this would mean spending an additional $2,880,000 a year.

Senator Searcy estimated the G. O. P. proposal, which was included in last year's party platform, would require about 9 million dollars additional. Republican members already have shown where state pay rolls could be cut 11 millions, he said.

Another move to liberalize old age assistance was taken when the senate passed a bill exempting insurance policies with a face value of $1,000 or less from property consideration in making pension awards.

Appropriations Passed.

Following is a list of other spending bills passed by the senate:

Mining investigating commission .	$ 15,000
Department of mines	245,580
Widow of Judge H. Sterling Pomeroy	750
Pay officers and members next session of general assembly, state officers	4,915,600
Widow of State Senator Walter Walter L. Finn	3,500
Secretary of state [biennial]	674,160
State library	266,894
State capitol and power plant	925,480
Automobile department, secretary of state	2,035,580
Administration auto anti-theft act	885,736
Administer drivers' license law	503,960
Reimburse Fayette county for prosecuting persons escaped from prison farm	5,500
Illinois municipal code commission	12,500
*State Normal schools added expense	200,000
*Tazewell county school to replace structure destroyed by tornado	55,000
Total	$10,745,240

[*Previously passed by house.]

With the objection that its provisions were too broad the senate defeated a bill making it a criminal offense for WPA bosses to attempt to influence the votes of WPA workers. The vote, 21 to 16, was on party lines.

A house bill providing for a division of the state health department to educate the public regarding cancer received senate concurrence.

Saltis Recovers from His Dieting; Leaves Hospital

Joe Saltis, prohibition beer baron and one time gang feudist, was released last night from Holy Cross hospital, where he had been recuperating for several days from the effects of rigorous dieting, during the course of which he lost 85 pounds. Saltis' wife, Anna, the mother of his four children, is suing him for divorce, charging cruelty. Saltis is under a writ to restrain him from molesting her.

ELECTION BOARD FACES 2D DEFICIT; CITY PLANS QUIZ

Irate Council Acts to Cut Outlay for Balloting.

Aroused at the prospect of the second successive annual deficit in operation of the board of election commissioners, the city council yesterday prepared to launch an inquiry into the board's finances. Outbursts from the council floor followed announcement that the election commissioners expect to spend in 1939 approximately $300,000 more than they have available.

Aldermen protested that the election board should be forced to stay within its income and that Chicago should not be expected to burden its rescources with the expense of conducting elections of state and county officials.

Act to Reduce City Load.

The council voted unanimously to ask an opinion from Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes as to whether the board could legally spend more than its income. Hodes also will rule on whether the city can refuse to appropriate money for elections other than its own. A special subcommittee was appointed to take up the matter with the county board.

The election board operates through money appropriated by the city and county, with both governments sharing the cost of elections extending outside the city limits. But residents of Chicago pay taxes for the support of the county, the aldermen contend, and therefore the county should pay the entire cost of all elections except those for city officials.

Harry A. Lipsky, chairman of the election board, had told the finance committee earlier that the board's printing account is $142,000 in arrears because of recent legislation requiring new poll lists before each election. At least $140,000 more will have to be spent before the June 5 judicial election, he said.

"This squandering of public funds must be stopped," Ald. James B. Bowler [25th] asserted before the council. "The head of a city department would wind up in jail for the same thing that's being done here."

"It's all the fault of the permanent registration law," said Ald. James J. McDermott [14th].

Keenan Urges Investigation.

"The election commissioners should be investigated by the council," Ald. Frank Keenan [49th] shouted.

"The board would have a different attitude about money if it had its own tax levy," Ald. J. J. Grealis [44th] suggested.

It was recalled that the council had to provide extra funds this year to make up a $169,000 deficit for the election board in 1938. This year's appropriation from the city was $1,323,910.

HOUSE PUSHES BILLS TO BOOST CHICAGO RELIEF

Springfield, Ill., May 3.—[Special.]—The house late today advanced senate bills raising the state relief appropriation to $4,500,000 a month in order that they may be passed tomorrow. Amendments that would have c : the 3 million dollar increase for May and June were defeated.

Leo M. Lyons, Chicago relief administrator, told the house that budgets of relief clients must remain at 75 per cent the normal amount even if the increase is passed. Lyons gave two reasons why Chicago relief rolls have 113,000 cases compared with 97,000 in January. The WPA has dismissed 18,000 workers there and reliefers have not been much affected by improved private employment, he said.

Downstate Republicans lost their first attempt at a reduction by a vote of 91 to 32. This would have made the net increase $1,500,000.

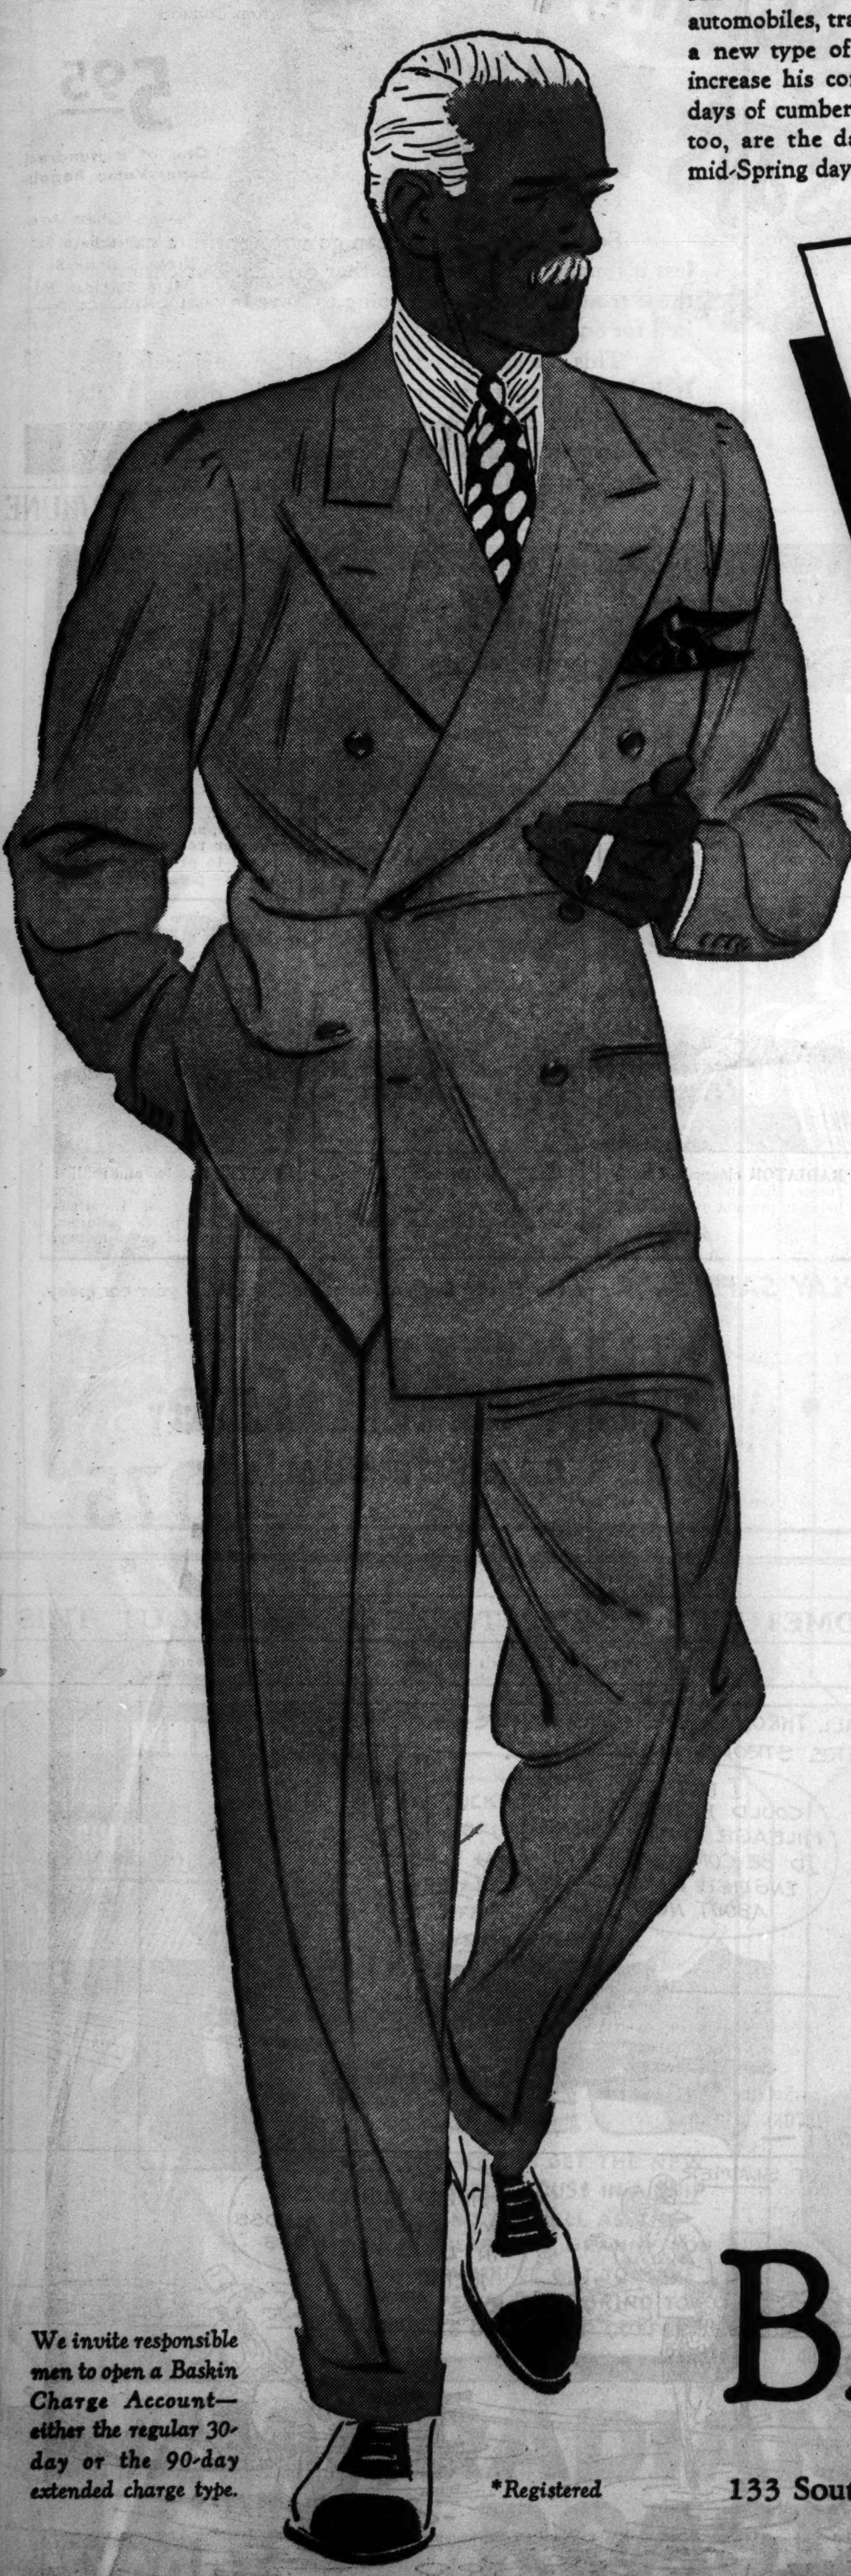
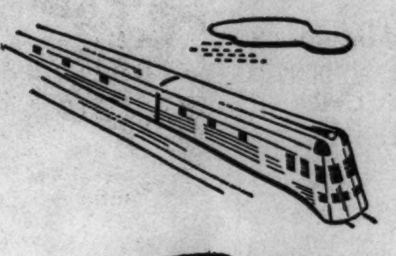
America is Getting Rid of Deadweight

America has divorced deadweight—streamlined herself to a new efficiency. Lighter steel makes better automobiles, trains, airplanes—lighter fabrics make a new type of clothing for the American male, increase his comfort and efficiency. Gone are the days of cumbersome, bulky transportation. Gone, too, are the days of boardy, heavy clothes for mid-Spring days.



-in Autos

that have been trimmed down from tons to pounds—giving us a vastly better ride for lot less money —a sleek, smart appearance, too.



-in Trains

that have been stripped of ponderous weight—made lighter, faster, more comfortable—cheaper to operate—twice as fast.

-in Planes that slip through today's skies swifter, safer than ever before—light-winged symbols of modern designing and a streamlined age.

Here, at last, is "Clothing of Tomorrow"* that definitely ushers in a new era of clothes comfort. Baskin recommends Gulfweight as the ideal suit to wear between April and October.

To all appearances it is a regular weight Hart Schaffner & Marx suit...but when you're wearing it, Gulfweight is light and comfortable because it weighs only 48 ounces—almost a full pound less than a regular weight! Tailored of lightweight yet sturdy woolens, this "Clothing of Tomorrow" is easy to wear... holds its press and shape amazingly well... is comfortable on Summer's sultriest days.

Best of all, Hart Schaffner & Marx has retained all the "body" and style of regular weights in making Gulfweight the refreshing suit it is to wear. You have only to look over the Baskin Gulfweight collection to see that...whether it's the new single or double-breasted drape or the patch pocket, sport back model...in a fine flannel, a gaberdine or a worsted . . . in rich shades of Willow Green, Mist Grey, Azure Blue or Malacca Tan.

Stop in today and see these famous 3-season suits—the "Clothing of Tomorrow"!

GULFWEIGHT FLANNELS

The aristocrat of suitings... that's Doeskin Flannel in Gulfweight. A smooth, soft, supple flannel that's luxurious and mellow soft, it has plenty of "body" to stand the gaff. Doeskin Flannel drapes beautifully in whatever model you select. $35

GULFWEIGHT GABERDINES

Gulfweight Gaberdines lead a busy life! They are ideal for business, perfect for sports and adaptable for both town and country wear from Spring through Fall. For a real style "first," look at the Pencil Stripes and Herringbones . . . $35

Does Your Breath Shout 'FALSE TEETH'?

Stera-Kleen Prevents False Teeth Odor—Cleans Without Brushing

"False teeth odor" is the curse of denture wearers. Ordinary brushing or antiseptics often will not remove scum and food particles that collect on your plate or bridge. This uncleanliness gives off the most offensive of breath odors—you do not know if you have it—but others do.

Prevent this odor by using STERA-KLEEN and make sure of absolute cleanliness. STERA-KLEEN dissolves scum and food particles from the tiny crevices of your plate that brushing does not reach. It is safe—economical—easy to use.

Stir a little STERA-KLEEN in water, put in your plate or bridge for a few minutes. Rinse, and it is ready for use without brushing. Daily use prevents "false teeth odor." Get STERA-KLEEN today. Only 30¢ a package at any drug store.

REVAMPING PLAN NO. 1 WINS HOUSE TEST, 264 TO 128

Program Given Approval Despite Criticism.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 3.—[Special.]—The house late today refused to disapprove the first of five government reorganization proposals to be submitted by President Roosevelt. This action was in effect an indorsement of reorganization plan number 1 which goes into effect June 24, unless congress adjourns before that date.

The vote against a concurrent resolution sponsored by Representative John Taber [R., N. Y.], which expressed disapproval of the plan, was mainly along party lines. The count was 264 to 128 against the resolution.

Republican minority protests that efficiency in government will be destroyed instead of promoted by Mr. Roosevelt's initial suggestions went unheeded. The Democratic majority avoided extensive discussion of the plan.

First of Five Plans.

Representative Lindsay C. Warren [D., N. C.] told the house that the plan submitted by the President on April 25 was the first of five plans to be put before congress. It is not expected that all five will be presented at this session, he said.

The defeat of the Taber resolution made it impossible for congress to veto the President's first plan later in the session except by adjourning before the expiration of sixty days after the proposal was submitted.

Under the stringent technicalities imposed by the reorganization act of 1939, the President's reorganization plans go into effect unless disapproved within sixty days by a concurrent resolution of the two houses. Senate disapproval would have no effect upon the plans as a result of house defeat of the resolution.

Scheme to Retain Agencies.

Taber's fight for his resolution was based upon the contention that no economies can be effected under Mr. Roosevelt's program, as was the intention of congress. He termed the plan a scheme to make the Works Progress administration and Public Works administration permanent. The two agencies otherwise would expire on June 30.

"The President proposes to create a new agency to be called the Federal Works agency, with a $12,000 a year administrator in charge," Taber said. "In this agency would be combined the bureau of public roads and the public buildings branch of the treasury, both of which are functioning satisfactorily. With them would be the United States Housing authority, the PWA, and the WPA.

Assails Housing Authority.

"The housing authority should not be extended. Its slum clearance projects, for which 800 million dollars was made available, have been provided to benefit 1-10 of 1 per cent of the poor at the expense of 99.9 per cent of the under privileged class.

"The WPA and the PWA are notoriously inefficient. The evidence before the investigating committee of the WPA was that the cost of projects under its care was double that of public projects built by a contractor in the regular way.

"A consolidation of these activities under a setup which I believe to be illegal is absolutely ridiculous. It will destroy the efficiency and integrity of the entire construction forces of the government and bring them down to the level of the temporary relief agencies."

POLISH ALLIANCE TO OBSERVE DAY OF INDEPENDENCE

A parade and ceremonies in celebration of the 148th anniversary of the adoption of the Polish constitution will be held Sunday under sponsorship of the Polish National alliance. The parade will start near Division and Noble streets about 1 p. m., with ceremonies at the Kosciuszko monument in Humboldt park at 1:45. Speakers will include Mayor Kelly, Frank V. Swietlik, dean of Marquette university, and Dr. Waclow Gawronski, Polish consul. Fifty thousand persons are expected to parade.

Tulip Queen

Miss Bernace Vander Linden in Dutch costume.

Pella, Ia., May 3.—[Special.]—Miss Bernace Vander Linden, freshman student at Central college here, has been chosen queen of Pella's Tulip festival, to be held May 11, 12, and 13. This little Dutch city, in south central Iowa, dresses up each year in what native costumes the citizens own, and set out their antiques for the visitors each year. The streets are lined with tulips for the festival, and Dutch foods are featured on the occasion.

ESCAPES STATE HOSPITAL; TURNED IN BY HIS MOTHER

Lester Wadler.

In 1932 Lester Wadler, arrested as a burglar, was adjudged insane and sent to the Chicago State hospital at Dunning. He was released in 1934, committed more burglaries, and was again sent to the asylum.

Yesterday Wadler, who is 32 years old, walked away from Dunning, telephoned his mother, Mrs. Lena Wadler, 1541 East 65th place, and asked her to meet him at 35th and Halsted streets. She did. Wadler said he was worried because he hadn't heard from her recently.

Mrs. Wadler said she was worried because her son had escaped. She persuaded him to accompany her to the Criminal court building to see Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach. Bachrach notified the state's attorney's office. One of the old burglary charges was reinstated, and Wadler was taken to the county jail pending a new sanity examination.

AFTER 2 YEARS, A FUGITIVE GIVES UP IN FRAUD CASE

Fred Poncher, 36 years old, surrendered yesterday to Assistant State's Attorney Martin Kinnally after a two year search. He was named in 1937 by Fred Rickenmore, 70, a retired switchman of Kalamazoo, Mich., as one of several men who sold him worthless whisky warehouse receipts.

Poncher, who has been in a number of brushes with the law since 1923 when he was sentenced to Pontiac for robbery, denied any participation in the deal and was released in $5,000 real estate bond supplied by a relative. He will be arraigned in Felony court today on a fugitive warrant charging conspiracy to commit fraud.

U. S. AGENTS PUSH THEIR HUNT FOR PENDERGAST AID

Kansas City, Mo., May 3.—[Special.]—The search for Edward L. Schneider, missing lieutenant of Democratic Boss Thomas J. Pendergast, settled down today into a systematic investigation of available clews and the routine tracing of numerous false reports.

The general feeling appeared to be growing in official circles that Schneider had taken his own life, as was indicated by circumstances surrounding his disappearance. He vanished Monday, a few days after giving testimony on which a federal grand jury indicted Pendergast for income tax evasion.

Federal athorities, however, were not ready to admit that Schneider was a suicide. Department of justice agents were called into the case to investigate whether the missing business man committed suicide, met with foul play, or is absent as the result of a hoax.

ALLEGAN BUSINESS MAN DIES.

Allegan, Mich., May 3.—[Special.]—Homer Adams, 63 years old, Allegan business man, died today. He is survived by his widow, Margaret, a daughter, Nancy, and a son, Reuben, of Brookline, Mass.

RUMANIA PRESENTS COMPROMISE OFFER ON ITS DEBT TO U. S.

Washington, D. C., May 3.—(AP)—Rumania offered to settle her $64,000,000 war debt to the United States today on terms which, it was learned, called for scaling down the total obligation.

The details of the offer, submitted to Secretary of State Cordell Hull by Rumanian Minister Radu Irimescu, were not announced. Persons in authority said, however, that in addition to a reduction in the total the offer provided for paying off in fixed amounts over a period of years.

Hungary offered last year to make a debt settlement. Her offer was to pay, in about 30 yearly instalments, the total of the sum originally borrowed, less amounts already paid on principal and interest, and minus any further interest.

If Rumania followed the same formula, her payments would be reduced to about $33,000,000. She originally borrowed $37,911,152 for war and relief purposes, of which she has paid $4,791,007.

NEW RADIANT ROAST MAXWELL HOUSE

HITS WAR SCARE PROPAGANDA IN U. S. AS A CRIME

Educator Rakes Program of Administration.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Rev. Edmund A. Walsh.

Washington, D. C., May 3.—[Special.]—The senate foreign relations committee was told today that it is a crime, and one of the worst that could be committed, to disseminate a spirit of inevitability with respect to war. The Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., vice president of Georgetown university and regent of its school of foreign service, told the committee that such a spirit was being propagated deliberately.

Senator Hiram Johnson [R., Cal.] agreed with Father Walsh and placed the responsibility for such propaganda squarely on the Roosevelt administration.

"That's exactly what is being disseminated, through the press, the radio, and through certain gentlemen who come here from other countries," said Senator Johnson. In this connection he apparently referred to Joseph P. Kennedy and William C. Bullitt, American ambassadors to London and Paris, respectively, who returned last winter and set the stage for a war scare.

Senator More Pointed.

When Father Walsh said it might be difficult but should not be impossible for the United States to keep out of a European war, and that the difficulty was being increased deliberately by propaganda, Senator Johnson was more pointed in fixing the responsibility.

"Yes, and some of us resent that we are being eased in by those that ought to govern differently than they are," he declared.

Father Walsh, who was accorded great respect by the committee members because of his recognition as an authority on foreign relations, declared that any change in the American neutrality act at the present time would be made in contemplation of a particular situation and would be the key to the position of the United States in Europe's next war.

The whole continent of Europe is waiting for just such an indication, and therein lies the danger of any step that would have the effect of taking sides, he added. He urged that the existing law, which prohibits the shipment of arms, ammunition, and implements of war to all belligerents, be retained without change.

"The search for an acceptable neutrality law has come at a time when there is no neutrality left in the world, except possibly in a few rare and detached souls," said Father Walsh.

"The American mind, in particular, has been subjected to a combination of influences and solicitations, some domestic and some foreign, that have transformed this problem from a limited study of one specific project into a general discussion of the entire foreign policy of the United States."

The witness declared that in 1914 the single issue of neutrality was eventually lost in the greater debate over "a philosophy of life which represented the central powers as the enemy of mankind and a menace to culture and liberty everywhere."

"That was an unfortunate oversimplification of history, a maneuvered psychology that ended in tragedy, disillusionment, and an accumulation of injustices now fully realized by honest historians and admitted even by statesmen in the allied camp," Father Walsh continued.

Roosevelt's Foreign Policy Means War, Landon Warns

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Alfred M. Landon.

Kansas City, Mo., May 3.—[Special.]—Alfred M. Landon tonight warned representatives of eight million Methodists against policies of the government which would put American soldiers in Europe to fight the 2,000 year old boundary warfare of that continent.

To avoid committing the newly organized Methodist church to party politics, the conference arranged for the Republican presidential candidate of 1936 to speak under the auspices of the peace commission of the former Methodist Episcopal church. The new Methodist church is nonsectional, embracing both the north and the south. Mr. Landon is a delegate at large from the Kansas Methodist conference to the uniting conference.

Finds Neutrality Abandoned.

Pointing to President Roosevelt's Chicago outer bridge speech in October, 1937, when the President announced his economic quarantine policy against dictator nations, Mr. Landon declared that the President not only abandoned a neutral position but could not speak for America.

Mr. Landon did not exclude Hitler from blame for Europe's situation, but explained that Hitler's reply to President Roosevelt made a rather strong case against economic injustice. He added that Hitler's speech left the door open for further discussion of the common destiny of the common people of the world.

Urges Parley for People.

While advocating an international peace conference led by America, Landon said that a blundering American statesman who had abandoned a strictly neutral position could not consistently call such a conference. The conference should be called, he added, in the interests of the common people of all nations, and not for the benefit of dictators and diplomats.

"It is in the spirit of disinterestedness," Mr. Landon said, "that I now urge we explore the possibility of further discussion which Herr Hitler's speech offers. Discussion is the only way known to man to settle disputes."

Fears U. S. Policy Means War.

He defined America's foreign policy as being based on an emotional and reform basis. He added:

"We must not henceforth allow friendship, or animosity, or emotions to influence our foreign policy. We must learn that negotiations between nations are cold and ruthless, and we must play the game that way."

Condemning President Roosevelt's effort to line up the United States with France and England against the Berlin-Rome-Tokio alliance, Mr. Landon asserted that no nation in Europe can be trusted, that all are engaged in practicing the art of double-crossing one another.

Stop Hitler Moves Opposed.

"Never has there been a more urgent call to be Americans, first, last, and all the time," he added.

"I do not like to see people who claim to be American citizens organizing in pro-Hitler bunds.

"I do not like to see people who claim to be American citizens organizing in stop Hitler parades.

"I do not like to see people who claim to be American citizens organizing as Czecho-Slovakians to regain the independence of that country."

While urging that American citizens mind their own business, Landon asserted the country cannot be indifferent to another European war. If one starts, the economic, emotional, and other pulls now making themselves felt will be striving to get the country into the struggle, he said.

Help Is Called Way to War.

"It is important," Landon declared, "that we don't fool ourselves with weasel words.

"Now take a look at what this 'economic assistance' means. We give it. Our side is losing. Will we stay out of there? I'm afraid not.

"We therefore have an exact duplication of the situation when we entered the world war."

Landon said that England and France promised this country that if we would come into the world war we would be expected to give only money and materials. He added:

"But they changed their tune mighty soon after we got into the war. Then they wanted American soldiers as quickly as we could get them there. It will be the same way this time. Let's stop fooling the people that economic quarantines and economic assistance mean anything less than sending American boys into the cockpit of Europe to fight."

PICK JURY TO TRY INDIAN FIGHTER IN KILLING OF KIN

Edward Conrad, 79 years old, a former Indian fighter, went on trial yesterday in Criminal court before Judge James F. Fardy on a charge of killing his son-in-law, Louis Vleck, 46. Conrad is said to have admitted he shot and killed Vleck March 21 during a family quarrel in Vleck's home at 1356 Winnemac avenue. He is expected to plead self-defense.

A jury was selected speedily, with the apparent coöperation of Assistant State's Attorneys Richard Devine and Joseph O'Connor, and Defense Attorney Emerson Whitney. The jury was not qualified for the death penalty.

Conrad's daughter, Mrs. Almeda Vleck, 30, was granted a continuance yesterday on a confidence charge brought by her former attorney, Laurence Fine. Fine charged she had regained from police $380 which she had paid him as a retainer fee in connection with the shooting.

RECORDS REVEAL U. S. GENERALS' FAILURE IN WAR

Brand Nearly Half Unfit to Direct Armies.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 3.—[Special.]—Inquiry at the war department today disclosed that, at a conservative estimate, half of the American general officers in the world war were inefficient.

The army did not publicize the failure of its general officers during the war for fear of its effect on the morale of both the army and the civilian population at home. Failure stands out, however, on the records of the officers in the war department files. No effort was made to protect the records of general officers.

Records Show Recalls.

Recalls from commands are entered against general officers with surprising frequency. Their careers marked time from that point on.

Most of the recalled officers were sent to the reassignment group at Blois, France, where they could be put out of the way and yet arouse no perturbation back home. Transfer of generals to Blois meant, almost without exception, that the general had failed.

The department has not compiled a list of the transfers or of army failures. It was pointed out, however, that one index is the Distinguished Service medal, which was created by act of congress on July 9, 1918, as an award for exceptionally meritorious service in a position of responsibility.

Almost Half Get No Medals.

Of the eleven generals holding positions of high responsibility, almost half failed to receive the medals, which means, it was said, they did not perform their duties up to the expected standard.

Of the 522 generals in the war, 230 were not decorated. The number includes fourteen of the major generals who commanded divisions. At the close of the war America had forty-two divisions in France, twelve at home, and four being formed. The American plans called for eighty divisions in France by July of 1919 and 100 by the end of 1919.

STASSEN TOO YOUNG, HE SAYS, TO TOSS HAT INTO REPUBLICAN RING

Washington, D. C., May 3.—[Special.]—Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota told interviewers today that he was not a candidate for the Republican nomination for President. He said he wasn't old enough. He will be 35 years old on April 13, 1941, and the constitution requires a President to be at least 35 years old.

As a young Republican Gov. Stassen outlined things he said the Republicans must do to win next year. The platform and the candidate must be liberal, and must convince the farmers that the Republican farm program would be of economic value to agriculture, he said.

BILL TO PROVIDE 153 MILLION FOR ARMS IS SIGNED

Washington, D. C., May 3.—(AP)—A 153 million dollar bill to provide miscellaneous fighting equipment for the army and to add new ships to the navy was signed into law by President Roosevelt today.

In addition to this, the house naval committee approved an expenditure of $6,660,000, with which the navy would overhaul five old battleships—the Tennessee, California, Colorado, Maryland, and West Virginia—and make modern fighting craft of them.

At the same time, the navy, with an eye to an eventual increase in the efficiency of its enlisted personnel, increased the term of enlistment from four to six years. The order is to become effective on July 1, when the navy expects to have completed the enlistment of 5,000 new recruits with which to man its expanded fleet.

The appropriation approved by the President would permit the army to buy or contract for the purchase of 110 million dollars worth of what it terms critical items—tanks, anti-tank guns, rifles, gas masks, artillery, ammunition—and other equipment. A total of $36,500,000 was for the navy's fleet expansion program, and $6,539,000 was earmarked for strengthening coastal defenses in the continental United States, the Canal Zone, and insular possessions.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acid waste in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be over-worked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of poisonous waste.

When functional kidney disorder permits poisonous matter to remain in the blood, you won't feel well. This may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. If you have trouble with frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning, there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

FLYERS' FAILURE ATTRIBUTED TO ICE IN CLOUDS

Lost Russians Land Far Off True Course.

New York, May 3.—[Special.]—While several meager explanations have been given for the failure of the soviet airmen to complete their Moscow-New York flight last week, the true story, it is understood here, is that they veered from their course and lost their route while over the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

The pilots became lost when they entered thick clouds. These clouds consisted of ice crystals, for the temperature at 27,000 feet where the Russians were flying was 40 degrees below zero. One of the reasons they lost their route was because their air speed indicators and most of their gyroscopic instruments that are essential to precise blind flying became clogged with the ice and ceased to function.

Hunt Cause for Hours.

Their difficulties began about 3 p. m. [Chicago time] last Friday when they reported by radio to New York City that they were over Anticosti Island in the bay. For four and a half hours after this they circled aimlessly trying to pick up their correct route. They did not call New York on their radio and it was feared for a time that they had crashed.

Finally, when darkness was near, they decided that a landing must be made for it would have been impossible to continue the flight into the night. Descending below the cloud levels, without any real idea of their whereabouts, they picked the closest open meadowland and put the airplane on the ground.

The meadow happened to be on Miscou Island, New Brunswick. The landing was made about 7:30 p. m. [Chicago time]. When they got on the ground the navigator, Maj. Mikhail Gordienko, had the natives point out his position on one of his maps. He was greatly puzzled when he saw where the plane had landed.

One Flyer Unconscious.

At one time during the period they were lost Brig. Gen. Vladimir Kokkinaki, who was at the controls, became unconscious because his oxygen supply failed. Maj. Gordienko took over and brought the plane to lower levels, where Kokkinaki revived. The landing was made by Kokkinaki.

The Russian built Gnome Rhome air cooled radial motors of the plane functioned perfectly throughout the flight, Kokkinaki said. He was able to keep the carburetors clear of ice, but was unable to prevent his instruments from being choked with the ice particles. He said the plane, after flying for twenty-three hours, had another 240 gallons of fuel in its tanks when it landed.

This would have been enough to fly on almost to New York—the motors burned 85 gallons of fuel an hour—had the proper course been known. Kokkinaki said, however, it would have been foolhardy to try to continue the flight in darkness over strange territory. He said one reason for making the landing was the lack of weather information for the route between Labrador and Boston.

Plane a Military Secret.

The airplane was left on Miscou Island. It was one of the latest types of Russian bombardment machines and considered a military secret. The flyers refused to allow the natives to approach the plane closely while they remained with it.

When they left they removed certain instruments, and made arrangements for shipment of the motors, propellers, and certain parts of the plane by steamer to Russia. The airplane will be dismantled by Canadian mechanics who will be under supervision of engineers from the Amtorg Trading corporation, the soviet commercial agent in the United States.

AIR MECHANICS' STRIKE IN EAST IS CALLED OFF

Newark, N. J., May 3.—(AP)—A. P. Martin, president of the Air Lines Mechanics association, an independent union, said today he had instructed striking mechanics of the Eastern Air Lines to return to work.

The strike was called April 14, at which time the company said fifty-two of its 250 maintenance men had walked out, seeking higher wages. Martin placed the number of strikers at 115.

Picket lines were withdrawn from airports here, Washington and Atlanta, Martin said, but would be replaced if the company refused to take back the strikers. Norman Scully, field manager of the Newark office of E. A. L., said that by midafternoon he had interviewed twenty-nine men who sought their old jobs. He placed the number of strikers here at thirty-three.

Criticize Pacific Invasion; Ask Power in Shanghai.

TOKIO, May 3.—(AP)—The Japanese government today criticized American naval expansion plans and presented demands to the United States and Britain for a larger share in control of the International settlement at Shanghai.

Demands that the Shanghai municipal council, which governs the International settlement, be reorganized to give Japanese a larger voice in its affairs and permit stronger measures against alleged terrorism were presented to the American and British ambassadors here by Renzo Sawada, vice minister of foreign affairs. Japan now has two members of the council, Britain five, and the United States two.

Accuses Three Nations.

The new navy pamphlet, to be issued on Navy day, May 27, surveys armaments of the United States, Britain, and soviet Russia and accuses these three countries of strengthening their navies to interfere in Japan's China policy.

The pamphlet says the Vinson bill for increasing the United States navy has cast a great shadow over the Pacific, mentions United States proposals concerning Wake, Midway, and Johnston Islands, and declares that "the United States has moved definitly and positively toward invasion of the Pacific by establishment of air routes by way of Hawaii, Midway, Guam, and the Philippines.

Japs Bomb Chungking.

CHUNGKING, May 3.—(AP)—Hundreds were believed killed or injured today when Japanese warplanes raided this Chinese wartime capital. Most of the bombs fell outside the city near new war projects, but six landed in the most congested part of Chungking and started huge fires. Police and soldiers patrolled the streets while rescue squads removed the dead and injured from flaming ruins.

INQUIRY ON MILK RULE SHIFTS TO WISCONSIN FIELD

Farmers' Receipts Lower Under Control.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., May 3.—[Special.]—Gov. Henry Horner's milk investigators, after covering eastern markets last week, moved into this largest dairy state in America this afternoon to study the operation of price control laws such as proposed in the Illinois assembly.

The first important discovery was that the figures given to the house of representative at Springfield by price control advocates were the prices paid to Wisconsin milk producers last January, not the current prices. W. L. Witte, chief of the division of markets here, reckoned that since January farmers' receipts per gallon have dropped about 15 per cent.

"That makes the Wisconsin farmers' price for all his milk production about the same as in Illinois, doesn't it?" asked Dr. H. A. Ruehe of the University of Illinois, turning to Arthur Hartman of Hampshire, Ill., producer representative in the delegation. Hartman nodded his head.

Bulk Used in Processing.

Witte explained that the price control law fixed the prices for fluid consumption in thirty-two markets of this state, but that between 90 and 92 per cent of the milk produced by the 2,179,000 cows in this state was used in cheese, butter, condensed milk, and similar dairy foods.

The price of processing milk is not controled by the state, and it has skidded since the government, after plunging taxpayers' dollars in the butter market, failed to peg the price.

"In Illinois with its million cows," commented Dr. Ruehe, "about 20 per cent of the milk is sold on the premium fluid market."

"With farmers' prices slipping, except for his milk for bottling," said Mrs. Wilbur Fribley, president of the Chicago Housewives' league, "have the consumers benefited any?"

"Only in Milwaukee and a few other cities where farmers' prices were also reduced," Witte replied.

Believes Margins Reduced.

"Has the price control increased farmers' incomes?" Dr. Ruehe asked.

"I believe it has," Witte answered, "although conditions have changed so much since control was inaugurated in 1933 that it's difficult to make comparisons. I believe it has reduced dealers' margins."

"Has it sustained or boosted retail prices?" asked Arthur Buehring of De Kalb, Ill., president of Illinois Dairy Products association.

"Maybe as much as 1 cent a quart," Witte answered, "but again it's hard to tell."

In the east, in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts, the Illinois delegation found that price control boosted retail prices an average of 2 cents a quart.

FOR NATURAL PRICES

Washington, D. C., May 3.—(AP)—Blaming artificially high prices for the troubles of the milk industry, Thomas H. McInnerney, president of the National Dairy Products corporation, today called on federal and state agencies and coöperative farm groups to establish prices in line with the law of supply and demand.

He told the federal monoply committee that if it was impossible, because of farmer pressure or other reasons, to establish prices on a sound basis, the alternative will be to give all producers who desire to ship to the market and who produce milk of equal quality the opportunity of so doing.

McInnerney distinguished between milk which farmers sell for bottling, and the surplus milk—that which is left over after the bottle market has been supplied and which farmers sell at lower prices for manufacturing.

Frank Covaro, heir to $107,000 of a $1,500,000 estate left by his uncle, John B. Lavezzorio, was ordered yesterday by Judge Rudolph Desort to pay his wife, Angela, $160 a month for the support of herself and their daughter, 2 years old. Mrs. Covaro, who lives at 801 South Cicero avenue, is seeking a divorce. Judge Desort still has under advisement a motion to dissolve an injunction restraining the distribution of $42,000 accrued interest to the heirs of Lavezzorio, a Chicago real estate dealer who died in 1929.

WISCONSIN'S NEW LABOR RELATIONS ACT NOW IN FORCE

Heil Signs Bill to Ban Sit Strikes.

BY FRED GRAFF.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., May 3.—[Special.]—Wisconsin's new labor relations law, designed to curb strike abuses and create a balance of rights for employers, employés and the public, became effective today. It was signed last night by Gov. Julius P. Heil. The governor is expected to name the new three member state labor relations board soon.

The new labor law was backed by the Wisconsin council of agriculture. It replaces the 1937 "Little Wagner" act created by the La Follette administration, and is similar to legislation enacted or pending in a constantly growing number of states which now includes Minnesota, Illinois, Michigan and Oregon. The new law specifically outlaws sitdown strikes, virtually prohibits the closed shop, and bars intimidation and other means of interference in labor disputes by outside labor unions not a party directly to the controversy. It was introduced in the lower house by Assemblyman Reuben W. Peterson [R., Berlin].

Outlaws Secondary Boycotts.

The new law also embodies provisions of the recently enacted Catlin law which redefined a labor dispute in Wisconsin as a controversy existing only between an employer and a majority of his employés. Under the new version stranger or collateral picketing and secondary boycotts are specifically outlawed.

The Peterson bill passed the lower house, 53 to 43, on March 9 and was approved by the senate, 22 to 11, on April 20 after an all night battle during which Senator Michael F. Kresky [P., Green Bay] held the floor for more than five hours in a futile filibuster.

Supporters of the Peterson bill contended that its enactment would rid the state of labor racketeers, equalize the rights of employers and employés under the law, protect both employers and workers from intimidation and coercion, and protect the farming industry from the danger of sudden strikes involving perishable agricultural products. Opponents of the bill rallied behind the state federation of labor's contention that it would "hamstring" organized labor and destroy all of its accomplishments of the last twenty years.

Limits Powers of Board.

Major changes effected in the state labor relations law by the new act are as follows: Sitdown strikes will be outlawed, the closed shop will be prohibited except by approval of 75 per cent of the employés through a secret ballot, the checkoff system of paying union dues will be prohibited except by approval of the workers individually, collective bargaining negotiations will be limited to an employer and a majority of his employés, and ten days' notice will be required in proposed strikes involving perishable farm products.

The new law also lists unfair labor practices both for the employer and the employés contrary to the La Follette law which listed them only for the employer. It further specifies that the new labor board shall act solely in the capacity of a judge or mediator in labor disputes. The La Follette created labor board was criticized on the ground that it acted as investigator, prosecutor, judge, and jury alike.

Embraces Farmers' Program.

Strong farm support of the new law was attributed generally to growing dissatisfaction with the 1937 law for the wide rights it granted to labor unions and directly to disputes last summer with organized labor at Richland Center, where a coöperative creamery was forced to halt operations temporarily, and in Racine county, where cabbage and spinach rotted in the fields because of labor disputes at the canneries.

The new law embraces the nine point program adopted nine months ago by the council of agriculture, which includes most of the large farm organizations and farm coöperatives of the state claiming a total membership of more than 80,000 farmers.

SUES MOFFETT, LATE ADMIRAL'S SON, FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Janet W. Moffett, 26 years old, yesterday filed suit for divorce in Waukegan against Lieut. George H. Moffett, son of Admiral William A. Moffett, who was killed in the Akron dirigible crash in 1933.

Mrs. Moffett, who lives in the Deerpath inn, Lake Forest, charged that Moffett, then an ensign in the United States navy, deserted her on Dec. 10, 1937. They were married on June 17, 1931, in Beverly Hills, Cal. She asks custody of their two children, William A., 4, and Janet H., 1½.

Her attorneys, William C. Boyden and Arthur M. Wood, said she had an independent income and that, since Moffett is in bad health and has no income, they would ask the court to reserve jurisdiction on alimony rights.

Attorney George M. Weichelt filed an answer for Moffett, but agreed by stipulation to a default hearing. Moffett is said to be in Washington.

SHOOTS SELF ACCIDENTALLY.

William Daudert, 38 years old, of Stone Park, newly incorporated village near Melrose Park, shot himself accidentally in the thigh yesterday. The accident occurred in an auto repair shop conducted by Daudert at 1817 Wilson avenue.

HOSPITALS' MEN IN WHITE TO DON COLORED ROBES

Find Darker Shades Help Banish Light Glare.

BY MARCIA WINN.

If some day you awaken in an operating room to find a figure in dark green hovering over you, don't be alarmed. You probably will not be in a state of delirium, but under the care of a surgeon who is trying to reduce glare.

Glare is a serious problem in surgery, according to hospital officials attending the Tri-State Hospital assembly, which opened yesterday in the Stevens hotel. It can be as much of a menace to the surgeon's work and his comfort, as its opposite, shadow. To relieve it, colors ranging from black to faded yellow-green have been introduced into the operating room. They may not look as antiseptic as the time honored white, but they are.

Dark Blue Found Useful.

Even dark blue is being used in several French hospitals, Dr. William J. Engel of the Cleveland Clinic foundation will tell some of the 3,500 delegates today.

In some instances color is used only for what surgeons call drapes, the coverings placed about a patient's body during an operation. [In an appendectomy, for example, only a small portion of the abdomen is bared for the incision; the rest is draped.] In other hospitals, the surgeon, too, is donning color to prevent the reflection that occurs when light strikes his sleeve or other parts of his robe.

Just what this means, and why color is needed, may be seen on inspection of the ultra-modern operating lights — shining, gleaming masterpieces in chromium, glass, and mirrors—on display at the assembly. One, a chromium hemisphere 36 inches in diameter, gives a 3,000 foot candle light. In other words, the light of 3,000 candles burns above the surgeon's head.

Cold Light Produced.

A thick blue-green glass absorbs the heat of this lamp to such an extent that an almost cold light [a temperature of 1½ degrees Fahrenheit] is produced. Light rays are crossed to produce a minimum of shadow by shooting rays beneath obstructions; but if the reflecting surface is too light, the beams produce a glare.

The Tri-State [Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin] assembly comprises twenty-two groups, ranging from hospital administrators to hospital engineers and housekeepers. Each is holding special sessions, among them the Association of Medical Record Librarians, presided over by Mrs. Ethel Mahony of Jackson Park hospital, president of the Chicago group, and Miss Lillian Erickson of St. Luke's hospital, national president.

FAVORS PROGRAM OF FAMILY CARE FOR U. S. INSANE

Expert Says Institution Plan Is Failure.

The day of shunning the mentally ill is passing. And, as people become more understanding, a wholesome and helpful family care system is being developed to supplement institutional treatment of the insane and feeble minded.

This was indicated yesterday by Dr. Horatio M. Pollock of Albany, N. Y., before the American Association on Mental Deficiency in the Palmer House. Dr. Pollock is statistician for the New York state department of mental hygiene.

Institutions Called Unsatisfactory.

Dr. Pollock said the common practice of placing mental patients in a large and costly institution is unsatisfactory. Because of costs and overcrowding, many persons in need of special treatment are unable to obtain it, he asserted. Family care can be provided at about half the cost of institutional care, he estimated, and part family and part institutional care can be had at far less cost than full time institutional care.

Family management of mental cases, as it is being introduced in this country, originated in Gheel, Belgium, which is famous for its large scale placement of mental defectives with responsible families. Two years ago Dr. Pollock went to Gheel to study its method.

"What class of patients do you place in family care?" was his first inquiry of the medical director. The answer, he said, astonished him. "We place them all in family care," the official replied. Even disturbed patients, he was told, quiet down in a few days and make little trouble under skilful family management.

Families Take Pride in Work.

"The families of Gheel," Dr. Pollock said, "regard the care of patients as an important duty and responsibility. They do their work in the same spirit as a devoted nurse. If a like spirit could be developed in favorable localities in this country, it would be possible to replace institutional care almost completely with family care."

Three requisites of the Gheel system enumerated by Dr. Pollock are a small central hospital to receive, observe, and place patients; a group of families easily accessible to the hospital to which the patients could be assigned, and a well organized plan of operation directed by experts.

Dr. Pollock predicted that eventually states would be relieved of building new institutions for mental patients and that one-fourth of all the mentally ill in the United States and one-third of all mental defectives would be cared for in family-care colonies.

BOARD REPLACES HOSPITAL CARE PLAN DIRECTOR

Perry Addleman, executive director of the Plan for Hospital Care since the plan's inception late in 1936, is no longer with the organization, Charles H. Schweppe, treasurer, said yesterday. S. A. Denton of the Business Research corporation is the temporary executive director, employed by the board of directors.

"Addleman and the board disagreed about two weeks ago," Schweppe said. "There was no question of Addleman's honesty or integrity. We felt that while he had done an excellent job of promotion, he was not fitted for the executive managership of the plan."

Schweppe said the board's conclusions were based on a survey of the management of the plan made by the Business Research corporation. He said the reorganization affected only the methods of managing the plan and in no way affected the interests or the investments of the plan's members.

WEIGHS PARDON FOR GIRL, 22, IN PRISON FOR LOVE

Paducah, Ky., May 3.—[Special.]—Another step was taken today in quest of a pardon for Ruth Strickland, 22 years old, who was sent to prison after an attempted holdup designed to take her out of the life of a man she loved and lost.

Gov. Albert B. Chandler, who never has granted a pardon, promised consideration of the case and told Ruth's sister, Mrs. Floyd E. Jones of Harvey, Ill., to learn the attitude of the trial judge and the prosecuting attorney.

Both those officials—Judge Joe L. Price of the McCracken County court here and Commonwealth Attorney Holland Bryan—said they would not oppose any action the governor might take. The same stand was taken by the two women from whom Ruth demanded money after displaying a toy pistol in the rest room of a Paducah theater. The girl was sentenced to serve a term of ten years.

Two Charged After Fight Victim Dies of Broken Neck

George Zavakos, 2535 Foster avenue, and James Giannopoulos, 4549 North Damen avenue, each 20 years old, were charged with manslaughter yesterday in connection with the death Tuesday of Robert Lanigan, 21, of 3748 North Troy street. Damen avenue police said Lanigan and a companion, Raymond Nelson, 22, of 1923 Belle Plaine avenue, became involved in an argument with the other two over a girl. In the fight that followed Lanigan was hit and knocked to the pavement. He died in Ravenswood hospital from a broken neck.

STOP SCRATCHING!
ITCHING SCALP LEADS TO BALDNESS

IF YOUR scalp itches intensely, you can conclude that one or more of the 14 local causes of baldness is attacking your hair growing structure. If you keep on scratching, or continue to get temporary relief by applying "cure-all" surface lotions, you may spread the infection over a large area and lead yourself more speedily to complete baldness. If you stop scratching and rid your scalp of the causes of the itching, you will save your hair—avoid baldness!

More than a quarter-million persons have found the Thomas treatment the surest and fastest way to stop scalp itch, end dandruff, and promote normal hair growth on thin and bald spots.

A Thomas expert will gladly examine your hair and scalp, without charge or obligation, and will tell you exactly what is causing your hair loss, and precisely what can be done to overcome your trouble.

Come in today for a free scalp examination. See for yourself how Thomas treatment ends dandruff, stops abnormal hairfall and promotes hair growth for others, and how this reliable, proved method can help you, also, to retain or regain a good head of hair.

REBUILDING THE CITIES.

The prompt enactment of the public service building corporation bills would make this session of the Illinois legislature a memorable one in the annals of Illinois. It is no secret that insurance companies and other institutional investors have earmarked large funds for housing loans, but Illinois communities will derive none of the benefits unless appropriate legislation is enacted.

For many years our cities have been slowly dying at the center. Chicago is not unique in this respect; every other sizable city in the state and the country has had the same experience. Old residential neighborhoods are run down. The buildings are obsolete and the income from them is insufficient to maintain them in good condition. Taxes are in arrears. What were once attractive neighborhoods have become aggregations of mean streets—ugly, depressing, and costly to the community because of the fire hazard and the high delinquency rates.

These areas can be reclaimed, but not by piecemeal effort. The individual owner of a lot or even of a row of houses cannot attack the job successfully because he knows that he cannot get his additional investment back; there is no demand for attractive residences in the midst of a blighted area. The rehabilitation must be handled in big units of several square blocks at a time. With sites of that size a whole neighborhood can be rebuilt and protected against blight.

Under present law it is practically impossible to assemble adequate sites for housing developments in run down districts. Some few owners will hold out for fancy prices, but they constitute only one and by no means the principal obstacle; an even greater one is the difficulty of finding all the owners and getting their consents. Some of the owners cannot be traced; some are minors; some are insane; some properties are involved in complicated bequests, tying the property up for years to come.

The solution of this primary obstacle to the rehabilitation of the city is the public service building corporation. Such corporations will be empowered to condemn land and in return will be subjected to public supervision comparable to the state's regulation of utility companies. Experience has shown that it is not difficult to acquire the greater part of a housing site by ordinary negotiation and purchase; most of the owners are willing enough to sell at a fair price. The rights of the others will be protected, but not to the point of preventing the rehabilitation of the city.

Private capital for large scale housing is available. Several large insurance companies in the east have already made such loans. The security is favorably regarded. If federal government loans are required, they may also be obtained. Individual investors and building material companies may also be expected to subscribe in greater or less amounts. The financial problem will disappear provided the legal basis for a sound investment is provided.

The legislature holds the key to the situation. By enacting public service building legislation a start can be made almost at once upon the most pressing problem now confronting Illinois cities. Most of the legislators are already thoroughly familiar with it, but if any are not they should be encouraged to visit the half dozen wards surrounding the loop or corresponding neighborhoods in Peoria, East St. Louis, etc. There they will see potentially attractive residential areas which are now a fearful liability to the community. They are the areas of crime and juvenile delinquency, of high fire hazards, of hopelessness, and despair.

The rebuilding of these neighborhoods according to a unified architectural plan, with lawns, trees, safe playgrounds, and adequate parking facilities, will provide employment for building craftsmen now on relief and at the same time will go far to solve the problem of tax delinquency. Until we learn to stabilize neighborhoods, as can be done only by large scale ownership and management, we shall continue to pay an enormous price for the constant rehousing of our population.

The close-in areas are already provided with schools, transportation, utility services. The movement of population farther and farther from the center of the city has placed a continual strain on the community's income and savings to provide new houses, and new schools, churches, and shops, extend water mains, sewers, and transportation lines. That process can now be halted and it must be if the city is to operate efficiently and economically. The public service building bills are a first step toward the rehabilitation of the cities of Illinois, and by no means the least of their merits is that they do not impose a penny of additional cost upon the taxpayers.

THE A. F. OF L. AND THE LABOR BOARD.

William Green stated accurately the standing of the National Labor Relations board in his appearance at the senate committee hearing on Wagner act amendments. As he said, the board and its agents have lost the respect of the American Federation of Labor, which is the older, larger, and more responsible labor group of the nation. The general public shares this opinion.

The board has been the tool of the C. I. O. It is one of the government agencies that President Roosevelt put in pawn with John L. Lewis as security on the half million dollar campaign contribution. It has, Mr. Green says, persistently sought to destroy the bargaining contracts between A. F. of L. unions and employers in order to aid the C. I. O.

Mr. Green's statement was not new. Leaders of A. F. of L. unions have given it in more detail at the annual conventions of the federation. They have cited chapter and verse, giving scores of instances of attempts by the labor board and its employés to harass the A. F. of L. and aid Mr. Lewis. The courts, reviewing the board's orders, have substantiated many of their charges of bias.

The A. F. of L. sponsored the Wagner act. The act was passed before the labor movement split. Whoever might have been appointed to the labor board, its members would have had a most difficult time steering an impartial course between the rival claims of the two labor groups. The present board, instead of making the Wagner act an instrument of industrial peace, has turned it over to Mr. Lewis as a weapon of industrial warfare.

The A. F. of L. is seeking a number of amendments to the act, some of which would be unnecessary if it were not for the labor split. It is safe to say that most of them would not have been sought, however, if the violent partisanship of the board members had not convinced the A. F. of L. leaders that it would be wise to tie their hands in certain directions by statutory mandates.

The most important A. F. of L. amendment, from the viewpoint of the general interest, is that abolishing the present board and substituting a new five man board. The present board has compromised itself so hopelessly that it is impossible to expect any substantial reformation. Public welfare and industrial peace will be served if congress votes its members out of office.

CUT THE STATE BUDGET.

Republicans in the Illinois legislature, undaunted by a Democratic majority in the senate and sabotage within their own ranks in the house, are making a good fight to reduce the state budget.

They have before them the example of their party in New York which, through its control of both houses of the legislature, forced a $30,000,000 cut in that state's budget. New York can achieve that economy by cutting some of the waste and corruption from its government. The $11,000,000 reduction in biennial appropriations that Republicans are urging in Illinois can be made without impairing a single useful activity of the state government.

All taxes, as President Roosevelt must nowadays regret having made clear, are paid in the sweat of labor. The taxes supporting our state government, however, are taken off the dinner tables and the backs of its citizens.

The 3 per cent sales tax supplies more than half of the state's revenue. Every person in the state feels its weight directly. It is collected on the baby's milk and on the dead man's coffin. Since it was first levied, the state government has found itself in the position in which the federal government found itself after institution of the income tax -with more money to spend than it previously knew existed.

Like the tax spenders at Washington, however, the tax spenders at Springfield have risen nobly to the occasion. They have risen so nobly that they now permit themselves tremors over a possible deficit. The lavishness of their spending may be judged by the fact that after paying the state's share of relief costs the sales tax still yields about twice as much for general state purposes as the general property tax it replaced.

Comparison of present budget requests with the expense of operating the same activities in the days before the sales tax will give the Republicans ample ammunition for their economy fight. The reduction they favor is only 4.5 per cent of the biennial operating budget. The proposed cut is less than the increase in state expenditures in any biennium since the sales tax came in.

Thus the $11,000,000 should be considered a minimum reduction. A still better objective would be reduction of the sales tax to 2 per cent, with a corresponding cut in state expenditures. With other revenue increases obtained by the state government in recent years, a 2 per cent sales tax would meet the present scale of relief expenditures and still leave as much money for general governmental activities as was ever realized from the general property tax.

ROYALTY AT WEST POINT.

The visit of Prince Olav and Princess Martha of Norway to West Point released cadets from disciplinary punishments. The sentences were annulled in their honor. It's a West Point custom—and a bad one—to let the boys off when the head or representative of the head of a foreign government comes visiting.

The king, when he had a good birthday celebration, took a new wife, heard of an enemy's death or had satisfactory reports from the tax collector might release some of the boys from jail to pay a compliment to himself and enjoy his own generosity.

The practice is beneath the dignity of West Point. Washington did not keep his watch there in the highlands to perpetuate even the minor foibles of royalty. There was nothing in the character of any of the great American soldiers who had their elementary military training at the school to give propriety to an imitation of royalty under the influence of the fifth bottle.

Probably West Point ought to be moved to Des Moines, Ia.

PRIZE FOR PERSISTENCE.

[Evening Sun, Baltimore.]

From Buffalo, N. Y., comes a story [via the A. P.] about a mother and daughter who have been practicing a head balancing act together for twelve years and who "are awaiting the arrival of the daughter's sixteenth birthday and an appearance under the 'big top.'" The mother's name is Mrs. Violet Shaver, and she began teaching her daughter, Doreen, head balancing when Doreen was only a little Shaver, just 2½ years old. They are said to have reached the peak of perfection' three years ago. Two years ago the owner of a big circus told Mrs. Shaver: "Come back when she is 16 and you will get a contract."

Such singleness of purpose deserves reward, though we don't know just how good their act is. The Buffalo mother and daughter deserve recognition, less for performance, perhaps, than for devotion to an ideal.

Accordingly, we here and now award the blue ribbon with palms to Mrs. Shaver; the award [with junior palms] to be extended to include the daughter also—bright and early on Doreen's sixteenth birthday.

AMERICAN FAMILY NAMES.

If you have been worrying about a decrease of the "old stock" in the American race, consult the analysis of names by the Social Security board, which has card indexed almost 44 million citizens. Smith, Johnson, and Brown are running one-two-three in frequency, as usual; and most of the fifty leading clans bear names that have descended from or been borrowed from the Anglo-Saxon breeds.

Johnson, in third place, is largely Swedish; Cohen, in fortieth place, is Jewish; and Burke, in forty-fourth place, is Irish. All the others belong to the nomenclature of the old English yeomanry. Anderson, in eighth, and Nelson, in twenty-sixth place, no doubt have strong reinforcements from Scandinavian elements.

There are no German or Italian family names in the first fifty.

When we heard Crown Prince Olav of Norway speaking over the radio the other night we wondered what language he was using. . . . Now, wait a minute before you shout at us, "Norwegian, you numskull!" Please be advised that there are two forms of the Norwegian language, both official.

One is the Riksmaal—the language of the cultured and urban classes. The other is the Landsmaal—the language of the folk who are close to the soil and the ancient traditions of the race. We have been informed that the Landsmaal is much like Old Norse, and somewhat puzzling to the Riksmaal elements.

Instruction in both languages has been compulsory in the Norwegian schools since 1908. On June 6, 1930, a law was passed which requires every Norwegian government official who was born after Jan. 1, 1905, to answer the letters he receives in the language [Riksmaal or Landsmaal] of the writer.

THE SOCIAL SECURITY RACE.

(After "The Fighting Race," by Joseph I. C. Clarke.)

"Read out the names!" and Smith lolled back,
And Johnson calmly shaved,
While Brown—they call him Highbrow Jack—
Went down the list of the saved.
Managers, salesmen, clerks, stenogs,
Janitors, office boys, too,
Butchers, bakers and candlestick makers,
Printers and mixers of glue.
Then thinking of dollars knocked off his check,
Said Smith with a puzzled frown,
"We're all on that social list, by Heck,
Smith and Johnson and Brown."
"Well, it rates us a pension too small to mention,"
Said Smith and Johnson and Brown.

Bohemians of the Masonic Temple.

As the Masonic Temple, or Capitol building, meets its doom, I remember a merry, simple hearted organization which flourished in the drill hall on the sixteenth floor early in this century. It was called the Cypher club, and at its monthly meetings, for one dollar, you could dance to Ralph Ballou's band, and have free beer with pretzels and popcorn. Here is the motto that hung on the walls when the Cypher club was in session:

"A place that is dear to true Bohemians, a place where hearts beat high and hands clasp firm, where poverty is no disgrace, and where charity does not chill. A place where kindred virtues have fled for refuge and where Mrs. Grundy has no sway." The Ole Loophound.

If you are in need of a hobby, you might take up collecting decorative glass paper weights. An exhibit of more than 200, representing a private collection, is now on view at the Art institute. Historic sources of the oldest pieces are a town called St. Louis in Alsace-Lorraine; Baccart, in the Vosges mountains; and Clichy, a suburb of Paris, which produced a flower design called the Clichy Rose.

DAWN IN EARLY SPRING.

Morning! The wide blue heaven
Arches above the good earth, brown and bare;
To the broad fields a subtle veil is given
That shimmers in the beady air.

There is a budding in the tender dawn,
A budding by the wooded creek.
Lo, as we look soft greens are drawn
Over the woods we seek.

Trees feel their sap through every fiber rise
From the blind roots that grope
To the bare twigs that lace the skies
And swell with nascent hope.

The creek above its stones has heard
The bluejay's ringing shout;
Now, flowers that sleep where leaves are stirred,
Come, bring your nurslings out.

Willows by a River.

We followed the curve of the river that lay like the sweep of a gracious hand. On both sides the willows bent their lovely heads to catch the reflection of their doubled beauty in the water. There is no color in the world like the pale yellow-green of the willows in spring. It is as though they had caught up all the early sunshine, and held it imprisoned in each bursting bud. There is a subtle emanation, a misty beauty, that is breath taking at first sight. The willows are conscious of it, I think, for they hold themselves with light, proud grace, in attitudes of beauty. HODGKIN'S DISEASE STILL A POSER.

Whenever physicians are inclined to become a bit boastful we need only remind them of the vast areas of medical wilderness which remain uncharted. For example, what do we know about Hodgkin's disease? Little more than its name and something of its behavior; nothing of its cause or cure. Perhaps it, too, belongs to that great group of virus infections.

At any rate, it is well nigh malignant in character, attacking the lymph tissue and glands. It was first observed in 1832 by Thomas Hodgkin, who recorded a series of cases with enlarged spleen and lymph nodes. Since then more than fifty different names have been applied to the condition, among the most common of which are "lymph adenoma" and "pseudoleucemia." Unfortunately, the ailment is fairly widespread, occurring in young adults particularly. It is more frequent in males than in females.

Sometimes an infection seems to start the ball rolling and many a victim will relate that just prior to the onset he suffered an extreme sore throat or other form of ulceration within the mouth. An extension takes place from one gland to another and there may be bouts of fever.

As a rule, the budding of the illness is slow and months or even years may elapse before the structures beneath the arm or in the groin will become involved. At first the patient's health appears good. Sooner or later, however, anemia comes on which gradually increases in severity, the spleen becomes larger, tumors form within the chest, and as a result there may be a cough and difficulty in breathing. Skin lesions, including bronzing of the surface, may be noted.

The course of the malady continues for several years depending upon the care which the individual receives and there may come periods of spontaneous cessation in which the glands diminish in size, the fever disappears, and the general health approaches normal. As a rule the patients survive for from two to ten years, although one afflicted person is reported to have lived for twenty-six.

We have not yet discovered how to stop the advance of the disease. True enough, the swollen masses will recede under powerful doses of X-ray but there seems to be little value in treating the long bones—the blood forming factories—as was suggested a generation or two ago. Anemia must be combated as it develops and for this purpose transfusions are helpful. Puffiness of the tissues [edema] will respond to a program designed to rid the body of excess fluid.

Apparently arsenic has some specific influence and, in a few instances, its effects are striking but it may be that it is given at a time when there is a natural remission and more benefit is attributed to the drug than circumstances warant.

There is no test other than a careful clinical study of both the blood and the lymph glands upon which to base the diagnosis. The rabbit innoculation plan of Gordon is not considered reliable inasmuch as the same type of reaction can be produced with extracts of bone marrow or spleen.

If the diagnosis is fairly positive we must make up our minds that we are faced with a slowly progressive malady which inexorably will take its toll. The objective then is to keep the patient as comfortable as possible with nutrition maintained at a high level, as much out of door activity as is permissible, and the size of the glands kept within bounds by proper X-ray exposures. Certainly those tumors within the chest [mediastinal] must be attended to promptly, otherwise embarrassment of respiration or even circulation may ensue.

There is little or no pain—as a rule—but if distress is experienced which cannot be relieved by ordinary sedatives, there is no better use for pain-killing drugs. Other symptoms may be handled as they arise. For example, itching, which is sometimes intolerable, is often ameliorated by a tub bath in which a half teacupful of baking soda has been dissolved.

USE HEAT FOR STY.

T. R. writes: What is the treatment for a sty?

REPLY.

Apply heat until a yellow point arises, when the abcess should be opened by the physician. Then the pus discharges and the infection clears up in a day or two.

DO NOT MASSAGE.

P. A. writes: Is massage helpful in phlebitis?

REPLY.

Decidedly not, that is, if you want the patient to survive. If a fragment of the clot is loosened by rubbing, it may find its way to the lungs, causing serious complications.

LOW BLOOD PRESSURE.

L. I. writes: What diet is recommended in low blood pressure?

REPLY.

Diet is only one factor in this condition. On the whole, however, those with low levels should eat more than the average amount of protein, and the meals should contain between 2,500 and 3,000 calories daily.

ENLARGED HEART.

E. L. writes: Is an enlarged heart dangerous?

REPLY.

Not as a rule. If breathlessness ensues after exercise, it may be necessary to moderate the program of activity. But usually—if the muscle is intact—so-called athlete's heart may be disregarded.

NOT STOLEN—JUST TAKEN OVER.

Chicago, May 1.—Replying to Ned Alvord on the Mexican railroads. First—the railroads of Mexico were not stolen from their former foreign owners; they were taken over by the Trade Union of Railway Workers of the Mexican Republic to save them from the same plight of our American railroads. This procedure, together with the taking over of the foreign owned oil property, was absolutely necessary in order to save Mexico from wholesale looting by American interests who were not very particular about business ethics in dealing with Mexico and its people.

The Mexican Trade Union of Railway Workers was organized in 1933. Since that time they have encouraged the formation of credit unions and consumer coöperatives. A coöperative life insurance company was formed in 1934. Although the union has the right to educational assistance from the railroad administration, it has waived this and is doing its own comprehensive educational work. Forty-seven primary schools for railway workers' children have been organized. For children of itinerant workers the union has set in motion a plan which provides schools on wheels.

Boarding schools to give vocational instruction in Mexico City are now under construction. Scholarships are provided by the union in technical, professional and engineering schools, and arrangements have been made for scholarships in the national trade schools and universities through the national department of education. The union has set up libraries in each of its sections and it publishes, every ten days, a newspaper with a circulation of 68,000 copies.

Ned Alvord should not expect to obtain a true statement of conditions from those who are opposed to the new management of the Mexican railroads.

The workers on the Mexican railroads are much better cared for than the workers on our American railroads. Pensions are provided on the Mexican roads for men after thirty years of service and women after twenty-five years of service, or upon reaching the age of 60 years, or in case of incapacity for service. They also have a six day work week with payment for seven days; the union names all company officials, including doctors and nurses, and payment to all workers of full salary during illness with indemnification for injuries.

The hazards of travel on the Mexican railroads are no greater than they are elsewhere, taking into consideration, of course, the difference in size of the United States and Mexico and the number of trains operated in both countries.

ANTI-SOCIAL WORKER.

Hawthorne, Wis., April 29.—As an enthusiastic Tribune reader from a neighbor state, please let me thank you for the informing articles and editorials on the Illinois State School for Boys. And also for Mr. Orr's splendid cartoon picturing the triple alliance of corrupt politicians, alleged "social workers," and criminals. The St. Charles school is plainly a criminal hatching, crime-breeding establishment. Professional and semi-professional criminals, such as many of the "boys" entertained at St. Charles are, are made worse by the sob sisters and the professional sentimentalists. It is clear that the administration of the ordinary Juvenile court, under the direction of the social workers, is definitly engaged in the protection and production of criminals and the propagation of crime. To my mind it is not too much to say that THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, through its constant war on crime, criminals and corrupt politicians, is the most forceful single moral institution in the entire Mississippi valley. More power to the Tribune editors in this threefold conflict.

JOHN A. SIMPSON.

LOVE AT ST. CHARLES.

Chicago, April 28.—If the present set of adults continue their plans for the St. Charles School for Boys we shall have a good German concentration camp. One person loudly advised more strappings and beatings. Adults who cannot control children except by mutilating their bodies and breaking their spirits are failures. Love and understanding and a sense of security is what children need. Use the thousands of dollars for child psychologists and good food and fun instead of buying more guns and faster motorcycles.

R. S. B.

WHY NOT FEAR WAR?

Chicago, April 29.—The silly vaporings of Frank F. Patrick today make me weary. Why not fear war? Of course everything wrong, wicked, criminal is to be feared. History has proved repeatedly that war destroys civilization.

Grow up, Patrick, and then go to war if you want it—but don't try to drag my sons in. We feel no duty to support any European nation.

MOTHER OF SONS.

CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION.

Chicago, May 1.—In regard to the recently declared baby week, I wish to make a decided protest against the tactics used by the various orphanages and religious institutions.

They have photographs in the newspapers of little tots who are yearning for a home and are allegedly wondering if the world has no heart. They go to great lengths to inform the public of the number of homeless waifs they are harboring. The public is continually being buttonholed for tags and other forms of solicitations. That in itself is fine. There is no one who would decline giving a dime or so to such a worthy cause. But, here is the reason I am making this protest—try and get one of those children!

I have had application made at the Illinois Child Welfare association for two years, and I have not even had a case worker call at the house. I called repeatedly, but was always informed that the demand ran far higher than the supply. That may be true, but if it is then all the stories in the press are false.

I realize a person is investigated pretty thoroughly by such an institution before they will place a child in his home, but I defy them to find anything wrong with the home environment the child would have with me.

ORA J. NORTH.

WPA WAGES AND ALIEN CAUSES.

Chicago, May 1.—Joseph Kuligowski is all wrong when he suggests that money earned here, even on WPA and PWA projects, should be spent to support foreign armies. If he receives a WPA check I think he will see printed on same "Emergency Relief," not relief for Poland's army, but for himself and family. If he does not need this money he has no right to his job when thousands of certified needy are waiting for an opportunity to work. Same with PWA: all money for these projects is granted by our government to aid in recovering from a depression. And any private industry which knows of employés shipping their wages out of this country should promptly supplant them with those who will spend to keep our own factories open. All the alien-minded should heed the advice in a Tribune editorial this morning: "For their mutual benefit in these troubled times they should cast aside alien ties completely and be nothing but American."

CO-SIGNER ON LOAN.

Chicago, April 20.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—About a year ago I signed as a co-signer on a loan for a friend, the amount being $50. This party had not paid on the loan for months and there is a balance due of $12. The loan company now wants me to make good or will garnishee my wages.

1. Can the loan company garnishee my wages without writing or advising me?
2. If not [3], can I file suit against the company?
4. I know for a fact that garnishment will hurt my credit standing.
5. They should notify me by letter and I would take steps to iron it out.
6. Can the loan company garnishee the wages of the wife of the party who made the loan?

The person making the loan [7] is willing to pay, but on account of unemployment is unable at present.

8. I guess I am the goat now. J. P.

1. Garnishment would not be in order until they had obtained judgment against you, but if you executed a wage assignment then such preliminary court proceedings would not be necessary.
2. We will assume that you did not execute a wage assignment.
3. We see no basis for you to bring suit on the bare facts stated.
4. If they take the proper legal steps and tie up your wages by garnishment we see no basis for you to bring suit against them.
5. No preliminary letter would be necessary.
6. If the debt was for a family expense, then judgment could be obtained against her and it could be followed up with garnishment. The garnishment exemption is $20 per week to the head of a family. There is no exemption for other persons.
7. If this is the case, we see no reason for your asking for legal advice.
8. When you signed the contract you should have recognized that the only purpose of your signature was to cover this type of liability.

FIRST HUSBAND IS SPARED FROM SUPPORTING NO. 2

Judge Halves Alimony of $10,000 a Year.

A woman's first husband should not be forced to contribute to the support of her second.

This, in effect, was the decision yesterday of Judge Philip J. Finnegan in cutting in half the $10,000 yearly payment that Sidney Adler, 67 years old, retired Evanston attorney, has made his ex-wife since their divorce in 1922.

She is Mrs. Sara Adler Cowley-Brown, 63, who married John Stapleton Cowley-Brown, a writer, in 1924. She admitted she sent Cowley-Brown, who is now in Cuba, money for his support from time to time.

Upholds Ruling of Master.

Adler sued for a readjustment of his alimony payments in 1936 after paying her more than $135,000. Judge Finnegan assigned the hearing to Master in Chancery Otto C. Rentner. Yesterday Rentner recommended that the payments be reduced from $10,000 to $5,400. Judge Finnegan upheld him. The $5,400 constitutes the income from a trust fund which Adler set up for Mrs. Cowley-Brown when he divorced her for desertion.

Floyd E. Thompson, attorney for Adler, argued that an amendment to the state divorce act in 1933 provided that a divorced husband does not have to pay alimony after his former wife remarries.

"A second husband is a luxury which the first husband does not have to provide," said Thompson.

He asked that the annual payments in addition to the trust fund be voided back to 1933, when the law went into effect. These funds, totaling $14,000, have been held in escrow since 1936.

$14,000 Restored to Adler.

Alexander F. Reichmann, attorney for Mrs. Cowley-Brown, contended that the $10,000 annual payment was agreed upon both in the separation and divorce settlements and the court had no right to make the 1933 law retroactive.

Judge Finnegan, however, ruled that $4,600 of the sum was straight alimony and that the payment of this portion should be voided from the time of the petition in 1936. This would restore the $14,000 to Adler.

Reichmann said that he would appeal.

Testimony showed that Adler was rated in 1929 as a millionaire but now values his property at only $225,000. He lives at 839 Judson avenue, Evanston. Mrs. Cowley-Brown lives at the Chicago Beach hotel, 1660 Hyde Park boulevard.

MR. BEAN NEEDS HELP TO SWING A BEARISH DEAL

Visitors got a brief glimpse yesterday of two of the four baby black bears at the Brookfield zoo, but the other two stayed inside.

The four babies are two sets of twins and Edward H. Bean, director of the zoo, has been trying to persuade them all to come out into the sunshine for a stroll so visitors could get a peek at them. But the babies haven't given much heed to his blandishments.

The bears are about the size of fox terriers, but they are so shy they seldom leave their dens to take a look at the people who stand outside looking in.

DOCTOR SEIZED IN "WITCH BREW" MASS MURDERS

100 Insurance Killings Clews Sought.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 3.—[Special.] — Dr. Horace D. Perlman, a Philadelphia physician, was arrested today as a member of an insurance-murder ring that is believed to have taken at least 100 lives in eastern states.

The doctor was seized on a warrant charging him with accessory to murder. His medicines and office records were being compared with information given the police by Morris Bolber, an alleged leader of the ring, who is held on a charge of murder.

Widowed Dupes Also Killed.

As the investigation progresses, police learn more of the workings of the ring's dealings in death. Police Captain James Kelly said information gleaned from suspects revealed that the ring's master-minds killed not only men on whom they could collect insurance but the widows of these men. Thus they disposed of persons who might have become witnesses against them.

Two women slayers were quoted as saying that after giving poison to their husbands they were induced to take small doses of the same poison in the belief it was a magic potion, witch's brew, and would harm only those bewitched.

Women Tricked by "Magic."

"When a woman purchased the so-called witch's fluid she was told the charm would not work on her husband unless she took some of the liquid herself," Capt. Kelly related.

"Emphasis was placed on the magic properties of the fluid. Several bottles would be given to the women for $300. The buyers were instructed to take a teaspoonful of each bottle themselves and give the rest to their husbands.

"This arrangement killed the husbands quickly. The widows lived to collect the insurance and pay the ring its percentage for the murders. The accumulated effects of the poison then killed them."

Widow Held to U. S. Jury in $200 Extortion Attempt

Mrs. Gennie Chiocca of 1166 Armitage avenue was held to the federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday on a charge of attempted extortion. Federal agents said she picked up a dummy package placed on the spot where a letter signed "The Black Hand" ordered Giovanni Michelini of 2824 Fullerton avenue to leave $200. Mrs. Chiocca, widow of an acquaintance of Michelini, denied the charge.

BARRYMORE SUES FOR SEPARATION AND ACCOUNTING

Fourth Wife Defendant in $300,000 Action.

[A. P. Wirephoto.]

New York, May 3.—[Special.]—John Barrymore, stage and movie actor, brought suit for seperation today against his fourth wife, Elaine Barrie, 24 years old. He also named Miss Barrie, her mother, Mrs. Edna Jacobs, and their financial adviser, David Fisher, defendants in an action for an accounting of an estimated $300,000 of his funds.

Barrymore, now 57 years old, was quoted by his counsel as having expressed regret that circumstances compelled him to assume an ungallant rôle such as he had not taken in separations from his other mates.

Actor Takes Initiative.

"In every other divorce proceeding brought against me by my previous wives I have always, out of a sense of chivalry, not contested these suits," Attorney Maurice Hotchner said the actor told him by telephone from Omaha. "But this is different. This time I am taking the initiative."

Miss Barrie left her husband's touring comedy, in which she had been taking a part as his daughter, at St. Louis last Saturday. Barrymore wearily explained at the time that "we're just two people who didn't hit it off together."

Actress' Decree Set Aside.

The romantic young actress, who won the middle aged Barrymore after an amusing pursuit across the country, divorced him on April 23, 1937, but subsequently had the decree set aside.

Their marriage, after a romance interspersed with numerous public tiffs, took place on Nov. 9, 1936, when they eloped to Yuma, Ariz.

Barrymore's accounting action complained that his wife, her mother, and their adviser had conspired maliciously to defraud him of funds which had been placed in their hands to purchase certain property for him.

The three had been given the power under a 1935 contract, the actor said, to draw upon bank accounts here and in Los Angeles and Hollywood banks. They subsequently bought a Hollywood home, the title of which they wrongfully entered in Mrs. Barrymore's name, and neglected to turn over to him the property and money remaining in their possession, Barrymore charged.

JILTED ADMIRER GETS LIFE FOR KILLING WOMAN

Sycamore, Ill., May 3.—[Special.]—Entering a plea of guilty, John Luoma, 31 years old, of De Kalb, was sentenced today by Judge William Fulton to serve ninety-nine years in the state prison for the murder of his former sweetheart, Rose Krist, 30. Luoma shot Miss Krist April 4 when she told him she had sold a diamond ring he had given to her.

Luoma testified that for years he had suffered from diabetes and that at the time of the shooting he was frantic because of having been jilted by the girl, with whom he had kept company for six years.

Luoma made no attempt to escape after shooting Miss Krist. Fifteen minutes after he fired the shots he walked into the police station in De Kalb and surrendered.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD
Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

WIEBOLDT TRUCK DRIVERS RETURN; PEACE RESTORED

Service Back to Normal; Arbiters Map Action.

Officials of the Wieboldt Stores, Inc., reported their trucking service was back on a normal basis yesterday. Seventy-four union truck drivers and helpers, who had been away from their jobs since a dispute arose with the trucking unions last April 6, reported for work.

A garage foreman was said to have ordered some of the men who returned wearing union buttons to remove the insignia. The workers appealed to Attorney Daniel D. Carmell, general counsel for the teamsters' unions. He telephoned Elmer F. Wieboldt, president of the stores, who directed that the men should be allowed to wear any badges they pleased.

Peace Board Meets Tomorrow.

The three man arbitration board, which was appointed Tuesday and granted full authority to draw up a settlement, will meet at noon tomorrow in the chambers of Federal Judge Otto Kerner, its chairman.

The other members are Elmer Stevens, vice president of Charles A. Stevens & Co., the Wieboldt representative, and Attorney Carmell, who will represent the unions.

The board is to fix a date for an employé election to determine the official bargaining agent.

Kelly Asks Quick Action.

Mayor Kelly, whose intervention, both directly and through the council labor committee, headed by Ald. William A. Rowan [10th], was credited with ending the dispute, urged the committee to act with speed to bring about a lasting settlement.

Additional detectives were assigned yesterday by both the city and state's attorney's police to the hunt for the killers of James Lawrence, the Wieboldt truck helper who was shot and killed by terrorists last April 12. Settlement of the strike, it was reiterated yesterday, did not terminate the search for the slayers.

PUT GARBAGE HAULERS BACK ON 5 DAY WEEK

The city's 1,900 garbage collectors went back on a five day week yesterday under a compromise arranged by Mayor Kelly between members of the council finance committee and the officials who put the collectors on a four day week Monday.

The four day week was ordered by Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, and Robert B. Upham, controler. These officials said the reduction was necessary to spread the $7,884,665 appropriation for the service over the entire year. Aldermen protested that householders are complaining and many loyal political workers are among the laborers whose time and pay check have been cut. The mayor persuaded the four day week advocates to restore the five day week for two weeks until a search is made for other places to save money.

U. S. BARGE LINE IS TIED UP BY C. I. O. STRIKERS

Government Refuses to Protect Loyal Men.

torney General Frank Murphy, asking that he force the barge lines to stop advertising for nonunion help. This alleged violation of the national labor relations act occured at Vicksburg, the union charges.

Murphy Permits Sitdowns.

Murphy, as governor of Michigan, permitted the sitdown strikes by the C. I. O. in plants of General Motors in 1937.

During John L. Lewis' drive to organize all industries, the river was more or less forgotten. One reason for this was that some of the private lines used colored deck help. No labor union has had any luck organizing Negroes in the south.

Then it was found that the government, the Mississippi valley barge lines and one or more others employed only white deck hands, cooks, oilers and strikers [engine room apprentices]. The organization campaign was started early in 1938. The present strike was called for May 1, but actually was started on April 27, lers at Cairo, Ill., refused to tie up the towboat Cairo.

Capt. C. S. Hamilton, master and pilot of the Cairo, radioed to Memphis for instructions. [All government towboats are equipped with short wave radio.]

"They [the strikers] knew what we were going to do as soon as we did, and blocked us at every turn," said Capt. Hamilton. "Undoubtedly they have a wireless operator in each town who catches the broadcasts to and from the federal boats. They have called to us from the shore, using exact quotes from messages sent to us."

Cairo Police Helpless.

Blocked at Cairo, the barge line ordered Capt. Hamilton to Memphis. On Tuesday the captain drove to the North Cairo station to catch an Illinois Central train, hoping to avoid C. I. O. pickets. Just as the train was pulling into the station, five men jumped from an automobile and beat him until he was rescued by Illinois Central special agents who saw him safely aboard the train.

Previously a delegation of them came aboard the boat, he said. "They told us that if we attempted to move the Cairo, they would drop dynamite on the tow from the Illinois-Kentucky highway bridge. I think they meant it."

The Cairo police force, of less than fifty men, is hopelessly outnumbered by the strikers and pickets, said to number more than 500. The towboat Cairo still was there yesterday.

In New Orleans on Sunday five officers—pilots and engineers—were besieged all day aboard the towboat Natchez. When they finally came ashore they were slugged by a gang of more than twenty men. At the height of the fighting—during which the officers were beaten to the ground—several shots were fired from the shore. These struck the superstructure of the Natchez.

United States District Attorney Rene A. Viosca has informed barge line officials here that they are not entitled to protection by the federal government. A few years ago an injunction could have been granted, halting sabotage and violence. The La Guardia act of 1932 makes that impossible now.

If some one is killed or Federal property is disfigured, then the government can act.

The strikers demand higher pay and shorter hours. They demand the removal of Gen. T. Q. Ashburn, who has been the guiding genius of the barge lines since 1919. In addition they ask the ouster of Capt. Patton, H. R. Odell, operating manager; Glen Taylor, superintendent of all terminals, and Barry of New Orleans.

KITE FINALISTS GO ON THE AIR AT W-G-N TODAY

Will Tell Plans for Big Show Saturday.

Seven of the 372 finalists in the Chicago Tribune kite contest will take to the air at 5:15 this afternoon on radio station W-G-N. They will be interviewed by Fabian E. Kardes, craft technician of the Chicago park district which coöperated in the contests. Plans will be discussed for the final contest in Grant park Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

The entrants who will speak on the radio and the parks they represent are Mildred Marek, 14, and Dolores Becker, 13, Cornell Square; Louis Vella, 14, Armour Square; George Smerz, 17, Dvorak; Edythe Porter, 25, and Henry Klein, 14, Waveland, and Charles Sandrich, 17, Lafollette.

All Welcome at Finals.

During the broadcast an invitation will be given to thousands of boys and girls in and near Chicago—and to older folks, too—to take part in the grand finale of Saturday's exhibition. Promptly at 1:30 o'clock, after eight TRIBUNE silver loving cups have been awarded to the winners, all followers of this sport, regardless of whether they entered the contests or not, are privileged to fly their kites. The largest number of kites ever seen at one time is expected to take to the air.

Victor K. Brown, chief of recreation in the parks, announced the following contest classifications and judges: Artistic, Alice Boyer, Georgia Chingren, and Ray Mitchell; novelty, Miss Beyer, Florence Kiefer, and Erving Geller; hand and mechanical winding, solo box, and messenger event, Andrew R. Ackerman, Miss Chingren, Miss Kiefer, George Anderson, Mr. Geller, and Mr. Mitchell; largest and smallest kites, Ralph V. Pierce. Assisting Mr. Kardes will be H. C. Bart, J. J. Rappold, and S. J. Meuris.

Parking Space Provided.

The contest, which climaxes a series of competitions in which more than 9,000 kites were entered from seventy-nine parks, will be held in Hutchinson field, just north of the band shell in Grant park. Parking space for cars will be provided in lots east of Field museum and north of the Administration building.

There will be no admission fee for spectators. Should the weather be inclement the finals will be held the following Saturday.

JARECKI UPHOLDS CITY IN $3,700,000 TAX LEVY ATTACK

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday ruled in favor of the city in a $3,700,000 attack upon the municipality's 1937 tax levy. In that year the city adopted a budget totaling $52,000,000 but failed to set up an item in it for loss and cost of tax collections.

To provide such a fund, however, the city sent out tax bills totaling approximately $55,700,000. Attorney Pomeroy Sinnock, representing a group of large taxpayers, contended this extra levy was illegal because it was not specified in the budget. Judge Jarecki ruled otherwise, however, after Assistant Corporation Counsel Joseph F. Grossman contended the taxpayer knows the purpose of this reserve and that his payments are not increased by it.

GENERAL MOTORS GMAC INSTALMENT PLAN

At this time of year, YOU —like so many other people— may feel "PLAYED OUT"

To help overcome this tired, sluggish feeling, extra vitamins—more than ordinary meals provide—are often needed. Get them this effective way —in the new High-Vitamin Yeast

Why vitamins in Fresh Yeast can offer MORE EFFECTIVE HELP than vitamins alone

YOU MAY BE taking care to get plenty of vitamins. But are you feeling the benefits you expected? If not, it may be because your digestion is not working properly.

Then, you may need both extra vitamins and aid for slow digestion—to help you make fuller use of the vitamins you eat.

This double help is offered you by Fleischmann's new High-Vitamin Yeast.

More of 4 Vitamins—Most other foods contain significant amounts of only one or two vitamins, but this improved High-Vitamin Yeast supplies four! It now gives you richer amounts than ever of Vitamins A, B_1, D and G—of special importance in helping to maintain good general resistance, steady nerves, firm bones and healthy digestion, and in helping you feel energetic and buoyantly well.

Fresh Yeast's "Booster Action" —More than this—eating vitamins in fresh yeast helps "boost" their assimilation. The yeast, by helping to increase the flow of digestive juices in the stomach, aids in stimulating slow digestion. In this way, it helps you take up the vitamins you eat more quickly and thoroughly—offers more complete results than just vitamins alone.

Start today to get these extra vitamins you may need. See for yourself what a difference this eating vitamins-in-fresh-yeast can make.

VITAMIN A—6200 UNITS (Int.)
VITAMIN B_1— 300 UNITS (Int.)
VITAMIN D— 800 UNITS (Int.)
VITAMIN G—100-120 UNITS (Sh. Bour.)

All the average person needs (plus meals) of Vitamins A, B_1, D—and a rich supply of Vitality Vitamin G. Eat one cake ½ hour before breakfast or lunch, one ½ hour before supper. Or, if you prefer, eat the 2 cakes at one time. Simply eat it plain, or in a little water or milk.

FINE 15 IN FIRST DRIVER LICENSE COURT ACTIONS

Confiscate Permits of 2 Wild Motorists.

Fifteen motorists were fined yesterday for failure to get drivers' licenses. Two others, sentenced to jail as reckless drivers, had their licenses confiscated. This was the first court action under the new drivers' license law, which became effective Monday.

Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court yesterday ordered policemen to compel violators to post a $25 cash bond at the nearest police station instead of being given a summons.

7,260 Get Trafic Tickets.

Since Monday 7,260 summonses have been issued in the trafic campaign against motorists who lack drivers' licenses, vehicle licenses and up to date safety lane stickers. City and park district police issued 2,094 summonses between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. yesterday. Evidence of results was seen in the city clerk's office. The receipts for vehicle licenses rose from $57,297 on Monday to $75,132 Tuesday and nearly $100,000 yesterday.

In the Trafic court Judge John Gutknecht imposed $5 fines plus $5 costs on fifteen out of thirty-nine motorists charged with violating the drivers' license law. The others were discharged when they showed licenses or license application receipts obtained since their arrest.

In Safety court Judge Thomas A. Green adopted another policy. Any motorist convicted of a trafic offense, he said, will lose his license for a long period of time.

Confiscates Two Licenses.

Judge Green then confiscated the licenses of Michael Blackburn, 42 years old, 815 Wellington avenue, an ex-convict, and Miss Margaret McDonald, 31, 1714 North Central avenue. Blackburn was sentenced to the Bridewell for ninety days for leaving the scene of an accident. His license will be suspended for one year. Miss McDonald's license was revoked for ninety days and she was sentenced to two days in the county jail for reckless driving.

A TWICE ROBBED GIRL LEADS OWN MANHUNT POSSE

Miss Virginia Norton organized a manhunt last night, tracked down the man she said had robbed her, and turned him over to the police.

Miss Norton, who is 20 years old, was behind the counter of a cleaning shop at 3771 Broadway when a man who robbed her of $3 and a suit a week ago came in. "You're back," she said. "Yes," he answered. "Give me the money." She handed him the $1.76 in the till. But she didn't obey orders to stay where she was.

As soon as he was out of the shop she ran out after him. Stopping two husky men, she told them to follow her and catch a robber. They did. Two blocks away she pointed out John Murphy of 673 North Clark street. The pair captured him and held him until police arrived. Then they departed without giving their names. Murphy denied the accusation. Miss Norton, who lives at 935 Belle Plaine avenue, identified him.

BAD CHECK ARTIST HELD.

Kankakee, Ill., May 3.—[Special.]—Posing as an army officer on a horse buying mission here, John R. Litzinger, 41 year old window washer of Allentown, Pa., cashed worthless checks totaling $33, according to police. He was ordered held in $1,000 bond to the grand jury.

....when you regain healthy per·i·stal·sis

Perfect timing ... drive ... lift ... they all depend on your inner stride!

This stride is kept going by the motion of the intestines. It's a rhythmic contracting and expanding. Per-i-stal-sis, by name. You don't notice the motion when it's healthy, normal; but when it falters, you're soon aware of a constipated feeling.

Often a gentle but thorough flushing-out is advisable...to remove accumulated waste...to give peristalsis a fair chance. Eno can help you—then.

What fluid-action means

Eno brings needed moisture to the intestines from other parts of the body. It encourages mild stimulation. Gently, waste matter is flushed away—by this fluid-action... this stimulation. You've helped clear the way for healthy peristalsis.

You "alkalize", too

Bubbly, refreshing Eno does more than cleanse. It alkalizes—helps neutralize excess stomach acids. Remember this extra benefit.

Regain healthy peristalsis! Feel drive...force...lift return, when you hit your inner stride. Get Eno now at your druggist's.

MOTORIST NODS WHILE DRIVING; KILLED IN CRASH

Philip Attardo, 49 years old, 918 West Newport avenue, was killed yesterday when his auto hit a railroad overpass on highway 20 ten miles west of Michigan City, Ind. Police expressed the belief that he had fallen asleep at the wheel.

Three boys riding on bicycles were seriously injured last night when they were struck by an automobile at California avenue and Jackson boulevard. The motorist fled after the accident. The victims are Felix Stella, 15, and his brother Frank, 14, of 2939 Van Buren street, and Leo Romano, 14, of 2655 Wilcox street. The Stella brothers were riding on one bicycle. At the Washington Boulevard hospital it was said the condition of Felix is serious.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 301 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of this number 233 were killed in Chicago, where 6,447 were injured during the same period.

CITY VOTES $20,000 FOR CONGRESS ST. PROJECT SURVEY

The city council yesterday appropriated $20,000 for preliminary surveys by the city bridge division in connection with the proposed opening and widening of Congress street from Michigan avenue to the western city limits.

A week ago an attempt to make this appropriation from the traction fund was blocked when Mayor Kelly questioned its legality. The latest order provides for taking the money out of the motor fuel tax fund.

Permission of the state highway department to spend this sum was asked in a companion order passed by the council. Under the terms of the $18,000,000 subway grant from the PWA, the city must complete its plans for the Congress street project by July 1.

AN EX-SHOWMAN RINGS CURTAIN DOWN ON RELIEF

Achieves Independence with Parking Lot.

[This is another of a series of stories about persons whose pride and enterprise have kept them off relief.]

Herbert Fryer hates to see any one go on relief. He says that relief breaks a man's spirit and those who take relief are, in a way, committing suicide.

Fryer, who is 54 years old, operates a parking lot at Clark and Erie streets. Most of his customers are show people—vaudeville or circus performers. Fryer used to be in the show business himself. He rode a bicycle, and Martha, his wife, balanced on his shoulders.

"The parking lot may be a shoestring business," he says, "but it puts the ham and beans on for us. When I started it I was scratching hardpan. But I said: 'The hell with relief. I'm as smart as the other guy.' So I got the owner of this lot to let me clean it up and operate it on a 50-50 basis. I split the profits with him instead of paying rent. That was in 1930. Two years later I began renting the lot.

A Honey of a Year.

"Nineteen thirty-two. That was a honey of a year! Performers used to come in here from all over the country—broke. They were playing saloons for peanuts. I used to finance 'em a little and tip 'em off to jobs. A lot of 'em are working on the big-time right now. One team is on Broadway and another's on a two-year contract in Texas."

About 80 per cent of the money Fryer lends is paid back.

"You have to charge the 20 per cent off to experience," he says cheerfuly. "Although the only reason you don't get it back is that the people who borrow it haven't got it. Every man is technically honest, I think."

Even now, if one of his customers can't pay when he comes for his car, Fryer hasn't the heart to make trouble about it. His customers, he feels, are his friends.

It All Averages Up.

"Where would I get by holding his car?" he asks. "It would just stop the poor guy from getting to a job somewhere else. Besides, it all averages up. Nobody's sitting on top of the world and nailed there. They all get it one day or another. And a man's lost if he hasn't got mercy in his heart."

Fryer also has a job as janitor for two buildings, and has managed to start a little bank account.

Mr. and Mrs. Fryer live in an apartment behind the parking lot. They have no children.

Some Advice: Hustle!

"I'm too good a hustler to go on relief," he says. "And my dad was a hustler before me. My sisters have married well and my brothers all have good jobs. Do you think I'm going to be a failure with them on top of the world? I've never done so well, but I got the courage to fight for my living. And I don't owe any man a penny.

"I'd stake my life I could leave town tomorrow with $5 in my pocket and never be in want, barring sickness. I could ask fifty men for a job and get turned down by all of 'em and be just as fresh on the fifty-first."

He thought for a moment.

"Ten thousand refusals wouldn't discourage me," he said.

URGES CHICAGO'S REDISTRICTING AS A SPUR TO STATE

Ald. Frank Keenan [49th] suggested yesterday that the city council set an example for the Illinois legislature by redistricting the wards to eliminate discrepancies in population and voting precincts.

A resolution he introduced in the council said that ward populations range from 30,696 to 76,009 and voting precincts from 34 to 103. The city's last redistricting was in 1931.

Recently the council indorsed a bill pending before the legislature calling for a reapportionment of Illinois legislative districts. Such a move has been blocked by downstate members of the assembly since 1901, despite the fact that the state constitution requires a legislative reapportionment after every census.

CAPTAIN WILBUR, 86, GREAT LAKES VETERAN, IS DEAD

Funeral services for Capt. Oscar Wilbur, 86 years old, will be held at 3:30 p. m. today in his home at 1030 Loyola avenue. Capt. Wilbur died Tuesday. He is believed to have been one of the oldest seamen to hold a master's papers on the Great Lakes.

He began sailing on fishing vessels when he was 11. When steam came in he became a mate and then a captain. He held his last command, on the City of Grand Rapids, about twelve years ago, although he had not sailed regularly for about forty years. He had renewed his papers each year.

For thirty years he owned and operated the dock property at Charlevoix, Mich. He retired seven years ago and came to Chicago to live with a daughter, Mrs. Calla Cline, and a son, Albert A. Wilbur.

Found Dead in Garage; Missing Since March 31

Albert T. Smith, 46 years old, 923 George street, was found dead late yesterday in his garage behind 2817 North Halsted street. He had been missing since March 31. He was found when the owner of the garage came to collect his rent. The ignition switch of Smith's car was still on, the gasoline tank was empty, and the garage was locked. Mrs. Smith said her husband, an auto salesman, had been in financial difficulties.

TRACTION LAW NEGOTIATORS TO CONFER MONDAY

Negotiations for a new city traction ordinance will get under way Monday morning when the three man committee representing the transit lines will meet with the city council's transportation committee. This was announced late yesterday by Ald. James R. Quinn [50th] chairman of the council committee, following a conference with Mayor Kelly.

The mayor met yesterday morning with representatives of the transit lines and the city. The conferees were Ald. Quinn, Philip Harrington, commissioner of subways and traction, and the three negotiators for the transit lines appointed Monday by the Federal court. The three are Walter A. Shaw, chairman; Guy A. Richardson, president of the surface lines, and Col. A. A. Sprague, trustee for the elevated lines.

Mayor Kelly pointed out that the terms of the subway grant by the Public Works administration require the city council to approve a unified traction ordinance by July 1.

4TH UNLICENSED RADIO AMATEUR CAUGHT BY U. S.

Robert Rittinger, 21 years old, was held yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker for a hearing Saturday on a charge of operating an amateur radio station without a license in the basement of his home at 3418 Douglas boulevard. He was the fourth unlicensed amateur to be arrested in the last two weeks. After neighbors complained of interference with reception on their radios, federal agents found Rittinger's station by a portable direction finder. Rittinger built the set himself for $150. He operated in the 160 meter wave band, using the call letters W9RIS.

DR. SLAYMAKER, CHICAGO MEDICAL LEADER, IS DEAD

Dr. Samuel R. Slaymaker, 74 years old, died early yesterday in the Washington Boulevard hospital of which he had been president for the last twelve years. Services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the Rosehill cemetery chapel.

Dr. Slaymaker was a professor of medicine in Rush Medical college, from which he received his medical degree in 1892. He had been on the Rush faculty for forty years. He had been on the Washington Boulevard hospital staff for twenty-five years and was an assisting attending physician at the Presbyterian hospital. He was also on the attending staff of County hospital. He was a past president of the Chicago Society for Internal Medicine. He held the rank of major in the army medical corps during the war and was chief of medical service in the government hospital at Rahway, N. J. He also was a lieutenant-colonel in the army reserve.

Dr. Slaymaker lived at 39 South Central Park avenue with his sister, Miss Letitia Slaymaker. A brother, Henry M. Slaymaker of New Hope, Pa., also survives.

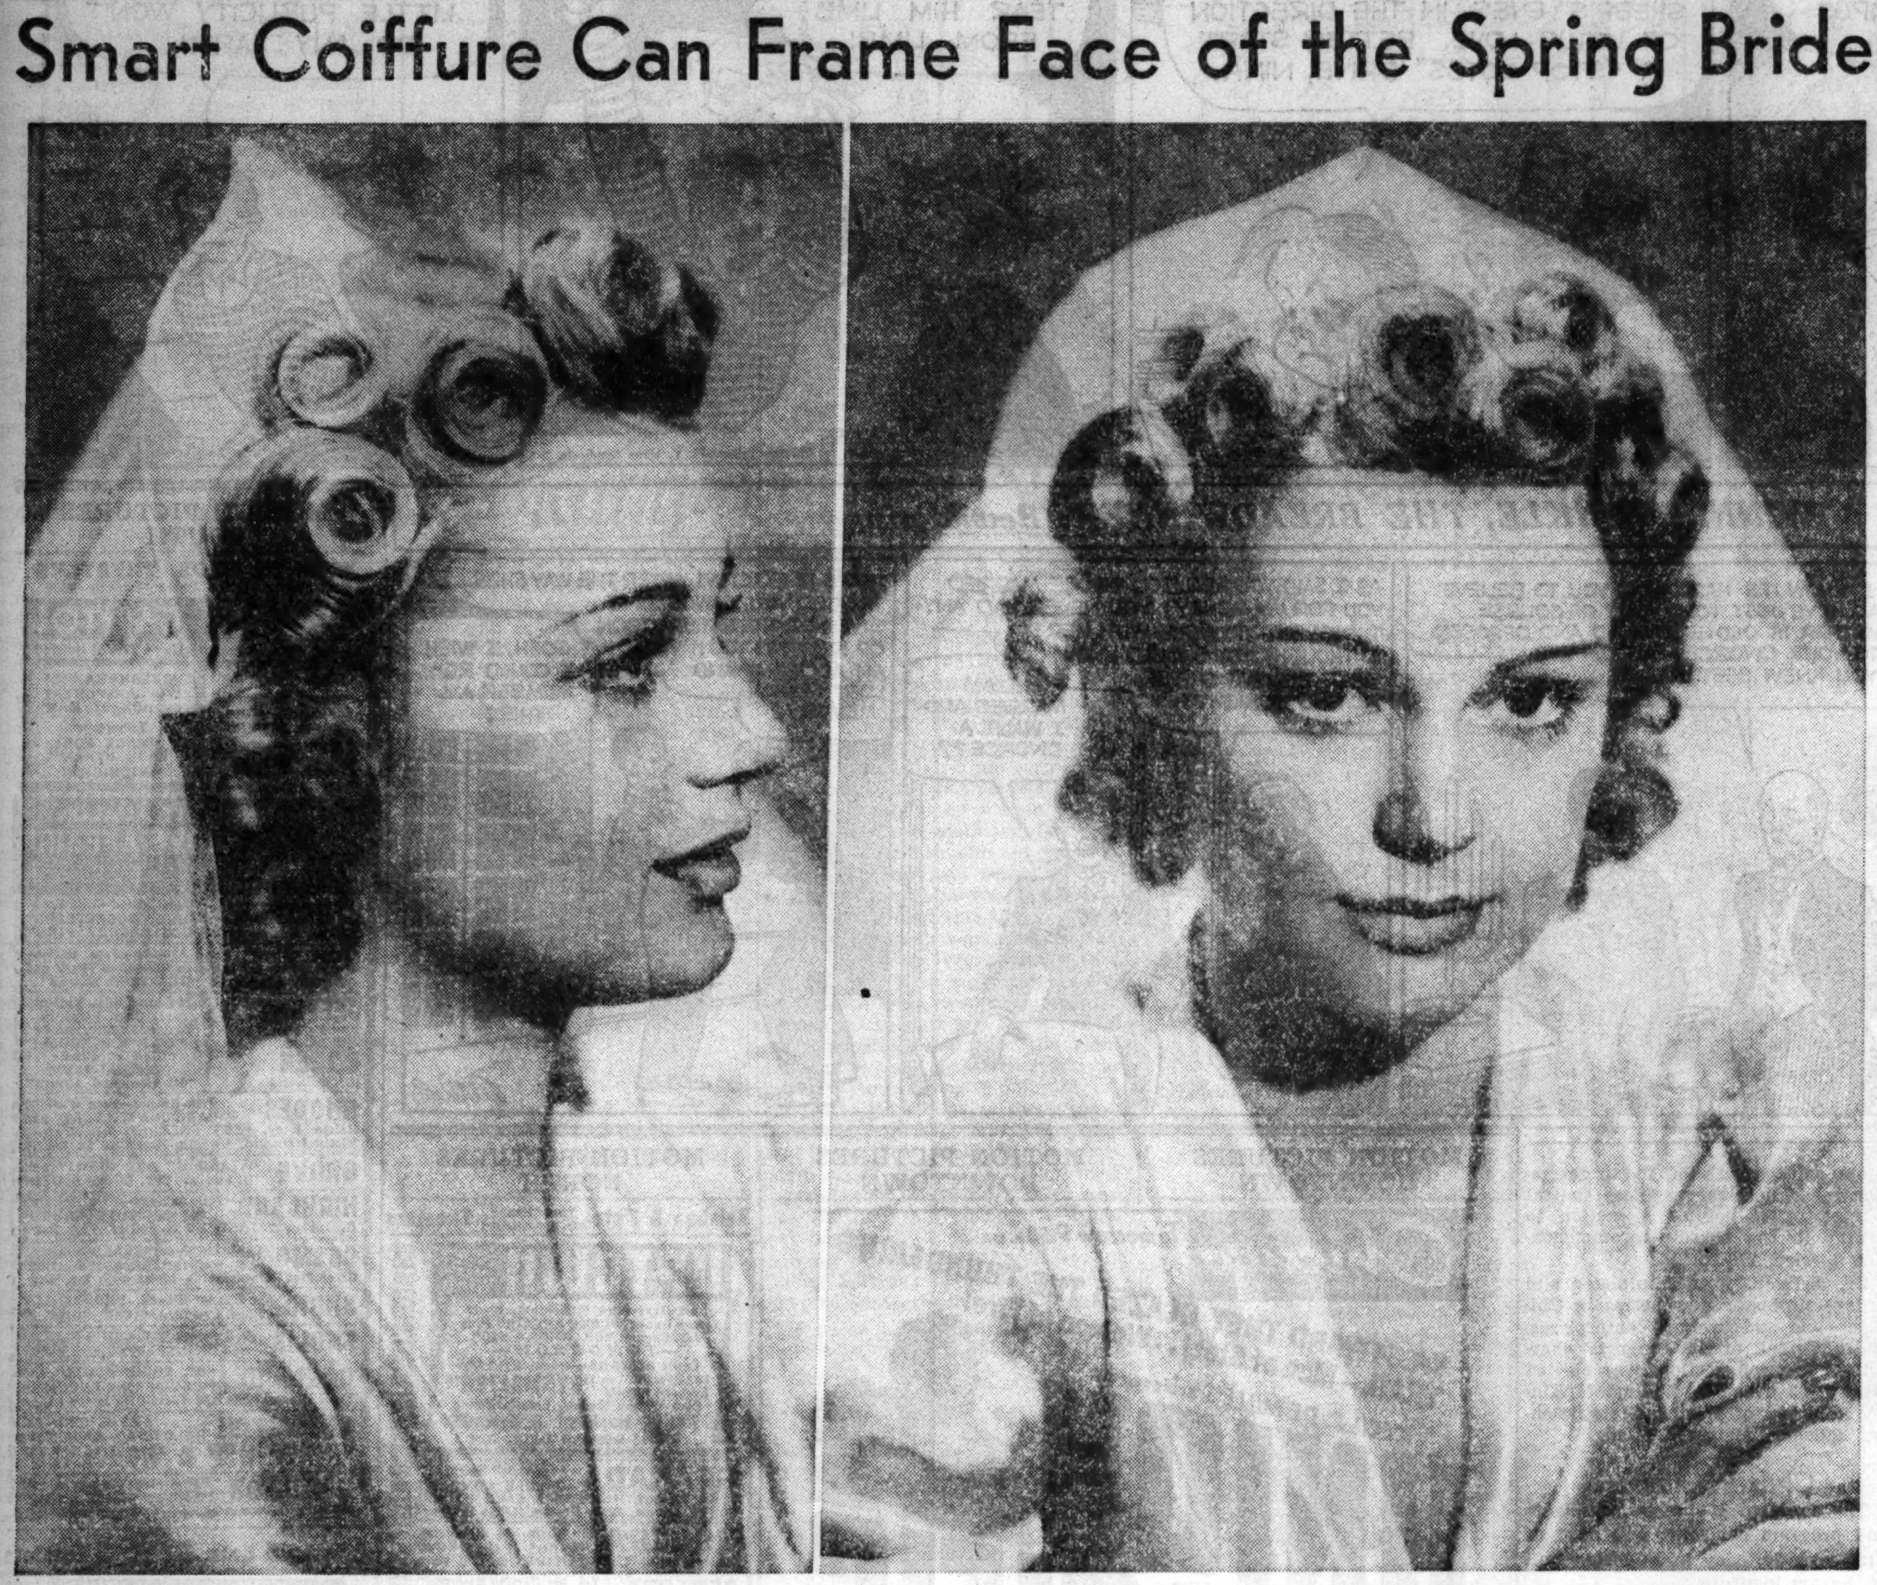
Smart Coiffure Can Frame Face of the Spring Bride



[TRIBUNE Studio Photos.]

A coiffure for the spring bride, especially designed to make a flattering face frame and to complement the veil arrangement. Soft, plump curls are massed in a becoming arrangement rather high around the face and gathered into a roll at the neckline in back. The crown is perfectly smooth. Coiffure by style committee, Chicago and Illinois Hairdressers' association.

Hints to May or June brides:

For that day on which you want to look your loveliest you should do some careful beauty shopping. Experiment with makeups until you find the one that gives your face the greatest radiance against the gown you wear whether it be white, shell pink, or a vivid daytime color. A really picturesque bride is the one whose face—all glowing and happy—is what the onlookers remember better than they do the cloud of tulle or the cut of the gown.

Remember that your hair can be as flattering a frame as the arrangement of your veil. It should enhance the veil arrangement. Experiment with coiffures, too, "fitting" the head dress to the hair style.

The style committee of the Chicago and Illinois Hairdressers' association advocates "pretty" coiffures for brides, very soft and girlish, with lines that compliment the individual veil arrangement. In the hairdress pictured above very plump, very soft curls are the immediate frame for the face. Above and slightly in back of them the coronet rises stiffly to give the regal effect with no sacrifice of flattery. The hair is smooth on the crown, but massed in the same soft curls just along the neckline.

The wise bride has her hair done the day before the wedding, so it does not look stiff or freshly set on the great day. Most shops will arrange to have one of their hairdressers come to the bride's home to give the coiffure the final, finished touch.

Most shops will arrange to do the makeups of the bride and her attendants just before the ceremony, too, a service that any bride will find invaluable. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Avers Genetics Could End All Human Disease

BY BETTY BROWNING.

Disease, both mental and physical, can be bred out of the human race, Dr. Maude Slye, director since 1911 of the cancer research laboratory of the University of Chicago, declared yesterday. She spoke at the 44th convention of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs at the Hotel Sherman.

The white haired scientist predicted that "the future war against cancer and other diseases will be based on the science of genetics. We humans require a recipe for a pudding, but think none is needed for our greatest product, children. Yet by selective breeding we can eliminate disease of the mind and the body."

Human records of clinical and autopsy findings should be kept as a matter of routine, Dr. Slye urged. "We keep a record of business and property transactions as a matter of course. It is certainly more important to keep records of those who will run the businesses and own the properties."

Human records would revolutionize the practice of medicine, Dr. Slye explained. "The patient now is largely an x-quality to his physician. By consulting the patient's medical history and that of his forbears it would be possible for the physician to make a diagnosis and prescribe treatment with amazing accuracy," she declared.

Dr. Slye based her conclusions on thirty years of laboratory experiments with white mice, which, she said, "are almost exactly like humans, except that they walk on four feet."

In her laboratory Dr. Slye has bred more than 100 generations of white mice, and has recorded the history of each mouse. She has been able to produce "Methuselah" mice which live in perfect health to three years of age and finally die "like run down clocks." Nine months is the normal old age for a mouse. She even can predict the cause and the time of death for her mice. She can breed a mouse that is certain to die of cancer, or one that is equally certain to be free of all disease.

Through her experiments with mice Dr. Slye has found that susceptibility to cancer is inheritable. An external irritant which unfailingly produces cancer in a susceptible strain has no such effect in a strain with ancestry free of cancer.

Dr. Slye is trying to evolve a race of mice on which to test the theory that human diet may be responsible for the fact that tumors of the dietary tract are most common in man, least common in animals.

"Man is the only animal that eats his food hot, that consumes spices, alcohol, and other stimulants, and that chronically overeats—when he gets the chance," Dr. Slye commented. "But so far I have not tested the possibility that his diet produces cancer in mice. The diet kills every mouse that has tried it."

The federation elected Mrs. Fred M. Tuckerman vice president of the northern region. She defeated her opponent, Mrs. George A. Harriman, by a margin of thirty-seven votes. Mrs. F. Percy Boynton was elected recording secretary without opposition. All three are Chicagoans.

Gingham Insets Used in Girdles for the Summer

BY RHEA SEEGER.

There's no end to the rage for gingham. Shoppers will not be too surprised over the new foundation girdles with gingham front and back panels. Late spring and summer stuff, especially designed and priced for career girl. Every one likes them at first glance. Trim, smooth, crisp, and neat as a pin this tiny checked gingham loot is the answer to all the laundry problems of the season.

The girdles are miracles of smooth fit and have no boning. A side zipper keeps the under streamline smooth and flat. The matching brassieres have small insets of the same gingham combined with cool airy white net. Choose from four clean cool color combines . . . yellow and white, pink and white, green and white, or China blue and white. Side panels are of fine quality washable lastex in white.

Another color find . . . the girdle-panties and matching brassiere in pastel tinted cotton net lastex . . . made by a well known designer of easy to wear smoothies for the slim younger streamlines.

They're small fluffs of color in the hand, but they stretch smoothly and with suave control on the bodylines. Yellow, pale blue, chartreuse, and a good black are the shades that should be especially appealing to all. The prices are way down and all of the finds tub with ease, dry speedily and need no pressing afterward.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

KIND: Unconvincing racketeer melodrama with most of its scenes laid in a penal institution.

ACTING and DIRECTION: Far better than the story merits.

STORY: Sings of political corruption which undermines the workings of a state penitentiary. . . . Lots of action—most of it pretty incredible.

DIALOG: No!

PHOTOGRAPHY, SOUND, SETS: All right.

AUDIENCE APPEAL: Depends on the audience. For this observer—none.

See you soon.

The twenty-fifth annual spring luncheon of the Chicago Woman's Musical club will be held today at the Blackstone hotel. Guests will be presidents of other musical organizations, music critics, and the judges in the contest for young musicians sponsored annually by the club.

Chicagoans to Join Traditional Tour of Ranches

BY JUDITH CASS.

NOT all horse lovers who leave Chicago this week will be heading for Louisville, for some will be going west to ride in Los Rancheros Visitadores, which starts from the Santa Barbara mission on Sunday.

Only a handful will be going west, to be sure, compared to the large numbers who will go south to watch the running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs on Saturday. That handful, however, will have a full week of riding, not watching, and visiting all the great ranches of northern California.

At night the riders—200 strong—camp in the open. It takes half as many men to pitch camp and cook and groom the horses as there are riders, so there are about 300 in the cavalcade.

John J. Mitchell was one of those who helped to revive the old Spanish custom of Los Rancheros Visitadores ten years ago. He and some of his good friends will be among the "dons" in picturesque clothes who will assemble at the old mission on Sunday to receive the blessing of the padre before starting on the journey. Some of the Chicagoans who have been able to accept his invitation this year are Lucius B. Manning, Earle Zimmerman, Shepherd Roberts, Lawrence Whiting, Kenneth Curtis and Leslie Gordon. Mr. and Mrs. Manning went west last Sunday; Mr. and Mrs. Roberts and Mr. Gordon left Tuesday so that they could have a glimpse of the San Francisco fair first; and the others go in a day or two.

Mrs. Manning, Mrs. Roberts, and Mrs. Curtis will spend next week with Mrs. Mitchell at El Rancho Juan y Lolita, where the riders will spend Saturday night, the 13th. The other wives were not able to go west just now, so they will miss the festivities this year.

Saturday night, the 13th, the Mitchells will have a big barbecue, dance, and entertainment for their hundreds of guests, and on Sunday, the 14th, the men will ride back to the mission to end their trip where they had started it just a week before.

Hundreds from City Will Attend Derby.

Hundreds of Chicagoans will go south for the 65th running of the Kentucky Derby, among them the Woolsey Pollocks, the Henry C. Bartholomays, the Farwell Winstons, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Noyes, the Rowen Schumachers, the Edward Morrises, the John H. Merrells, Stuyvesant Peabody, Raymond Pruitt and the Frank Mayers. The Winstons, as usual, will visit her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Noland, during the Derby festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris, the Merrells, Mr. Peabody, Mr. Pruitt, and Mr. and Mrs. Mayer are among the many who will make French Lick Springs their headquarters while they are in the neighborhood of Churchill Downs. The Schumachers and Mr. and Mrs. Noyes will stay in Brown county, Indiana, and motor to the track on Saturday. Mrs. Peabody has not returned from a trip to Mississippi, so she will miss this year's big Kentucky race. Usually she and Mr. Peabody have a house in Louisville for Derby week and fill it with friends.

The Frederick Friestedts, formerly of Chicago, will have a houseful of guests in their new home near Lexington over the Derby week-end. Mrs. Friestedt is the former Barbara Shaffer.

Horse racing fans who are stay-at-homes do not necessarily miss all the thrills of the big race, for many Derby parties are held in Chicago. The Ayres Boals of Winnetka always have all their neighbors in to make a pool and to listen to the broadcast of the race. So do the Vaughan Spaldings of Lake Forest.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

East Side, West Side

New York, May 3.—[Special.]—Last time I'd talked to her was at the Bel Air club, where she had just taken a golf lesson from Joe Novak. . . . This time the setting was different, the dressing room of the star at the Shubert theater, and I've never seen Katharine Hepburn so excited and thrilled. . . . "You were wonderful," said I. . . . "It's a grand play, isn't it?" fenced she. . . . "What a performance," said I. . . . "What a cast," parried she. . . . "Where does one put the cigaret ashes?" said I. . . . "Drop them on the carpet," said she. . . . "It would be easier to buy a few ash trays wouldn't it?" said I. . . . "Could be," said she.

"You'll never know how I felt the night we opened on Broadway," she recalled. . . . "Before the curtain I was wondering if this would be another experience like 'The Lake.' Even though we'd played it out of town, there's no telling what will happen at a Broadway opening. A difference in the pace of an act can ruin a show. And then to have the audience and the critics like it so much!!"

Across the Hepburn face spread a grin of pure delight at the recollection, the grin of a co-ed who has had every dance taken at the junior prom.

The Hepburn performance is one of those things that occasionally come to the theater, a perfect wedding of part and player. . . . Philip Barry supplied crackling lines and Katharine tosses them off without sacrificing any of the champagne content. . . . Figuring importantly in the completed result are the clothes which Valentina designed for the young star.

No glamor girl ever was gowned so stunningly as Miss Hepburn, and she really can wear them. . . . Not even Connie Bennett has greater chic than this slim youngster in this display. . . . If she ever goes back to slacks, Katharine of Connecticut should be turned over some designer's knee and whipped until she's black and blue, or any other color that is becoming to her.

Sitting in the audience, your reporter was thinking to himself what a night this would have been for the Hollywood scouts if this were the first time they'd ever seen La Hepburn. . . . She would have been acclaimed the greatest discovery the movies ever had made, and the movie scouts would have allowed her to write her own ticket.

Actually, the movie scouts should take that attitude, regardless of the Hepburn experiences in Hollywood, because there is no doubt that she is a fine star, and there never has been any doubt. . . . "The Philadelphia Story" just happened to underscore the answer.

If you want three instances of perfect timing you might consider the current cases of La Hepburn, Tallulah Bankhead, and Fredric March. . . . Each of these had had flop shows. . . . Each needed a sock stage triumph. . . . They were in the position of a better at Santa Anita who had lost seven races in a row and desperately needed a winner in the last. . . . The better rarely wins that type of bet. . . . Yet Miss Hepburn, Miss Bankhead, and March all scored importantly. . . . The dramatic well didn't crack the pitcher on its last trip.

Since leaving the west coast your correspondent has covered large sections of United States soil. . . . The greatest night club show, between the Pacific on the west and the Atlantic on the east, is the Cotton Club show that stars Bill Robinson and Cab Calloway. . . . Here again costuming imparts a "lift" that is not to be disregarded as the sepian chorines and showgirls are set off in big league fashion by Veronica's creations.

With an all-star battery of Robinson and Calloway the rest of the evening is a cinch to predict. . . . Robinson shortly will be 61 years old, and is not only starring in the Cotton Club jamboree but doubling to the stage, where he is starring in "The Hot Mikado." . . . Not bad for a 60 year old, huh?

Stork club was jammed, but of more interest than the good looking youngsters dancing on the floor were antics of Sherman Billingsley, the Oklahoma Kid. . . . He called a waiter and asked him to go out and get some lichee nuts. . . . Five minutes later he sent out another waiter to get some chocolates. . . . Then he called the page boy and directed him to buy some gum. . . . We looked at Billingsley with some amazement. "I haven't taken a drink or smoked a cigaret in five weeks," he explained, "but I'd go crazy if I didn't have something to chew on."

Well, tomorrow I shove off for Hollywood. . . . There are a few things I want to see first: Miss Bankhead in "The Little Foxes"; Fredric March in "The American Way." . . . I want to see the Monte Carlo, El Morocco, the Paradise show. . . . I want to stop over at Chicago and hear Cross and Dunn warbling at the Chez Paree.

Child's Faults May be Effort at Experiment

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"My baby is getting such bad habits."

"My little girl is so naughty."

"My boy is a real problem."

"My daughter, now in her third year in high school, is changing so. She has faults she never used to have, and they're such irritating, annoying faults. She's truthful and she's quite obedient, but she is so vain she spends hours before the mirror. And she wants the latest of everything in clothes. And she and her friends have these endless telephone conversations, even if we're in the midst of dishes. And boys—well, that's all they talk about. I'm afraid she's just going to be a light-minded woman."

Are any of these difficulties yours? Or have yours taken another form?

And did you ever stop to think that perhaps these ways we call faults, by which I suppose we mean undesirable character traits, may be simply a young human being's efforts to try out his powers, to find out about the world and people, and to fit himself to them?

Did you ever think these behaviors we label faults may be merely steps on the road of learning, as he or she grows and changes?

Faults may be experiments, though we who are on the grownup side of the fence don't always recognize this fact. What we call a fault may be really an experiment—a conscious experiment, or an unconscious one that a child is urged to by the sense of new found powers within himself.

To keep in mind the thought that many acts we label faults are usually experiments in the process of learning will help us to deal wisely with them.

SYNOPSIS.

Jeff Hunter, an American mining engineer, awaits execution in a Mexican jail by order of Pancho Banderas, rebel leader. A peon friend helps him escape to Texas. Jeff meets Joan Raleigh, lost in the vastness of her feudal estate, and assists her home, where he meets her brothers, Bill and Phil, and Phil's wife, Mary Lou. When they learn Jeff went to college with their cousin, Raeburn, he is invited to be their guest. In a surprise encounter with Banderas, who has been routed from Mexico, Jeff disarms the bandit and his men. An old feud against the Raleighs is being renewed under the leadership of Butler Lane, suspected of poisoning their aunt, his wife, and forging her will. Banderas joins Lane. Jeff counsels diplomacy. He offers to be an envoy of good will among the better element, and with Jim Williams, starts for the ranch of Carl Nielsen. In town they hear of the death of Bob Sutter, who'd been wounded by a Raleigh man.

INSTALMENT XVI.

WATCHED BY THE ENEMY.

Old Jim hung up. For a moment the eyes in his wrinkled, expressionless face rested on his companion, but if he had anything to say he did not say it. He strutted down the restaurant, his high heels marking progress with a staccato beat. Back of the customer he stopped, many tiny wrinkles crinkling the flesh at the corners of his eyes in a pleased grin. The man on the stool was immensely fat. He bulged everywhere.

"Well, well, if it ain't Skinny. Didn't I hear you was wastin' away. Plumb skin and bones, the way I heard it. I'm sure glad you can sit up and take a li'l nourishment. Better take a dime's worth of sinkers with that coffee. You got to have something solid to keep up your strength."

The fat man slid a look at him over his shoulder. "I don't recollect asking your advice, Mr. Williams," he said acidly.

"That's right. I just butted in, account of you being a friend of mine's cousin's neighbor. I got too good a heart, don't you reckon? But I hate to see a guy who used to look real peart and sassy fall off to nothing. Why, you can't weigh a pound more than two hundred and eighty."

"Go to hell," the fat man snapped.

The cowboy shook his head mournfully, said that some men just wouldn't be warned in time, and continued on his way.

Outside the restaurant Williams said to Jeff, "Phil says for us to come back home."

"I expected he would say that, but I'm not going," the engineer answered quietly.

Old Jim looked back, to see the man he had called Skinny waddling out of the eating house. The fellow was moving rapidly in an opposite direction from them.

"Too bad," the old timer drawled, "Skinny didn't even get his coffee. Well, business before pleasure. He's got to turn in that report to the boss." Williams whirled on his companion and in his high falsetto flung a question at him: "What you mean you're not going back to the ranch."

"I started out to do a job," Jeff mentioned.

"Sure, but we didn't know about Sutter's death. All these guys will be on the prod now. They won't be in any mood for a gabfest about this and that."

"All the more reason why I must reach the more reasonable ones. If there's going to be trouble we'd better restrict the territory as much as possible. We don't want the whole state of Texas in it, do we?"

The narrowed eyes of the former deputy sherif searched the face of Hunter. "Friend, maybe you don't realize that with this here county unanimous against us and yore friend Pancho howling for the blood of a certain gringo, this range ain't exactly safe as a Sunday school for you. Betcha a dollar Mex against a whiteface imported bull that right damn now Rannigan and Fidler have got their heads together with Dave Mallow and maybe Butler Lane, and they're not talking about the weather, either. Not none."

Jeff said carelessly: "Danger is like a paper wall in a playhouse. Walk through it, and it's not there. I'll look out for Pancho. The rest of these people have nothing against me. You go tell Phil it's more necessary than ever that I stick with this job, but that I'll be back in two or three days."

"What you mean go back and tell Phil?" the old cowboy shrilled indignantly. "How come you to think I won't do to ride the river with? The boss give me the job of dude wrangling you, and I aim to stay with it till I've handed you over to him without a hair of yore head rumpled."

"Suits me fine," smiled Hunter. "Then we'd better be rolling out Gunbarrel road prontito." He started to unlock the car.

Jim's attention was fixed on a man lounging down the street toward them. "I got to copper that dollar Mex bet I was offering. Mr. Fidler is on guard keepin' an eye on a couple of uninvited guests in Trail End. By Judas Priest, I'm comin' to feel real important. Every waddy doesn't have a cow thief ridin' herd on him when he rolls into town."

The man approaching was squat and broad shouldered. He had a hard, flat face with slitted eyes that never looked directly at the one with whom he talked. Williams had not taken the trouble to lower his voice, and Fidler must have heard what he had said. But except for a heavy scowl he gave no sign of it. Without a word he shuffled past.

To Jeff came a renewed sense of the tenseness of the situation. Since the moment of their arrival they had been under observation. There was a coördination about the shadowing that showed organization. The man back of this was thorough. No doubt he was already bringing pressure to bear on neutrals, to force them to choose sides. Everybody not against the big ranch would be counted for it. Citizens not wild enough to break the law themselves would be expected to condone it in others.

A dusty, rickety car came up the street and swung into the parking space next to the one beside the Raleigh automobile. From it stepped a gangling man in blue overalls. He had a thin face, with straight lips and bitter eyes. Hard years had taken their toll of him.

"Bob Robbins, a gent living close to the Rex R," murmured Williams. "Shoots off his mouth considerable about us."

"One I ought to see?" Jeff asked.

"Might be. I wouldn't know."

The envoy moved forward. "Like to have a little talk with you if you have time, Mr. Robbins," Jeff said. "My name is Hunter."

The man's restless gaze picked up Williams standing beside a car with the words River Bend Ranch painted on it. From his gaunt face all mobility froze. Only the sullen eyes were alive, and they were filled with hate.

"What about?" he demanded.

Jeff decided that this was neither the place nor the time to have a talk with him. Fidler had turned and was drifting back toward them.

"Think I'll come out to your ranch and see you if you don't mind," Hunter said. "We're heading out that way today."

Not to lose time, Fidler called to Robbins, an ugly rasp in his voice, "Bob Sutter died this morning."

"Why, I thought he was doing fine," Robbins cried, surprised.

"Complications set in." With a snarl, Fidler added, "The Raleighs will sure be glad to hear the news. Their killer got first man."

"The Raleighs will be very sorry," corrected Jeff. "Will you be home this afternoon, Mr. Robbins?"

The ranchman looked at him bleakly. "I don't know you. If your name is Hunter, as you say, it doesn't mean a thing to me."

"I'll tell you who he is," Fidler explained. "He's a friend of the Raleighs, and he came in here the other day with that young devil Bill Raleigh and pulled off a gun play bold as cuffy right here on this street."

Jeff's smile, warm and pleasant, broke the stiff contours of his face. It ignored Fidler, was directed wholly at Robbins. "Maybe I might be your friend, too. Give me a chance to tell my story."

"Hmp!" The harsh eyes raked Jeff while their owner came to a decision. "All right. I'll be back at the ranch around three this afternoon."

In a cloud of dust Hunter backed the car and drove out of the town. They had left the straggling residence section behind them before he spoke.

"Friend Robbins lacks a little of . . . shall we say courtesy? Carried a chip on his shoulder. Tell me about him."

"He has a grievance against our folks. Maybe a just one. I wouldn't know. It goes away back to the old days. His grandfather squatted on a water hole old Rex needed. I don't reckon any one now can tell the rights of the quarrel. The laws were kinda conflicting anyhow. Old Rex had bought a lot of scrip, and he claimed it covered the range on which Robbins had squatted. But by all accounts old man Raleigh wasn't overscrupulous. He was a fighting son-of-a-gun, and he didn't aim to have nesters sitting on the edge of his ranch helping themselves to his stock. So he ran them off."

P.-T. A. Convention Approves Plan to Move Offices to City

Cincinnati, May 3.—(AP)—Dr. Joseph M. Artman of Chicago, an independent candidate, became second vice president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers today in an uproarious session which recorded also a decision to move national headquarters from Washington to Chicago.

Heated discussion on the proposed transfer brought cries from numerous delegates that the plan was "illegal" and "undemocratic."

Spokesmen for the board of managers said growth of the organization made necessary a more central administrative setup. A motion to concur in the board's recommendation carried, 275 to 213.

Dr. Artman, former minister and college professor now active in Chicago civic and welfare enterprises, and chairman of the congress' character education section, was elected 260 to 233 over Dr. William McKinley Robinson of Western State Teachers' college, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Theories About Allure Differ, Analysis Shows

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Two authorities on feminine allure are diametrically opposed in their theories on the not unimportant subject of how to pick a beautiful wife.

Says James Montgomery Flagg, noted artist and illustrator: "Take your prospective wife to a phrenologist."

Says Leroy Prinz, famous Hollywood dance director: "Take your girl to the beach."

Madeleine Carroll, the perfect blonde, is the ideal example cited by Flagg in support of his formula.

Lasting beauty, Flagg maintains, depends upon bone structure, and true beauty of face cannot exist at all without a shapely skull.

"The bones," the artist explains, "determine proportion. The spacing of the eyes, shape of the nose, depth and width of lips are determined by skull formation.

"More than this, the structure of the body and limbs determines the grace of movement. Persons whose bodies are well proportioned can't help being graceful."

When he visited Hollywood recently, Flagg declared Miss Carroll has one of the most perfectly formed heads he had ever seen.

The Prinz formula, however, maintains that you can tell more about a girl's character and beauty from her legs than any phrenologist can determine by the bumps on her head.

"Whether a girl's beauty will be lasting is revealed completely by her legs," Prinz says. "If your girl has long knees she's affectionate, considerate, loyal, and dependable. If she's the careless type that will let herself go in later years you'll know it by her uneven and slipshod steps when she walks. If she's too lazy to take care of her face and figure after she has hooked her man you'll be able to detect that by fleshy knees. If she's quarrelsome and destined to reflect that bad temper in the lines of her face, you'll find an indication of that in hard muscles that appear when the calves are flexed."

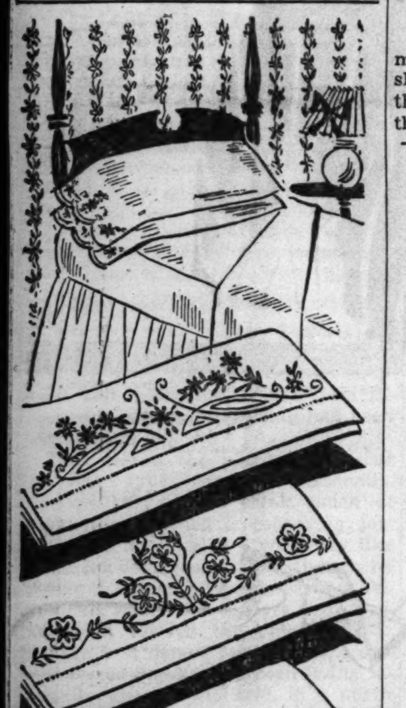
Transfer Design Lends Beauty to Any Pillow Slip



BY NANCY CABOT.

These lovely designs may be stamped on any extra pillow cases you may have on hand or on brand new slips, and embroidered in all white or colors, depending upon individual taste. They are dainty and not too difficult patterns to embroider, and will not take forever to be completed. Begun now, they will be finished in time for the inevitable showers [bridal] at this time of the year.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the three pillow slip designs, No. X-579, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: Although most people at home think Manila, P. I., is still in a state of primitive civilization, it is actually quite modern and, in fact, boasts a bridge column by none other than yourself in the morning paper. We are quite a bridge playing community and postmortems go the rounds and echo far into the night. My husband and I were playing together recently in a calm, friendly rubber game when a hand was dealt which is even yet causing sides to be taken and is assuming the proportions of a civil war. I shall not tell you which hand I held, but shall merely ask your opinion of the bidding.

"The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	Pass	3 clubs	3 spades
3 no trump	Pass	4 spades	Pass
4 no trump	Double	6 diam.	Pass
Pass	Pass

"Of course the contract should have been played in hearts and, since everything worked right, a grand slam could be made. Over North's four spade bid, what is the proper response for South? Also what, besides six diamonds, can North bid if South bids four no trump when they are playing the artificial response to four no trump? [Five clubs shows no aces; five diamonds shows one ace, and so forth.] N. K., Manila, P. I."

If players are going to get all mixed up in the throes of artificial slam conventions I strongly suggest that they drop them entirely. Not that this is any indictment of the Blackwood convention, which apparently North and South were using. North's ingenious but highly ambiguous attempt to show two aces in response to what he conceived to be a conventional four no trump bid was purely his or her own idea and, I am sure, was never thought of by the inventor himself, Mr. Easley Blackwood. Considering the previous bidding on this hand, I am very much inclined to doubt that South's four no trump bid should have been viewed as a conventional slam try, but even if it was North should not have invented a brand new response. The bid to show two aces was five hearts. If North felt that this bid might be taken by South as a mere sign-off, or as a run-out from West's double, then it would have been a great deal more sensible for him to have jumped to six hearts. At least this action would put the partnership into the right suit and indeed, considering North's previous very strong bidding, I am inclined to think that he should have abandoned any thought of a grand slam unless South could bid it freely over a six heart bid. As it happened, a grand slam contract would have been horrible, even though it would have been easily fulfilled, but a very good lay of cards was necessary, including a trump break and a favorable position of the outstanding clubs.

My guess is that a masculine brain produced the six diamond bid that caused the trouble.

The tune of Beer Barrel Polka, which is frequently on the air lanes, is that of an old Czech polka called Skody Lasky (Lost Love), Reader Ann Kay reports. Isn't it amazing the responsive chord the advertisment of the "Pioneer Woman" strikes in the hearts of city sick girls? I sincerely wish her luck.

Tell Frederica not to lose hope.

Because I never permitted a childhood dream to lay dormant I was successful some years ago, through a magazine article I read by accident, in obtaining a position as secretary on an exclusive dude ranch when the business was in its infancy. As a consequence of this venture I worked and traveled all over the west and down on the Mexican border as secretary to a "cattle king," later in winter desert resorts, and on to Hollywood studios.

Now I am Chicago representative for another dude ranch and I have no rich friends, either.

Kale is a green vegetable related to the cabbage. It doesn't form heads, but remains in separate, large, sturdy leaves with curly edges. Kale is a clean plant, easier to wash than spinach, and is quite as valuable from the standpoints of vitamin and iron content.

May is the best marketing month for kale. Supplies are largest and prices lowest of the year. Housewives who like variety of menu and appreciate nutritional values pounce upon kale whenever they find it in good quantity and of good quality at the grocer's.

HOW TO PREPARE KALE FOR THE TABLE.

The heavy midribs of kale leaves may be cut out and served alone as a vegetable. They are cooked in boiling, salted water, without a cover, similarly to asparagus, and, like asparagus, they frequently are served with butter, salt, and pepper.

It is better to cut out the midribs and serve them separately than to cook the whole leaves, for by the time they are tender the leafy parts of kale will have been overcooked. In this way the same leaves may be made to serve as vegetable for two meals, and they'll seem like two different vegetables, too.

Cook the leafy parts in boiling salted water until just wilted and tender. Serve with plenty of butter and seasonings.

Salt pork frequently is cooked with kale. Bacon is good with it, too. Fry a few strips of bacon crisp, break them into fine pieces, and use them with some of their fat to season cooked kale. A little minced onion may be browned in the bacon fat and added to the dish. Or add a few tablespoons of chili sauce along with the bacon and fat. This last variation is appeteasingly delicious.

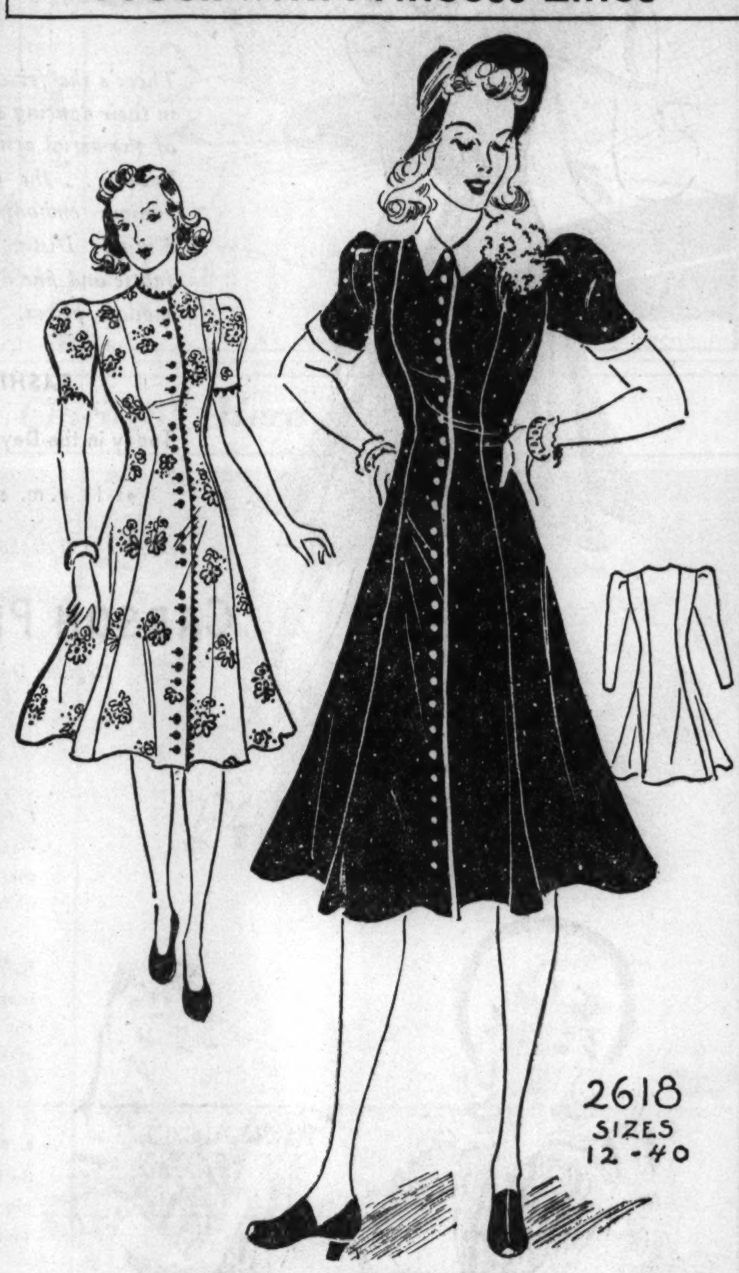
When cooking the whole leaves, midrib and all, steaming probably is the best method to use. If you haven't a regular steamer place a colander or large strainer in the top of the cooking kettle. Have the water boiling below, and keep the pan tightly covered. As soon as the midribs are tender to a fork remove the greens, season them, and serve.

White sauce, hollandaise sauce, or other vegetable sauce may be poured over the whole cooked stalks.

Speaking of steamers, I'd like to recommend one for every home where cooking is a serious art. They are fine for many vegetables, for pastes such as spaghetti, macaroni, noodles, and they are almost indispensable for steamed breads, puddings, and many fruit cakes. It seems little short of foolish to use makeshift methods when steamers may be purchased so reasonably in the department stores. A steamer is nothing more than a good aluminum kettle with a perforated basket to fit into it, and a cover. There are several types and sizes available.

Frock with Princess Lines



WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

This charming version of the princess dress has buttons all the way down the front, arranged in any manner or grouping you prefer. You may use either prints or plain colors for this paneled frock, and silks and cottons are equally acceptable in view of the season.

At the left is suggested a version without a collar. Instead, the high, round neckline is treated to rickrack braid, more of which trims the puffed sleeves and the closing the length of the frock.

The sketch at the right offers another idea, a frock with a contrasting, detachable-for-laundering collar and cuffs. If you like, use a real or artificial corsage at the shoulder.

Style No. 2618 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20, and 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 4½ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅝ yard of 39 inch contrasting.

Clotilde patterns are 10 cents each. Address orders to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Cellars grow damp with the warm spring days and the sweating or condensation often grows worse when summer arrives. This can be checked by keeping the cellar windows closed on damp days. To prevent this sweating the walls can be lined with lath and plaster or plaster board set on furring strips to provide air space. If the walls seem damp inside they should be specially treated before the lining is applied.

Daughter Is Born to William Norths.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. North [Sarah Jackson] are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter yesterday morning at the Evanston hospital. The baby, who has been named Sarah Randolph, is a granddaughter of Mrs. Francis S. North of Lake Forest and of Mrs. George Jackson of Asheville, N. C.

The David Annans, who spent the winter in the Adlai Stevensons' house in town, are planning to go to Lake Forest for the summer. The Stevensons sailed yesterday in the Manhattan for Ireland to visit his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ives. Mr. Ives is the American consul at Belfast.

The Stevensons will be away for six weeks. Her mother, Mrs. John Alden Carpenter, and Mr. Carpenter still are in the east.

Miss Barbara Emerson is going east today to be maid of honor at the marriage of her cousin, Miss Estelle Emerson of Springfield, Mass., to Robert Walbridge, also of Springfield. The wedding will take place on May 13. Miss Estelle Emerson often has visited her cousin in Highland Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Taylor are among the many Chicagoans who are planning to see both world's fairs. They are leaving tomorrow for a fortnight's motor trip to New York, Washington, and Williamsburg. Later in the season they will go to San Francisco.

Chicago Bach Chorus Gives Concert Tonight.

A number of dinner parties have been planned to precede a concert by the Chicago Bach chorus tonight in Orchestra hall. Mrs. William S. Hay is entertaining at home in Winnetka for Dr. and Mrs. Philip Miller. Mrs. Miller just has returned from a week's visit with her father, former Gov. Frank O. Lowden, in Oregon, Ill. The Albert F. Madleners and Mrs. Otto L. Schmidt are others giving dinners.

The boxholders include, in addition to the above dinner hosts, the junior Edward L. Ryersons, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Stock, Mrs. Henry Bartholomay, the William A. Nitzes, and Mrs. William A. Wieboldt.

The chorus is under the direction of Theodore Lams of the Northwestern university school of music.

WPA Theater

Shakespearean Cycle Gets to "Hamlet."

BY CECIL SMITH.

With its current cycle of Shakespearean productions the local unit of the Federal theater project has discovered a useful educational and artistic function. "Hamlet," opening an engagement of three weeks at the Blackstone theater last night, proved to be a well mounted, expeditiously directed performance.

In his staging of "Othello" Ian Keith had already shown both a ripe command of traditional style and a happy individuality. As Mr. Keith presents it, "Hamlet" is an even better stage piece. The cutting necessary to permit the final curtain to drop at 11 o'clock has been done with a sharp eye for continuity, contrast, and balance. Scenes before the curtain and on the two levels of the stage run into one another with a natural fluidity.

Mr. Keith's impersonation of Hamlet is by far the most compelling performance he has given here. Although probably nobody's reading of the text ever seems to attain perfection, Mr. Keith makes a beautiful job of it, more restrained than his Othello and more genuine than his Iago. As an actor his conception of the rôle carries overtones of splendor and nobility.

The supporting cast is uneven, but smoother than that of "Othello." Albert Carroll is priceless, and in good taste, as bombastic old Polonius. Peggy Joyce makes a wistful Ophelia, though her diction and movement are unschooled. As the king and as the ghost John Connor's declamatory manner gets in his way again. Marcella Gaudel as the queen and James Diehl as the first player perform their assignments competently.

WILSON'S Weekly MEMO by GEORGE RECTOR

The idea of honoring one's mother did not originate in the fertile brain of a florist nor even that of a telegraph messenger boy in an odd moment off duty.

For hundreds of years it has been observed in England as Mothering Sunday on the fourth Sunday in Lent. People traveled great distances to be home on that day and when this was impossible they sent home a special token of their respect for mother.

If it has not yet become the custom in your household for the menfolk to "say it with food" as well as with flowers on Mother's Day, you'd better start the tradition right this year. By all means take the flowers and whatever else is proffered for the occasion but at the time same let the rest of the family get dinner that day while you disport yourself in the living room.

Meal-Size Tins of "TENDER MADE"
Half and quarter ham sizes—just solid meat without the bone—sealed in tins. Perfect for small families, parties or luncheons. Slice cold or heat. No waste, it's all eatable and how! It's budget-wise buying.

A Mother's Day Menu For Dads
Even the least domestic of males or children can open a Meal Size Tin of Wilson's Tender Made Ham, remove the ham and slice it. That's all it needs unless they insist on cutting off a thick juicy steak and giving it a bit of a broil. (15 minutes in a hot oven is the orthodox time.) Some boiled potatoes, a simple vegetable and head lettuce with dressing is all there is left for them to prepare, assuming that you, big-hearted, have put a dessert in the refrigerator the day before.

WELCOME
A May Luncheon
If man is essentially a social being, woman is doubly so. Along with the spring crocuses and putting the winter woolies in the cedar chest comes the urge to entertain. This should make a good spring luncheon, appetizing but not frilly:

JELLIED MADRILENE
WILSON'S TENDER MADE HAM TIMBALES
WITH MUSHROOM SAUCE
SHOE STRING CARROTS
FINGER ROLLS OLIVES
GRAPEFRUIT-PINEAPPLE SALAD
STRAWBERRY SHERBET
BEVERAGES

HAM TIMBALES
This delicate entree should be a real treat to the discriminating palate. It is an ideal way to utilize the left over part of your family size Tender Made Ham after you have had memorable steaks off it, and cold platters and snacks galore. Put ham through food chopper twice, to yield 1½ cups. Add 1 tablespoon each of chopped parsley and onion. Season nicely. Combine with 1 can Wilson's Tender Made Deviled Ham, 1½ cups of warm milk and 4 eggs, beaten. Pour in individual molds and cook like any custard, in a moderate oven until set.

Unmold, garnish and serve with

Rector's Mushroom Sauce
Cook ½ lb. thinly sliced mushrooms in pan with 2 tablespoons Clear Brook butter for 5 minutes. Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice and ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Have ready a thickened gravy made by melting 2 tablespoons Clear Brook butter, blending in 2 tablespoons of flour and gradually adding 1½ cups brown stock stirring until boiling point is reached. Add mushrooms to gravy; season to taste with salt.

WHEN IS A CHICKEN NOT A CHICKEN?
When it is a can of Wilson's Certified Chico. It's so much like real chicken that I am sure a mother hen would cluck maternally if a can of it happened along in the barnyard. Ready cooked. Slice for sandwiches, cut in pert little cubes for appetizers, or use just as you would solid chicken meat in salads and entrees.

CUBS LOSE AGAIN, 4 TO 1; HARTNETT BENCHES HIMSELF

Shakes Up Lineup; Players Discover New Professor.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 3.—Manager Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs, deeply chagrined at the meek character of his team's offensive, tonight benched himself and gave the batting order the second shakeup of the week after his team lost its second straight to the Phillies in Philadelphia today, 4 to 1.

The new batting order is: Augie Galan, lf; Phil Cavarretta, 1b; Stanley Hack, 3b; Hank Leiber, cf; Carl Reynolds, rf; Bill Herman, 2b; Gus Mancuso, c; Dick Bartell, ss; Bill Lee, p.

The Cubs were in a none too pleasant mood as a result of their two terrific flops against the Phillies, a circumstance which may have been responsible for expressions of resentment over the fact the management again has installed a "professor" to chart all pitches in every game, emphasizing, of course, the pitches Cub batters haven't socked for base hits and the ones by Cub pitchers which have been socked. The new scientist's name is C. L. Snyder.

New Prof's Pleasant Enough.

When "Prof." Jack Sterrett resigned following widespread ridicule shortly after Hartnett became manager last midseason, it had been rumored this form of policing had been abandoned.

Last season the players professed to like Prof. Sterrett personally, though they didn't think much of what they termed a coppering job. They are not sure how well they like Prof. Snyder's personality, though he seems a rather pleasant, earnest fellow, 'tis said. The leaders in the resentment toward the new research bureau first flamed forth when it was discovered Snyder had been living incognito, the players said, in a north side hotel extensively patronized by Cub players.

After the finger had been placed on the professor, as the saying goes, the players watched his operations slyly. It was not established that things were being charted until the alert athletes discovered Mr. Snyder and his calipers and everything in the grandstand in Cincinnati last week. Since the professor brought his tools into the open the Cubs have lost five out of six, which has made the statistical work much heavier, according to reports.

He's Just a Statistician.

It was said among the players that Snyder is a protégé of Prof. Coleman Griffith of the psychology department of the University of Illinois, who was credited with selling science and Sterrett to the Cubs before the start of last season. Snyder said tonight, however, that he was not an associate of the Illini educator and that he has been engaged to gather statistical data exclusively.

Prof. Snyder certainly was of little

Caster Ends Sox Streak; A's Win, 3-1

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

George Caster, who was such a nuisance to the White Sox last year that he whipped them five times out of six, still is doing business in the same way. The Sox saw him again yesterday, and he shattered their winning streak of five straight, while restricting them to three hits. Meanwhile Bill Dietrich was trying to starve out Connie Mack's Athletics with a batch of five safeties, but they made this limited amount good for victory, 3 to 1.

Dietrich's effort to win his third game of the year and thus give additional proof that there was no further reason to worry about the arm which had been about half dead for almost a year, was a bubbling success for six innings, a stretch in which he allowed only one hit and a pair of passes.

Etten Hits Home Run.

But in the seventh he met up with Joe Gantenbein, who doubled and later scored on a fly that would have been good for extra bases if Mike Kreevich hadn't elevated himself to heroic heights as a fielder. In the same inning Dietrich also met Nick Etten, St. Rita High alumnus, who hit a home run. The other run was scored in the ninth when Dietrich erred.

The only outstanding man in the Sox attack was Joe Kuhel who with two hits endeavored to lift the victory embargo placed on them last season by the 30 year old knuckle ball dispenser.

The first of Joe's safeties was a harmless single in the fourth. The other was his season's second homer, dispatched into the seats just after the Macks had taken their two run lead in the seventh. And Kuhel also picked up a pass in the ninth when Caster suddenly pitched himself into a full house with two gone. The only other Sox hit was a two bagger by Ken Silvestri, but the young man was picked off base.

After reeling off four innings in which Etten proved the lone disturber, Dietrich almost let himself in for trouble in the fifth. With none out he walked Johnson and Etten. The next two hitters went out and Silvestri caught Johnson at third on an attempted steal.

Silvestri Nipped Off Second.

The Sox got out ahead on hits in the sixth, but smothered the achievement with a misdeed of their own making. The hit was Silvestri's with none out. He lined to right for two bases, the ball missing the top of the fence only by a foot. So as to get a flying start on Dietrich's planned bunt Silvestri took a big lead off second, but Dietrich missed the pitch and Wagner's throw to Ambler caught Silvestri.

The Macks' unexpected display of power in the two-run seventh began when Gantenbein slipped a two base sneaker along the right field line. He moved to third while Owen was engaged in throwing out Miles on a bunt. Johnson's sole job was to hit a fly ball and he did. Kreevich finally caught it with his gloved hand only a few feet short of the 440 foot barrier, Gantenbein easily scoring.

Then Etten, after taking one strike, pumped the ball into the right field pavilion for his second homer of the season.

Kuhel Hits Homer in Seventh.

Kuhel tried to coax his pals into a rally in their half of the seventh when he hit a home run into the right field seats.

Dietrich was perfect in the eighth,

JOHNSTOWN RUNS A MILE ON DERBY TRACK IN 1:38 3/5

Backers of Technician, Challedon Confident.

BY HOWARD BARRY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Louisville, Ky., May 3.—El Chico and his stablemate, Our Mat, together with Xalapa Clown stretched their legs for a mile over the Churchill Downs course in a breeze this morning, El Chico in 1:44 and Our Mat and Xalapa Clown each in 1:43. Afterward Trainer Matt Brady reiterated his earlier statements that El Chico's class will carry him to the winning post in Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

But that was before Johnstown had worked out. William Woodward's 3 year old tried out the course between races this afternoon and came up with the fastest mile of any candidate for the sixty-fifth running of the race. He ran easily for three quarters, then moved out in the last furlong and finally stepped past the mile post in 1:38 3-5. Moreover, he did it without effort. He ran the first quarter in :24 4-5, the half in :49, and the three-quarters in 1:14 2-5. Jockey Jimmy Stout was in the saddle.

Today this town enjoyed its last hours of comparative peace before the descent of the Derby crowd. Already the lobby groups are thickening, the conversation is just a bit louder, the Negro street bands are playing more vivaciously and the curbstone tap dancers are throwing themselves more recklessly into their art. Touts are becoming more insistent.

Technician's Backers Still Loyal.

Nearly all the followers of the more prominent candidates are pretty well satisfied with the outcome of yesterday's Derby trial in which Viscounty, a 30 to 1 shot, reached the finish line a nose in advance of Technician, 1 to 3 favorite in that particular race and second choice to Johnstown in the future books betting on Saturday's big event.

Technician's followers point out that it would have been folly for Jockey Ira Hanford to take a chance on driving him hard through the narrow opening on the rail with Viscounty bearing over all the way down the stretch. Besides, they say, he would have won, anyway, in a few more strides in a race that was a quarter of mile shorter than the Derby will be.

It may be an injustice to Herbert M. Woolf's fine colt to point out that many of Technician's followers are hunch players, for the horse might certainly be well backed on his own merits and on the prestige of Ben Jones' training.

Challedon Steps Up.

Johnstown's followers are inclined to think that if Technician is half the horse his backers say he is he never would have got himself into that jam on the rail.

As for Challedon's followers, nothing that has happened on any race track anywhere any time has disturbed them. When Johnstown was nearing world's records and winning by six lengths eased up they would take it very easily and say, "Wait till you see him quit in that last quarter mile of the Derby." Earlier in the season, when El Chico's great juvenile record was held up to them they would say, "Just a sprinter."

It Goes On and On.

Then Johnstown's backers step in with the record and point out that to date their horse has done everything any Derby candidate has done, and has done it better than any other.

It seems probable that W. H. Whitehouse's American Byrd will be withdrawn from the Derby field as a result of his poor performance in yesterday's trial. This would cut the field of possible starters to 16. T. M. Dorsett was reported down with a fever today, but was not withdrawn. There also was believed to be a possibility that Porter's Mite might be scratched.

The advance guard of the Derby visitors was entertained at Churchill Downs today with the Debutante stakes, a $2,500 event for 2 year old fillies. It was won by W. F. Morgan's Downy Pillow.

Angott Upsets Milt Aron in Coliseum Bout

Sammy Angott, the former Washington and Jefferson student rated third among lightweight challengers by the National Boxing association, stepped out of his division in the Coliseum last night and upset Milt Aron, the N. B. A.'s No. 4 welterweight contender.

Referee Tommy Gilmore and Judges William Battye and John Bray voted for Angott at the end of the ten round bout. Angott weighed 135¾ pounds and Aron, 145½.

The fight was nip and tuck all the way. In the final round the fighters exchanged punches without letup. Two rights dropped Angott for no count in the fourth round. The victory qualifies Angott for a shot at Henry Armstrong's lightweight and welterweight championships. It was his ninth consecutive triumph and marked his first start in the welterweight class.

5,797 Pay $9,564.

A crowd of 5,797, including Coach Johnny Behr and the Chicago International Golden Gloves team, Barney Ross, George Raft, Jackie Heller, and Bud Taylor, paid $9,564.79. This, it was reported, was less than the sum needed to break even.

In the ten round semi-windup Billy Marquart of Winnipeg, Man., hammered out a decision over Eddie Brink, Scranton, Pa., junior welterweight. It was a slugging match for the first five rounds. Interest lagged in the closing stages, when the boys tired. Brink was knocked down for a six count in the first round and a five count in the third. Jack Hurley, manager of Marquart, said Bill hurt his right hand in the fifth round.

The crowd got its greatest thrill out of the opening ten round fight between Dick Kist, 1938 Danville sectional Golden Gloves welterweight winner, and Milo Theodorescu of Braila, Rumania. Theodorescu won the decision. It was Kist's first setback in twenty-two professional appearances.

Davis Stops Brownlee.

Verle Davis, also a Golden Gloves alumnus, scored his fifteenth consecutive victory by stopping Bill Brownlee, Indianapolis junior welterweight, in the fifth round. Davis scored a knockdown in the second and another in the fourth before Referee Tommy Gilmore stopped it.

Billy Seward, junior lightweight of Ingamore, Mont., knocked out Willie Kline in the second round of the first match. Kline was down three times in the first round.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

CHICAGO this morning extends a hand of friendship to eight young fighters who have come 5,000 miles to whale the daylights out of the stoutest and bravest battlers in the great central section of the United States. . . . They are the best amateur glove wielders Europe is able to send to America. . . . Survivors of a tournament that attracted championship teams from twelve nations, our guests represent Italy, Ireland, Sweden, Estonia, and Finland. . . . While they come from countries widely separated, they are united at the moment in the common cause of knocking the ears off Chicago's Golden Gloves winners, an achievement no team from the old world has been able to boast. . . . The test will occur in the Stadium May 12, and according to Arthur Kankovszky, secretary and treasurer of the International Boxing association, who is escorting the boys to Chicago, this is Europe's year. . . . This is said to be the strongest array of boxers that ever has invaded the United States. . . . We hope this is true. . . . The Europeans had better be good, because they're not going to meet powder puffs in the world's largest indoor arena a week from tomorrow night. . . . Those Chicago kids can fight . . . They demonstrated that convincingly by whipping New York on March 29 and some of them won further glory in the National A. A. U. tournament in San Francisco three weeks ago. . . .

The effects of international Golden Gloves have been far reaching. . . . It is one sport that really has contributed to good will among nations. . . . Wherever you travel in Europe you hear tales of Chicago's sportsmanship, inside the ring and outside. . . . These annual tests of boxing skill between the youth of America and Europe have proved it is possible for a team of strangers to come to the United States, to receive a warm welcome, to be cheered and applauded for every success attained. . . . Listening to the roar of the crowd, you hear the same intensity of cheering when a European smacks an American as when an American smacks a European. . . . Chicago has outdone itself trying to be fair. . . . Therein lies the success of the enterprise. . . . The 21,000 spectators applaud or observe dignified silence while the flags of the various nations are hoisted to the rafters. . . . But there's no mistaking their patriotism when the Stars and Stripes go up. . . . That's a thrill that never grows old . . . You are cheating yourself if you miss it.

FIVE CONSULS NAME COMMITTEES TO GREET GOLDEN GLOVE FOES

Invaders Check Up on Opponents Again.

BY STEWART OWEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Harrisburg, Pa., May 3.—Little Guido Nardecchia sat in a lounge car of the Pennsylvania railroad's General as it speeded westward across Pennsylvania tonight toward Chicago and the International Golden Gloves contests. In his hand he held a tattered clipping from an Italian newspaper.

For about the twentieth time since the European squad left Dublin on April 24 Guido's seven teammates gathered around him peering at that little slip of paper which bears a Chicago dateline of March 11 and tells of the crowning of Chicago's eight Golden Gloves champions. To the Europeans that clipping has become the symbol of the team they will battle in Chicago Stadium the night of May 12.

For Lehtinen, "Saccoia."

For about the twentieth time Olli Lehtinen, the Finnish champion, asked the name of Chicago's flyweight title holder, whom he expects to fight. For about the twentieth time Guido read it off:

"112 Libbre; Vic Saccoia."

Ollie permitted himself a crooked smile and turned away. That one line of type doesn't look very formidable to him. If that represents his Chicago opponent, he feels pretty certain he won't have any trouble taking back to Finland the international championship that escaped him last year. Guido skipped the name of Chester Ellis. He has known the identity of the bantamweight champion of Chicago ever since he learned he was going on this trip.

He read off for Paddy Dowdall, the Irish king of European featherweights, the name of Tony Ancona. Paddy made a contemptuous noise and went back to the puzzled gray haired gentleman who, between Paddy's brogue and his use of Irish sporting terms, was having a pretty hard time following the Irishman's recital of his career as an amateur boxer.

Peire Is Amused.

"I needn't worry about whipping a fellow with a name like that, need I, sir?" he asked.

"Well as I was saying, I had trouble that year making me weight of eight stone and——"

Guido read off for his lightweight compatriot, Egisto Peire, the name of John Pleasant and translated into Italian the meaning of the word pleasant. That always amuses Egisto and it did again. He laughed heartily and made his customary joke, which has to do with his sorrow at having to do the things he's going to do to anybody named Pleasant.

Guido had to skip the next two weight divisions because Luigi Musina, the light heavyweight, became impatient and shouldered Eric Agren, the Swedish welterweight, and Anton Raadik, the Estonian middleweight, aside. Luigi has a habit of becoming impatient and shouldering people out of his way. He listened as Guido read him once more the name of Jimmy Reeves, 175 pound Golden Gloves champion.

Musina Only Shrugs.

Luigi shrugged his massive shoulders and smiled with a great air of superiority as he went swaggering away through the train. Guido didn't bother to translate Musina's remarks about what he would do to Reeves or any other Chicagoan who might oppose him. Musina's views on the subject have become pretty well known to all with whom he has come in contact these last few weeks, whether they understood Italian or not.

Both Agren and Raadik looked intently at the clipping as Guido read "147 libbre, Milton Jones; 160 libbre, Ezzard Charles." Neither of these Nordics has ever fought a colored boy and they tried to visualize their opponents in the printed names. It was explained to Raadik that he very probably would have some other opponent. It didn't matter.

He wrote down Charles' name on a slip of paper, because it represents to him a colored boy who can fight and if there's anything Raadik likes it's an opponent who can and will fight with him. Outside the ring it's hard

Mayor Will Receive Squad of Eight in Office.

Reception Facts

GUESTS OF HONOR—Eight European boxing champions and officials of the International Boxing federation.

PLACE — Union station, Jackson boulevard and Canal street.

TIME—8:50 a. m., Chicago daylight time.

NATIONS REPRESENTED—Italy, Sweden, Estonia, Ireland, and Finland.

MAYOR'S RECEPTION—11:30 a. m. in offices of Mayor Edward J. Kelly, city hall.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

This is the day Chicago greets the amateur boxing champions of Europe. At 8:50 this morning, Chicago daylight time, the eight outstanding boxers and the officials of the International federation will arrive in Union station, completing their 5,000 mile trip to face the Golden Glovers of Chicagoland in the Stadium a week from tomorrow night.

Once more a new cast of actors, including, however, three veterans of international competition in Chicago, will be ready for the eighth of the series of matches sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., a series that has become the outstanding event in the history of amateur boxing. That no European team ever has whipped Chicago serves to heighten interest in these boys who arrive today.

That interest should reach a new peak for the European coach, Steve Klaus, trainer for Italy, best of all European squads, and now coach of this international team, and Arthur de Kankovszky, secretary of the Federation Internationale de Boxe Amateur, are agreed that this is the finest group of boxers to cross the Atlantic.

The Third and Best.

This team, the third all-Europe squad, is said to be superior to the 1937 team that tied Chicago, four bouts to four. Here are the boys who will be Chicago's guests for more than a week:

Ollie Lehtinen, Finland; Patrick Dowdall, Ireland; Eric Agren, Sweden; Anton Raadik, Estonia, and Guido Nardecchia, Egisto Peire, Luigi Musina, and Nemesio Lazzari, Italy.

These boxers will face a Chicago team, now in training in the Illinois Athletic club, which last March continued its supremacy over New York's Golden Glovers in the twelfth annual intercity tournament.

Chicago organizations and societies, which have cultural and racial backgrounds of the countries represented on the European team, will have front places in today's reception in Union station. Consuls of these nations have appointed official delegations to greet the boxers.

All who can are urged to be in Union station this morning to greet the Europeans. As soon as possible after the Pennsylvania's General steams in at 8:50, the boys will come to the rotunda of the station. They will be dressed in their new uniforms which they received in New York. From the station the boxers will go directly to the Medinah club, which will be their headquarters.

At 11:30 this morning the European boxers and officials will be greeted by Mayor Edward J. Kelly in his offices in the city hall. Chicago's noon hour crowds will have opportunity to see the boxers who are determined to win the international Golden Gloves championship. Mayor Kelly will welcome the squad officially; Chicago's own reception will be extended a week from tomorrow night in the Stadium.

Consuls Name Committees.

Chicago Italians will take a leading part in today's program, for four of the visitors come from Italy. Dr. Franco Fontana, royal Italian consul general, has appointed a committee as follows to represent the consulate: John Dolce, chairman; Dr. S. A. Vainisi, Philip D'Andrea, president Italo-American National union; Vincent Ferrara, grand secretary of the union;

Don't Miss the Grand Slam!

First it was the Chicago Golden Gloves.
Next it was the intercity matches with New York.

And NOW—

Come the International bouts—Chicagoland's Golden Glovers against Europe's finest May 12 in the Chicago Stadium. It's the Grand Slam of boxing, and the sooner you act the better will be your seat.

Tickets are on sale in the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and in the lobby of Tribune Tower. The loop office is open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Mail orders also are being accepted. Send check or money order, payable to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., to the Golden Gloves Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower. The prices:

RED SOX BLAST HUDLIN; DEFEAT CLEVELAND, 5-1

Auker's Submarine Ball Baffles Indians.

Cleveland, May 3.—(AP)—Eldon Auker, whose right handed submarine ball offerings always are discouraging to the Cleveland Indians, pitched five hit ball today to give the Boston Red Sox a 5 to 1 victory.

Auker lost a shutout only because Tom Carey, subbing for grippe stricken Joe Cronin at shortstop, booted an easy chance in the eighth inning. The Sox clinched victory in the seventh when singles by Joe Vosmik, Jimmy Foxx, Ted Williams, and Bobby Doerr brought in four runs off Willis Hudlin. Vosmik got four blows in five trips, and Foxx three in four.

YANKEES BEAT TIGERS.

Detroit, Mich., May 3.—(AP)—Outhit by the Tigers, 11 to 9, the New York Yankees took advantage of the wildness of three Detroit pitchers today to win their second game in a row, 10 to 6, and sweep the series. Hank Greenberg hit his fourth home run of the season with one on in the third, but the Yanks had scored three times in the first and were never behind.

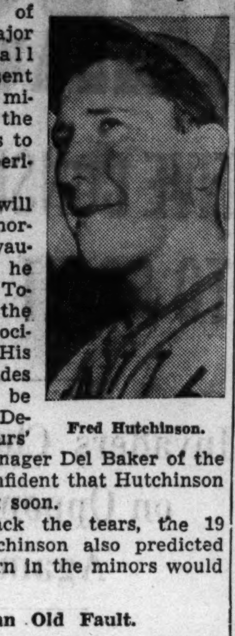
Tigers' Prize Recruit Sent to Toledo Club

Detroit, Mich., May 3.—(AP)—Fred Hutchinson, one of the most publicized rookies of the present major league base ball season, was sent back to the minors today by the Detroit Tigers to get more experience.



Fred Hutchinson.

Hutchinson will leave here tomorrow for Milwaukee, where he will join the Toledo club of the American association Friday. His release provides that he may be recalled by Detroit on 24 hours' notice and Manager Del Baker of the Tigers was confident that Hutchinson would be back soon.

Fighting back the tears, the 19 year old Hutchinson also predicted that his sojourn in the minors would be brief.

It's an Old Fault.

"I'll be back just as soon as I get some control," Hutchinson said. "I had the same trouble at the start of last season with Seattle."

Hutchinson won twenty-five games and lost seven for Seattle of the Pacific Coast league last season, his first year in organized baseball. At the close of the campaign Detroit gave up three players—Joyner White, Tony Piet, and Bob Archie—and a sum of cash estimated at from $35,000 to $70,000 for Hutchinson. Piet refused to report to Seattle this spring, preferring to remain in the automobile business in Chicago.

From the moment Hutchinson was purchased by Detroit he was the object of a tremendous buildup.

He'll Get Regular Work.

Baker chose to handle Hutchinson cautiously even in spring training, permitting the youngster to take his time in conditioning himself. Yesterday Hutchinson made his first appearance in a major league game against the New York Yankees. He entered the game in the sixth with the bases full and walked five, allowing four hits and eight runs in two-thirds of an inning.

CASTER STOPS SOX STREAK AT 5; A'S WIN, 3 TO 1

Dietrich Gives Up Only 5 Hits; Kuhel Hits Homer.

but had trouble in addition to his fielding in the ninth. With one out, Gantenbein singled to center and Miles singled between Owen and Appling. Johnson's fly to Kreevich gave Gantenbein time to dash to third. Dietrich then tried to pick Miles off first base, but the throw was so low that it eluded Kuhel, Gantenbein scoring and Miles going to third.

The fuss kicked up by the Sox after Radcliff had flied out for Dietrich and Owen had been tossed out by Ambler in the ninth started with a pass to Kuhel. Walker also strolled. After Kuhel stole third the bases were filled on a free ticket to Appling. But McNair popped to Ambler.

The Washington Senators, who seem to be enjoying a spring flurry, will be in Comiskey park today for the first of a three game series with the White Sox. John Dungan Rigney, the River Forest notable, will attempt to make it unpleasant for them. Ken Chase will pitch for the Senators.

Although the idea of getting an X-ray picture of Thornton Lee's arm was abandoned twenty-four hours previously, it was put back on yesterday's calendar. The picture, however, showed no damage in the forearm where pain popped up while he was beating the Browns last Sunday. The report satisfied Lee, so he went out and pitched a turn in batting practice.

Ken Silvestri, Chicago born athlete who has caught all the Sox games thus far this season, celebrated his twenty-third birthday yesterday.

When Vic Frasier, who experienced a skull fracture during spring training, is ready to resume pitching, which will be in a few more days, he will be broken in with finishing rôles, and if he does well in that capacity he'll be promoted to a starting job.

CIANCIOLA CALLS OFF BOLDEN BOUT AT WHITE CITY

Tony Cianciola, Milwaukee middleweight, last night called off his scheduled ten round bout with Nate Bolden in White City tomorrow. The fine performance displayed by Bolden in his recent twelve round conquest of Oscar Rankin is believed responsible for Cianciola's action.

Co-Promoters Sam Abruscato and Bill Rand will rearrange the show. Plans are to have Irish Eddie McGeever, Scranton, Pa., junior welterweight, and Red Lyons of Pittsburgh meet in the ten round headliner, with Billy Gillespie, Stone Lake, Wis., heavyweight, facing Danny La Marr in an eight round semi-final.

JARMAN STYLE CHARTS

authentic information on
WHICH SHOES TO WEAR WITH WHAT

ONLY IN these stores can you find this brand new service. The Jarman Style Charts aren't anywhere else in town, except in Esquire Magazine.

These charts, created by "The Style Reporters," give you authentic information on the correct shoes to wear with every suiting fabric in your wardrobe. They supply helpful, authoritative suggestions to men who want always to be well dressed.

For example, see Jarman Style Chart E-5 for an exact check on when, where and with what to wear sport shoes. And while you're in, take a look at our many distinctive Jarman Sport Shoe models, designed for particular occasions, to go perfectly with the new sports clothes.

For wear with your light weight worsteds, gabardines and Palm Beach, we recommend this handsome full brogue. You'll like its combination of tan calf and white buck, its rakish wing tip, and its long-wearing comfort.

Here's a shoe for which we predict tremendous popularity among the younger men especially. It's a brown and white brogue with a straight tip. Styled for greater walking comfort, it may be worn for business with cheviots, tweeds, saxonies and the rougher business suiting fabrics.

Our cool, woven "Fiesta" in natural calf, is another Jarman style sensation. Smart lines plus crepe-soled comfort make it a "natural" for spectator and resort wear. As shown in Esquire Magazine, it is correct with linens, tropical worsteds, flannels, etc.

CUBS LOSE AGAIN, 4 TO 1; HARTNETT BENCHES HIMSELF

Shakes Up Lineup; Players Discover New Professor.

help this afternoon when the Cubs staged their folding act again with Hugh Mulcahy cracking the whip. The young man had a shutout until the ninth when Hank Leiber played a huge joke on him by hitting a home run, thus turning a four-hit shutout into a five-hit one-run performance.

The last three innings, in fact, were tough on Mulcahy. Up till the seventh he had held the Cubs to a first inning single by Galan. The second Cub hit was a seventh inning single by Reynolds. The four hit surge of the Cubs in the last three innings, which included eighth inning singles by Charley Root and Hack, practically spoiled Mulcahy's whole afternoon, what with Coach Sylvester Johnson having held the champs to only four hits in nine innings in yesterday's 6 to 1 Philly victory.

Cubs in Three Way Tie for 4th.

Today's experience here left two other former first division habitués—the Giants and the Pirates—as the only two teams in the National league worse off than the champions. The Cubs tonight are tied for fourth place with the Phillies and their next adversaries, the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Cubs, who won five of their first six games, now have lost five of their last six National league engagements.

In their last four games, including one victory by Gene Lillard, the Cubs have pounded out a grand total of sixteen hits in 121 times at bat for a whistling .132 team average. They pounded the ball much harder here than their average for the last four games would indicate. They batted a bruising .145 against Coach Syl Johnson and Mulcahy.

And speaking of Philly Coach Johnson, be it known that his age, which is 38, put Manager Hartnett on an unhappy theory today. Age having served so well against him yesterday Gabby today countered with 39 year old Earl Whitehill and 40 year old Charley Root.

Earl and Charley were all right, too, considering their supporting cast was playing virtually without bats. Whitehill, who yielded three runs and five hits, including a homer by Morris Arnovich, was the losing pitcher. Root gave up one run and four hits.

Arnovich Hits a Homer.

Arnovich led off the home second with a homer into the left field stands. May bounced a single past Bartell, went to third on Powers' single to right, and scored on Scharein's sacrifice fly to Bartell.

Mueller walked at the start of the third and stopped at second on Martin's bunt past Hack. The pair advanced on Brack's sacrifice, and Arnovich was walked intentionally. Mueller scored on May's sacrifice fly.

After replacing Whitehill at the start of the fourth, Root had easy sailing until one was out in the seventh. At this juncture Martin doubled to right center and proceeded to third when Reynolds made a bad return throw. Martin scored on Brack's single to right.

CHMIEL PITCHES SECOND NO-HIT GAME OF SEASON

Leo Chmiel yesterday pitched his second no hit, no run game of the season as Lane Tech defeated Schurz, 14 to 0, in a City High School league game on the Paul Revere diamond. Chmiel struck out nineteen to bring his strikeout total for the year to forty-three and extend his hitless inning streak to twenty-one.

In west section competition Crane won its fifth straight victory by beating Farragut, 7 to 5. Morgan Park won its fifth game in a row by defeating Harper, 8 to 5, in the south section.

New Trier defeated Waukegan, 3 to 0, in a Suburban league game.

Tribune's Free Golf School Makes It Easy for Every One

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The seventh annual free golf school conducted by THE TRIBUNE will be open again next Tuesday evening on the four courses of the Chicago park district—Jackson, Marquette, Columbus, and Diversey in Lincoln park. It has been the use of this quartet of classrooms within the last three years of the school which has made it more of a success each term.

When the school was founded in 1933 it relied for instructional centers upon a number of outlying courses, including those of the Chicago Daily Fee Golf association, one of the pioneers in the organization of this largest system of group teaching. Because many potential pupils could not reach these for lack of adequate transporation, the enrollment of the classes was not as large as it might have been.

They're Easily Reached.

Realizing that conduct of the school within the metropolitan area proper would make it possible for many more novices to take the free course of lessons, THE TRIBUNE suggested the use of the park district courses, and the Daily Fee association and the park commissioners agreed.

All of these four courses are easily accessible by elevated, bus, and surface lines. The Jackson park course is located at 63d street and Stony Island avenue; the Marquette layout at Marquette road and Kedzie avenue; the Columbus park course at Jackson boulevard and Central avenue, and Lincoln park's Diversey links on Lake Michigan at the foot of Diversey boulevard.

Recently the park board met and granted formal permission for use of the four courses for the fourth consecutive year. Headed by President Robert J. Dunham, with George T. Donoghue as general superintendent, the commission includes Philip S. Graver, James C. Petrillo, Stephen I. Witmanski, and Louis E. Golan.

Four Classes to Be Held.

The school is free and open to everybody interested in learning the fundamentals of golf from an expert faculty composed of members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association of America.

Four classes will be held, the first one next Tuesday, the second on Thursday, May 11; the third on Tuesday, May 16, and the fourth and last lesson of the regular series on Thursday, May 18. The final exercises for the students adjudged by their teachers to have made the most progress during the school will be held on Sunday afternoon, May 21, at one of the four park courses, to be chosen later.

Each lesson at all courses will open promptly at 7 p. m. and will be finished within approximately one hour. The only requirements for entrance are one golf club, a willingness to learn the game, and your presence at the course most convenient to you.

LEE, CUBS FACE POFFENBERGER, DODGERS TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 3.—The Cubs arrived here early this evening from Philadelphia. Tomorrow they will play the first of three engagements with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Bill Lee, who won two games, then lost two for his season's showing to date, will start for the Cubs. Baron Poffenberger, late of the Detroit Tigers, is scheduled to pitch for the Dodgers.

The Philly front office, for years famous for postponements based on as flimsy a reason as the reading of an adverse paragraph in an almanac, insisted upon the playing of the game today despite Arctic blasts and gray skies. Probably been reading the Cub batting averages.

John Corriden, Cub coach and former major league player, who has been traveling around the circuit enough springs to know better, undertook the present voyage without his overcoat. Today he borrowed Secretary Bob Lewis' ample garment, Robbie using a mackintosh himself.

GIANTS DEFEAT REDS, 6-4, AND SWEEP SERIES

New York, May 3.—(AP)—The revived New York Giants dropped the Cincinnati Reds into third place in the National league today with their second straight triumph, 6 to 4.

Each team used three pitchers, who gave up 19 passes, 3 wild pitches and a balk. Adding to the fun were two passed balls, one of which scored a run, three errors, fourteen men left on bases by each team, and an assortment of hits reading downward from the home runs of Linus Frey and Billy Myers of the Reds.

The Reds took a three run lead in the first two innings on the homers, Frey's coming in the first inning after Bill Werber walked. The Giants scored a run in the fourth on a double and a single and went ahead with three in the fifth.

Better Than Its Price

This Glamour Cigar
NOW 10¢

●By every standard of valuation, the Robt. Burns Corona is the individualist of the ten-cent class, an individualist smooth as silk. It was designed and is produced to surpass other ten-cent cigars. We figured that the way to win men back to smoking fine cigars was to give them better cigars at a dime than they had ever known. One worth more at their own valuation than any two five-cent cigars they ever smoked.

Remember how corona has been the cigar of ease and luxury. Think how it calls to mind splendid surroundings and sumptuous good fare. No other cigar shares its glamour. To the prestige of the world's patrician shape, the luscious Robt. Burns Corona adds rich flavor. Men who love hearty Havana find their kind of luxury at a dime. Stop at a good cigar stand and meet this glamorous newcomer to the 10-cent field.

● At last four luxury cigar features at a dime: 1. All-Havana filler. 2. Skilled craftsmanship. 3. Shade-grown wrapper. 4. Classical corona shape.

A CLEAR NIGHT, TARPON APLENTY; THAT'S FISHING

They Play and Play; Then They Strike.

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Useppa Island, Fla., May 3.—Spend just one evening on the water either in Captiva or Boca Grand pass fishing for tarpon and you're ready to give up all day time trips for these grand, game fish. The combination of moonlight, warm, balmy breezes, the sight of tarpon breaking water, the strike of a fish after dark and the moonlight concerts of the whippoorwills is one that will make you a night fishing convert in a hurry.

Here are some notes from our little book as we wrote them last night when we were in Captiva pass about the time the sun was going down and the moon was riding high in a clear sky:

It's as warm as the balmiest June night in Illinois. . . . What a thrill to be bouncing around out there in the pass and hear the whippoorwills calling from the little islands nearby.

A Big One Breaks Water.

The western sky is a gorgeous combination of reds and golds now. . . . Won't be long until we'll be fishing by moonlight. . . . Splash—kerplunk . . . there are tarpon breaking water all around us. . . . One whopper came out not more than 15 feet from the stern of our boat. . . . I thought he was making a mistake and striking at our white float which is about sixty feet behind the stern. . . . Can't see that it's white now.

Just two other boats in the pass now. . . . There goes one toward clear water behind us. . . . They have a tarpon on. . . . What a beautiful picture when the fish comes out of the water and does a double flip-flop in the air to hit the water with a resounding smash. . . . We can hear a nighthawk above us now. Can't see him, but there's no mistaking those notes. . . . Splash . . . more tarpon breaking water. . . .

Finally—a Strike.

Time to make another drift. . . . "Reel in, Mr. Beckah," says Floyd, the guide. Well, maybe this time we'll get a nod from one that's on a diet of pinfish! . . . Boy, what a night to be out on the water. . . . We have our lights on the boat now. It's a pretty sight to look out over the water and see the tiny little red, green, and white lights bouncing around here in the pass. . . . Floyd just turned on his big flashlight to see where the float on our line is. It's going down.

"Floyd, STRIKE! Get ready. We've got a fish on!"

to picture him as the most ruthless slugger on the team. He is nearly always smiling, asking questions, and going to great lengths to make things easier for Lehtinen and Agren, who have greater difficulty conversing with others because they speak only their native languages.

Trainer Takes Charge.

Nemesio Lazzari, the Italian heavyweight blacksmith, came last on the list and Guido had to read the name of Tony Novak slowly and enunciate very distinctly, because Lazzari always has difficulty mastering the pronunciation. He always looks a little vague and shakes his head. He can't understand how a fellow with a name like that can be a champion; it makes him only more confident than ever that he won't have very much trouble winning the international championship.

The eight boxers began to realize more and more today that they're getting close to fighting time, as Trainer Steve Klaus began restricting their diets more rigidly.

PABST, MONARCH TEAMS TIE FOR BOWLING TITLE

The Pabsts tied the Monarchs for the championship of the Wednesday division of the Classic Bowling league last night in the Elmwood Park recreation. Pabsts swept their series with Ambrosia and the Monarchs lost two games to the Baby Ruths. The regular season ended with each team winning 71 and losing 34 games. This necessitates a rolloff for the championship.

Witness Tells How Tipster Survived Ride

The shooting of Eddie Burg, manager of a race tip publication, who recovered after being taken for a gangland ride in Houston, Tex., in 1936, yesterday was recalled at a hearing before Federal Master in Chancery Charles A. McDonald.

It came in the testimony of Patrick J. Burns, an official of the Nationwide News service, a dispensary of race results, and owned by Moses L. Annenberg, wealthy publisher. Annenberg, State Senator Daniel A. Serritella, and eleven co-defendants are accused of creating a monopoly in the race tip business and conspiring to ruin the business of the Chicago Turf Bulletin, published by James and John Flanagan.

Burg was manager of the Bulletin in Houston, Tex., when the Harvey A. Jr., a similar scratch sheet, published by the Daily Racing Form, an Annenberg enterprise, appeared in 1936. The Flanagans charge that the Harvey A. Jr., like Serritella's National Scratch Sheet in Chicago, was set up to drive their sheet out of business.

Burns' brother, Joseph, and one John Blanchard were indicted for assault to commit murder in the Burg shooting. Burg had been slugged, kidnaped, shot five times, and left beside a lonely road. Later the indictments against the two men were dismissed for want of prosecution. Attorney Joseph Savaga, for the Flanagans, said Burg was afraid to return to Texas.

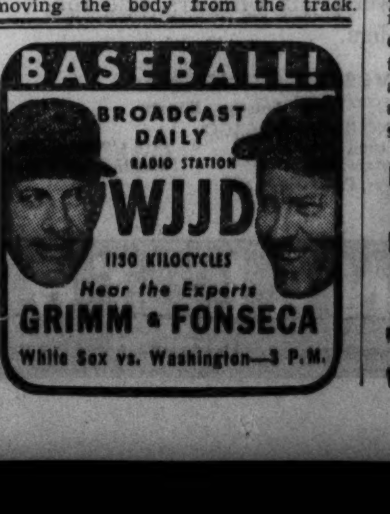
PAYS $1,500 AND CARTAGE FEE FOR DEAD 2 YEAR OLD

New York, May 3.—[Special.]—William Wick, New York turfman, walked around the Jamaica race track this afternoon and sadly shook his head. Wick this morning sought to purchase a 2 year old. He put in a claim for Staff Sergeant.

Staff Sergeant, which has failed to finish in the money in his first five starts, went to the post with Jockey Don Meade in the saddle. As Staff Sergeant entered the stretch, he dropped dead. Under the claiming rules, Wick was forced to pay Shields $1,500 and in addition arrange for removing the body from the track.



EUROPE'S BOXING TEAM REACHES CHICAGO TODAY

George Spatuzza, grand master of the Order of Sons of Italy; Dr. Dante Taddeucci, Rocco L. Fusello, Daniel Covelli, Anthony De Julio, Sam Pecoraro, John Merlo, and Horatio Tocco. Hundreds of others from Italian societies and organizations also will be at Union station.

C. C. Coldren, Estonian consul, has appointed Mr. and Mrs. Anton Reisman and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Grube to welcome Anton Raadik to Chicago. Peter J. Peel, prominent Irish sportsman, will be the personal representative of Consul Daniel J. McGrath of Ireland.

Olli Lehtinen of Finland will feel right at home for Ernest L. Knuti, Finnish vice consul; Arne Hyppa, who will serve as Lehtinen's second; K. W. Kohtala, president of the Finnish-American Athletic association, and Frank E. Nelson, attaché of the consulate, have been appointed by Consul Elmer A. Forsburg to welcome the team this morning.

Plenty of Tickets.

Swedish newspapers and officials of the Swedish-American Athletic association, will meet Eric Agren, but more important to this young man is the fact that his oldest brother, Karl, who came to the United States twelve years ago and who fought on a Golden Gloves team against New York in 1930, will meet him.

Excellent seats remain in all price locations for the international fights May 12. These tickets, at $3.30, $2.20, $1.65, and $1.10, may be purchased in the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, and in the lobby of Tribune Tower.

FIELD'S BUYS ITS TWO LOOP SITES FOR 15 MILLIONS

Store's State St. Deal Biggest in Years.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Marshall Field & Co. yesterday announced the purchase of the land occupied by its State street retail store and by the Marshall Field Annex building. The company will pay 15 million dollars cash to the estate of Marshall Field for the property, Frederick D. Corley, president, said.

Frederick D. Corley.

The purchase is the largest real estate transaction made in Chicago in several years and one of the largest cash deals in the city's history.

The company owns the buildings situated on the land, having acquired them in 1924 from the Field estate. It has been paying to the estate a ground rental currently amounting to $950,000 a year for the use of the property. Under the lease, which would terminate in 2023, the rental would gradually increase to a maximum of $1,150,000 a year.

Lifts Lease Load of 90 Millions.

Purchase of the land relieves the company of rental payments over the next eighty-five years amounting to more than $90,000,000. The purchase will be financed through sale to the Metropolitan Life Insurance company of $15,000,000 of the company's bonds.

The loan will be paid off in annual instalments during the next twenty years. The interest and principal payments which the company will make under the arrangement will amount to $22,344,000 during that period. If the present ground lease remained in effect the company would make rental payments totaling $19,480,000 during the twenty years.

Save 12 Millions in 20 Years.

"Shorn of its technicalities," President Corley said, "the transaction means the substitution of a debt for the rental obligation, both of which are equally binding on a going business. Marshall Field & Co. has thus effected a saving measured by the difference between the rent under the lease and the interest on the new bonds. This saving over the twenty year period will amount to $12,136,000, only a little less than the entire purchase price of the land."

James Simpson, chairman of the company's executive committee, represented the company in the negotiations. The Field estate was represented by Marshall Field III.

The price paid for the land amounts to $98.06 per square foot. The property occupied by the retail store comprises a square block bounded by State, Randolph, and Washington streets, and Wabash avenue. It fronts 384.6 feet on State street and Wabash avenue and 341.46 feet on Randolph and Washington streets.

Men's Store in Annex.

The land occupied by the annex building at the southwest corner of Washington and Wabash is 144 feet by 150½ feet. The annex houses the company's store for men and office space that is rented to other tenants.

Real estate men believe completion of the negotiations between the company and the estate may be the forerunner of a general movement to reduce rentals on property along State street. Many of the leases that were entered into years ago are proving burdensome to the lessees. It is understood other stores are negotiating with the property owners for revision of rentals. Such a movement, it was pointed out, would prove beneficial to State street business.

Show Belief in State Street.

President Corley said Marshall Field & Co. is reaffirming its faith in the future of State street in its purchase of the property. The willingness of the Metropolitan Life to lend money at a favorable rate of interest is further evidence, he said, of the future prospects of State street.

The company will pay 3.6 per cent interest to the insurance company on the money borrowed. A mortgage on

River Trafic Rises to New All Time Peak

Freight carried on the Illinois waterway into and out of Chicago last year totaled 3,691,000 tons. This was an increase of about 1 million tons over 1937. The total tonnage for the entire waterway was 4,446,000, against 3,690,000 for 1937. Both 1938 figures are all time records. The statistics were released yesterday by Capt. Samuel N. Karrick, United States divisional engineer for the Chicago district.

Total trafic for the port of Chicago, including both Illinois waterway and lake shipping, was 13,356,000 tons, with a value of $244,000,000. The movement was 18,727,000 tons, valued at $258,500,000, in 1937. The decrease was in lake shipping, mostly iron ore and steel, which went from 15,974,000 tons in 1937 to 9,665,000 tons last year.

190,000 Tons from Canada.

Chicago last year imported from Canada 190,000 tons, of which 153,000 were newsprint. Exports to Canada from Chicago totaled 1,570,000, which included 1,400,000 tons of grain. Imports from overseas, mostly in Norwegian and Swedish vessels, totaled 15,000 tons. Codliver oil accounted for 684 tons of this. Exports abroad via the lakes were about 33,000 tons. In this were 369 tons of feathers, four tons of powder puffs, and 1,200 tons of printing presses.

Chicago received from the lakes 6,072,000 tons and shipped 1,774,000. This is exclusive of foreign and coastwise trafic. Incoming freight on the Illinois waterway amounted to 2,461,000 tons, mostly in raw materials, and outgoing, largely finished products, totaled 67,000 tons.

Some of Chicago Receipts.

Some of the products shipped into Chicago were: Corn, 281,000 tons; beer, 585; other alcoholic beverages, 1,327; sugar, 20,000; molasses, 1,500; newsprint, 2,429; clothes baskets, 44; peanuts, 5,800; mahogany, 38; bituminous coal, 424,000; gasoline, 124,000; sand and gravel, 921,000; sulphur, 10,000 and toothpowder, 32.

Outgoing were 284 tons of toys, 77 tons of beer, and shipments of bicycles, baking powder, agricultural equipment, dextrine and other manufactured products.

Freight carried on the entire Illinois waterway in the last four years follows: 1935, 1,695,000; 1936, 2,171,000; 1937, 3,690,000; 1938, 4,446,000.

Included in the 1938 figure is 1,797,000 tons of sand and gravel; bituminous coal, 940,000; corn, 616,000; gasoline, 380,000; limestone, 63,000; fuel oil, 48,000; wheat, 49,000 and molasses, 46,000.

Gain on Calumet-Sag Canal.

One of the heaviest increases on any section of the Illinois waterway was on the Calumet-Sag canal. Legislation to have that part of the channel between the Sanitary canal and the Little Calumet river widened to 160 feet from its present 60, and to construct a 160 foot channel in the Grand Calumet river to Indiana Harbor, is now before congress. The improvement would cost $25,900,000.

Freight carried on the Calumet-Sag canal from 1933 to 1938 follows: 1933, 14,000 tons; 1934, 21,000; 1935, 43,000; 1936, 127,000; 1937, 350,000; 1938, 512,000.

The harbor at Waukegan carried 221,000 tons of freight valued at $1,670,000 last year, against 190,000 tons in 1937. Indiana Harbor declined from 1937's 7,936,000 tons to 5,988,000 tons, valued at $88,531,000.

Officials Buy More of Own Firms' Stocks

Corporation officers, directors, and principal stockholders bought more of their own companies' shares than they sold during March, a summary by the Securities and Exchange commission disclosed yesterday.

Jack L. Warner buys movie stock.

Although many sales of significant proportions were reported to the federal agency, purchases were again slightly in the majority numerically, following the pattern set in February. For many months prior to that sales had predominated.

Motion picture companies' shares figured prominently in the month's transactions. Jack L. Warner of Burbank, Cal., purchased 8,500 shares of Warner Brothers Pictures, of which he is vice president, giving him total holdings of 98,560 shares.

Schenck Sells 10,000 Shares.

Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the Twentieth Century-Fox Film corporation, disposed of 10,000 shares, but still held 108,943 at the end of the month.

Substantial sales of merchandising companies' stocks were recorded. Sewell L. Avery of Chicago, president of Montgomery Ward & Co., sold 4,600 shares, retaining 95,227.

Ralph E. Day of Bridgeport, Conn., bought 12,000 common shares of the Bridgeport Brass company, of which he is president, increasing his holdings to 19,119 shares.

David A. Schulte of New York, president of Park & Tilford, Inc., acquired 18,215 shares and held 30,658 at the close of March.

GENERAL MOTORS TELLS WORKERS RESULTS OF 1938

Jobs Show Smaller Decline than Sales.

New York, May 3.—[Special.]—In its first annual report to employés General Motors corporation today told its workers how the business was operated in 1938, what was done with money received and why there were not more jobs.

"The amount of work to be done at General Motors last year was less than the year before because we had fewer customers," the report said.

Sales Drop 44 Per Cent.

"Sales of cars to dealers in the United States dropped 44 per cent and sales in dollars of all our products fell off 34 per cent, compared with 1937. The number of jobs in the business was 28 per cent less than the year before."

The average number of employés during the year was 189,000,

Business in 1938, the report said, first slumped and then rose, but was profitable enough on the whole to provide dividends for the 390,000 stockholders.

How Money Was Spent.

The report showed the division of receipts by percentages for various purposes as follows:

Materials, supplies, freight, etc., 50.6 per cent; wages and salaries other than for the executive management, 28 per cent; taxes, 6.9 per cent; dividends, 6.9 per cent; renewal of plant and equipment, 4.4 per cent; left in the business, 2.7 per cent; pay of executive management, 0.5 per cent.

Taxes, the report stated, amounted to approximately $450 for each worker employed.

Revere Copper Issues Report.

Revere Copper and Brass, Inc., also issued an annual report to employés, tracing the expenditure of total income of $25,586,012.

The booklet said the company had $5,848,090 left after allowance for such items as supplies, interest, taxes, and bad debts, but before payments to management and employés.

"The company," it said, "paid in wages and salaries $7,973,498, including $82,367 for one week vacations with pay to hourly rate employés. Therefore, the company's loss for 1938 amounted to $2,125,048."

Nothing was paid to stockholders.

AUTO-LITE HAS PROFIT IN 1939, LOSS YEAR AGO

Other Firms Report Substantial Gain.

Companies operating in the building, automobile accessory, and publishing fields were prominent among those which yesterday reported substantial increases in first quarter earnings this year compared with 1938.

Electric Auto-Lite company reported consolidated net income for the first quarter was $1,620,903, or $1.35 a share, against net loss of $32,242 a year earlier. Major activity of the company is the manufacture of lighting, starting, and ignition equipment for automobiles.

Sales in April and releases for May indicate favorable second quarter earnings results, R. G. Martin, president, announced. He said that W. V. Flood, controler, has been elected a vice president.

American Radiator Has Profit.

Net income of American Radiator and Standard Sanitary corporation for the first three 1939 months was $126,579 against a net loss of $649,597 in 1938. Gross sales for the March quarter were $25,090,865 against $21,892,123 last year. The company is the leading manufacturer of heating apparatus.

Curtiss Publishing company reported that first quarter 1939 earnings rose more than 50 per cent over 1938. Net income amounted to $382,088 against $246,289 last year.

"Business of the company to date has not been affected by the war scare abroad or the decline of the New York stock market," Walter D. Fuller, president, said.

Fuller said that the May 6 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, published by the company, will be the largest issue since Oct. 10, 1931, except for the auto show issues each year.

1939 Profit Is Larger.

Compressed Industrial Gases, Inc., Chicago manufacturer of oxygen, hydrogen, acetylene, and other gases, reported net income of $46,668 or 18 cents a share for the three months ended March 31. It had net income of $8,146, or 3 cents a share, a year earlier.

H. B. Pearson, president, said that sales in March were the highest since November, 1937, and that the March daily rate was maintained during April. No action was taken on a dividend at the regular quarterly meeting of directors.

E. A. Pierce & Co. to Quit Investment Trust Field

New York, May 3.—[Special.]—Wall street sources said today that E. A. Pierce & Co., the nation's largest stock and commodity brokerage firm, will separate itself from the management and sponsorship of investment trusts. Edward Allen Pierce, the senior partner, was active in bringing about the reorganization of the New York Stock exchange management more than a year ago.

Pay Railways for Not Moving Unplanted Crops, Budd Gibes

When the federal government put out its various farm relief programs it overlooked a plan whereby the railroads might have been paid for not hauling what the farmers were paid for not raising, Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington, commented yesterday at the annual meeting of stockholders.

James C. James, elected vice president and director of Burlington.

Budd said the railroad problem has been made more difficult by the various farm programs which have limited crops and which have caused crops to be stored in warehouses or on farms. When crops have not moved the railroads have lost a large amount of their ordinary revenues.

As an example Budd cited the 1,600,000 bales of cotton stored in warehouses in Texas. Of this 590,000 bales are stored in warehouses along the Fort Worth and Denver railway, controled by the Burlington. Were this cotton to be moved it would mean $900,000 of revenues to the road.

Price Drop Hurts Roads.

The decline in wheat prices, which some farm authorities say has been at least partly due to farm relief programs, has had an adverse effect on railroad earnings, Budd said. He explained that when wheat prices are low there is a tendency to use this grain for feed or to distribute to nearby areas for feed by trucks.

"In the old days we used to be able to say that we would move wheat eventually," Budd commented. "When prices were down and wheat was being held in local elevators it would move some time and we got the business of hauling it. But this is not true any longer."

Budd said that the use of light weight passenger equipment will be expanded in the future and should increase operating economies.

Cites Standardization Problem.

One thing that limits the use of light weight equipment, he said, is the necessity for standardizing all railroad parts so they can be interchanged.

James C. James, of Aurora, the road's general counsel, was elected a director at the stockholders' meeting and later, at the directors' meeting was elected vice president.

James said he has "been under the Burlington influence" about as long as he could remember, his father, George A. James, having been a foreman in the road's shops at Aurora.

James was born in Aurora Feb. 21, 1882. He was educated in the Aurora public schools and at the University of Wisconsin. Admitted to the Illinois bar in 1905, he went to work for the Burlington shortly afterward as local attorney at Aurora.

All of the board members who attended the directors' meeting were from Illinois. Three New Yorkers are members of the board, but all were absent.

Sales of Cars in Cook County Higher in April

Retail sales of automobiles in Cook county in April totaled 12,261, the Bureau of Motor Advice reported yesterday. This was the largest number to be sold in any month since July, 1937, when the total was 13,497.

Sales last March totaled 9,779 and in April, 1938, the total was 7,283. Practically every make of car showed a substantial gain over March.

Chevrolet held first place with a total of 2,108. It also held first position in March, 1939, and April, 1938, with totals of 1,852 and 1,283, respectively.

Plymouth, with a total of 1,897, was in second place, which position it held in March with a total of 1,563.

Ford was in third place with a total of 1,571.

Dodge moved up into fourth position, with a total of 1,221, from fifth position in March when the total was 902.

HOUSE GROUP VOTES 60 MILLION SLASH IN JOB INSURANCE TAX

Washington, D. C., May 3.—(AP)—The house ways and means committee voted today to slash the unemployment compensation tax by many millions of dollars and to liberalize benefits under the social security act.

It decided that old age pensions, under the conytributory system, should start in 1940 instead of 1942, and that the federal government should pay half instead of a third of the cost of state aid to dependent children.

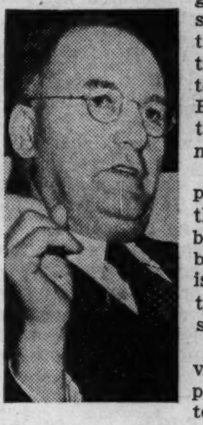
The committee decided that the 3 per cent federal unemployment compensation tax, paid entirely by employers, should not apply to individual incomes in excess of $3,000 a year. The tax now is paid on total incomes. The committee said that change would cut employer's tax bills $60,000,000 a year. One member said it would mean a 7 to 15 per cent reduction in the tax paid by the average corporation.

CHANGE LIKELY IN WAGNER ACT, BUSINESS TOLD

C. of C. Assails Law as Job Destroyer.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 3.—There is a better than 50-50 chance that congress at this session will amend the labor relations act, Senator Edward R. Burke [D., Neb.] today told business leaders.



Senator E. R. Burke.

The senator proposed that the National Labor Relations board be abolished and a new type of board substituted for it.

"There is a volume of supporting evidence to the claims made by the American Federation of Labor that confidence has been lost in the labor board," Burke said. "There is only one approach to this problem, and that is to abolish the present board altogether. We cannot have a fair administration of the act from the present board, which is pro-labor."

Senator Burke advocated a three man board, with one representative of employés, one for employers, and one for the public.

Held Threat to Democracy.

He spoke at a luncheon session of the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States after the business men had criticized the labor act as job destroying and a threat to democracy.

Business spokesmen who led the attack were W. Gibson Carey Jr. of New York, president of Yale & Towne Manufacturing company and slated as next president of the chamber, and B. C. Heacock of Peoria, Ill., president of the Caterpillar Tractor company.

The delegates loudly applauded Burke's comments on the chances of revision of the law and his description of Vice President Garner as "one of the greatest men of this age."

Senator Quotes Garner.

The senator interrupted his attack on the labor law, which he called "public enemy No. 1 of this country," to praise the Vice President and quote him on the need for good administration of any law. Burke's reference to Garner did not make it clear whether the latter's comments concerning the need for good administration had any connection with the labor law.

Burke, who has been a leading proponent of labor act revision, said he would oppose any attempt to "railroad inconsequential amendments" in

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 3.—Extending a recovery begun yesterday, the stock market advanced with a show of vigor today. Gains ranging up to 4 points brought prices near their best levels in a month.

Trading expanded on the advance. The turnover was 744,300 shares compared with 447,320 yesterday.

Activity increased on rising prices and diminished on dips. The buying came in several flurries, with western traders reportedly contributing much of the demand.

All sections of the list participated in the advance, with representative industrial issues setting the pace. Such issues as United States Steel, Bethlehem, Youngestown, Chrysler, General Motors, United States Rubber, Goodyear, Texas corporation, Montgomery Ward, Sears-Roebuck, American Smelting, and General Electric contributed gains of 1 to 2½ points.

Airplane issues were in steady demand. Glenn Martin was most active and added 1⅝ points. Similar gains were made by Consolidated Aircraft and Boeing. Douglas rose 2⅝ points.

Brooklyn Union Gas, rising to a new top for the year, with a gain of 1⅜ points, featured the public utility section.

Carrier shares worked higher as a group. Santa Fe climbed 1½ points.

Motor accessory shares were brought to the fore at one time. Electric Autolite stood out, rising 1⅝ points.

The value of shares listed on the New York exchange dropped $247,754,191 during April to an aggregate of $40,673,320,779 at the end of the month. This followed a decline of more than 5 billion dollars during March.

New York Bonds.

New York, May 3.—(AP)—A steady demand in the bond market left closing prices fractions to more than a point higher today. Rail loans caught the attention of most buyers. Comparatively good news from Europe and bright spots in domestic business reports provided a background for the advance, brokers said.

Top gains of 12-32ds point in United States government loans were offset by a few losses of 2-32ds. Foreign dollar loans charted a close course. Milan 6½s, however, sagged 2¼ to 41 on fairly lively turnover.

Favorites in the rail section included Southern Railway 4s at 47¾, Great Northern 4s of '46 "G" at 92¼, Nickel Plate 4½s at 44½ and 5½s at 53¼, Santa Fe 4s of '95 at 107⅝, and St. Paul 5s at 7¼. Alleghany 5s of '49 rose 3 points.

Turnover was $6,106,300, face value, compared with $4,625,500 Tuesday.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks advanced yesterday. The Tribune's average closed at 10.18 compared with 9.80 on Tuesday. Volume totaled 30,000 shares. Of the 98 issues traded 77 advanced, only 3 declined, and 18 were unchanged. Numerous gains of more than one point were recorded.

Commonwealth Edison led the trading, closing at 27¼ for a gain of ⅜ point. Middle West advanced ¼ to close at 7. Chicago corporation closed unchanged at 1⅜. Bendix Aviation gained ⅞, closing at 22⅜. Zenith Radio rose 1⅛ to 16½, and Marshall Field 1⅛ to 12⅜. Noblitt Sparks was up 1 point at 20.

Mountain States Power reached a new high at 53½ on a 2¼ point gain.

Bank Stocks.

Trading in Chicago bank stocks were steady to higher yesterday, dealers reported. Continental Illinois shares advanced $1.75, and First National $6 on the nominal closing bids. Other issues remained unchanged.

COTTON

Spot firms were on the buying side of May and July cotton yesterday. The close on these was near the top with gains of .05 to .09 cent a pound. Speculative interest in the deferred months was restricted, awaiting further developments in legislation at Washington. The close was unchanged to .07 cent a pound higher.

Spot cotton closed .07 to .08 cent higher, with New York at 9.24 cents; New Orleans, 9.03 cents and Houston and Galveston at 8.74 cents a pound. Prices follow:

Commodities

Commodities futures prices generally moved higher yesterday. Trading was quiet in most staples, although activity developed in silk contracts. The world sugar contract declined after its recent advances to new seasonal high marks.

Demand in silk futures was attributed mainly to Japanese and trade interests. No. 1 silk closed ½ cent a pound lower to 4½ cents a pound higher.

Speculative profit taking resulted in lower prices for the world sugar contract. The close was .005 cent to .02 cent a pound lower on the No. 4 [world] contract. No. 3 [domestic] sugar, which has not advanced as rapidly as the world contract in recent markets, closed unchanged to .02 cent a pound lower.

Rubber futures gained .12 to .16 cent a pound. Metals were mostly steady, with copper closing .06 to .10 cent higher. The domestic copper price remained unchanged. Coffee and hides also advanced. Wool tops, cottonseed oil, and straits tin finished irregular. Cocoa declined.

K. C. SOUTHERN GRANTED RIGHT TO ACQUIRE L. & A.

Exchange of Stocks to Complete Deal.

Washington, D. C., May 3.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission authorized the Kansas City Southern Railway company today to acquire control of the Louisiana and Arkansas Railway company. The Kansas City Southern will exchange its stock for stock of the Louisiana and Arkansas.

The I. C. C. authorized the Kansas City Southern, in order to carry out the plan, to issue 510,000 shares of common stock without par value.

Would Aid Development.

In support of its proposal to acquire control of the Louisiana and Arkansas, the Kansas City Southern said it would aid in the internal development of the southwest, result in improvement in service, promote efficiency and economy in operation, tend to preserve and promote competition, and enable the unified system to compete with other systems on more nearly equal terms.

In approving the unification, the I. C. C. modified its 1929 plans for consolidation of railroads so as to assign the properties of the Kansas City Southern to system number 19, known as the Rock Island-Frisco system instead of to system number 15, known as the Union Pacific system.

Acquired Another Road.

The I. C. C. some time ago authorized the Louisiana and Arkansas to take over the Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas railway.

The Kansas City Southern, the Louisiana and Arkansas, and the Louiana, Arkansas, and Texas are parties to the so-called Washington agreement, or job protection agreement, of May, 1936. Because of this, the Railway Labor Executives' association did not oppose the unification.

BAR EX-SEC AID FROM JOB WITH GIANNINI FIRMS

San Francisco, Cal., May 3.—(AP)—The Securities and Exchange commission today won a restraining order prohibiting its former attorney, William Mahaney, from being employed by or giving confidential information to the Bank of America, Transamerica corporation, Time Trust, Inc., and L. M. Giannini, bank president.

The order, issued by Federal Judge A. F. St. Sure, also restrained the companies and Giannini from making use of any confidential information Mahaney might have given. The injunction will exist until conclusion of the SEC's hearing in Washington on charges that Transamerica made "false and misleading statements" in stock registration.

Mahaney resigned a $4,000 a year job with the SEC in January and took a $7,500 position with the Bank of America.

STALEY TO BUILD $300,000 OHIO SOYBEAN PLANT

A $300,000 soy bean processing plant in Ohio will be constructed by the A. E. Staley Manufacturing company, Decatur, Ill., the company announced yesterday. The plant, which is scheduled for completion Oct. 1, will be located on the Grand river near Fairport harbor and Painesville, O. The site is on the south shore of Lake Erie, about twenty-six miles northeast of Cleveland.

The Staley company is one of the leading domestic manufacturers of corn and soy bean products. Since 1922 soy bean processing has assumed increased importance in its operations. Early in 1937 the company completed construction of a refinery at the Decatur plant, which doubled its soy bean crushing capacity. Its daily grinding capacity is estimated now at 50,000 bushels of corn and 20,000 bushels of soy beans.

"Our operations in Decatur will continue as usual and will not be cut down as a result of the construction of the new plant in Ohio," F. Eakin, vice president and controler, said. "Rather this new development will operate as a separate unit."

REALTY GROUP OPPOSES SLUM CLEARING PLAN

The membership of the Chicago Real Estate board voted last night to oppose the "public service building corporation" slum clearance plan, which is embodied in bills now pending in the Illinois legislature.

Opponents hastily rounded up enough proxies to put the board on record against the plan after an earlier vote in which a motion to postpone consideration had been defeated, 43 to 39. Those favoring postponement had charged they were not given enough time to consider the plan.

The "public service building corporation" plan is designed to encourage private capital to undertake slum clearance by assuring it of being able to get land at fair prices, by condemnation if necessary in cases where minority owners hold out for excessive prices. Such corporations would be under strict state supervision.

DAY by DAY on the FARM

Dandelions Peer Out.

YELLOW tops of dandelions are beginning to show up in sunny spots along south slopes of hillsides. Many families already are picking the tender leaves for greens. Others are preparing for the annual drudgery of digging the plants out of their lawns. Some advocate the use of dandelion greens as both good for the stomach and for the lawns.

Dandelion leaves are rich in vitamins and minerals and are said to make appetizing greens, salads, and sandwiches. Here is a recipe for preparing dandelion greens, suggested by Miss Mary Meade, cooking editor of THE TRIBUNE:

"Dandelions, to be tender and succulent, should be gathered before they have blossomed. After blossoming, the flavor becomes too bitter for most palates. Wash the leaves carefully and cut off the root ends. Cook in a large amount of boiling, salted water, uncovered, until just tender. Drain in a colander. Serve with salt, pepper, a little vinegar, and several tablespoons of chopped crisp bacon."

Recipe for Sandwiches.

Here is Miss Meade's recipe for dandelion sandwiches: "Use crisp young leaves and tear them apart. Arrange on slices of buttered bread, sprinkle with salt, pepper, and lemon juice, and cover with another buttered slice. Serve when freshly made." Miss Meade also suggests using dandelions as salads and as wilted greens.

Dandelions often are cultivated for use as spring greens. The cultivated kinds are much larger than the common lawn variety. There is a wide difference of opinion whether dandelions always should be relentlessly destroyed or whether attempts should be made to keep them in check where they are not wanted while cultivating them for their various useful purposes in other places. Many enjoy the early yellow blooms. The roots sometimes are roasted, ground, and mixed with coffee.

Opinions also differ as to the best methods of ridding lawns of dandelions. Many lawnkeepers insist that the most effective way is to dig them out.

Effective Spray Described.

Frank K. Balthis, horticulturist at Garfield park conservatory, says a spray that is effective when applied at this time of year is made by dissolving 1 to 1½ pounds of iron sulphate in 1 gallon of water.

It should be mixed in a wooden container and may be sprayed or sprinkled on the lawn. He says it kills dandelions and other flat leaved weeds, but does not permanently injure grass, although the grass may appear to be damaged for a few days.

Balthis also recommends spraying with kerosene about the middle of September. He suggests using 2 quarts of kerosene to 100 square feet of lawn space. He says fertilizer should be put on the lawn about one month before it is sprayed with kerosene to stimulate the grass so it will not be injured.

Abundant Crop Assured.

Nature has taken special precautions to insure a continuous crop of dandelions. A single plant, when growing in the open, may produce 20,000 seeds in one summer.

Each seed is equipped with a sort of parachute that enables it to be carried easily by the wind. Fields badly infested with dandelions may produce 300 million seeds to the acre.

Dandelions live 10 or 20 years. The age of the plants may be told by counting the growth rings in the roots. There is one ring for each year's growth. They are similar to the growth rings in a tree.

CALL ATTORNEYS INTO CONFERENCE ON COAL WAGES

New York, May 3.—[Special.]—Attorneys of the United Mine Workers of America and the soft coal operators were summoned today for the first time to the conference room where the miners and operators are negotiating for a new labor contract.

No immediate explanation of the move was forthcoming, but it was generally supposed that both sides wanted legal advice concerning the operators' newest proposal to give the United Mine Workers of America a check-off system to collect dues from both union and nonunion miners as an alternative for the union's demand for a closed shop.

Both sides maintained silence tonight when the meeting recessed until tomorrow morning.

Meanwhile the prospect grew for a walkout of some 150,000 bituminous miners outside the Appalachian area tomorrow and Friday midnights—the time varying sectionally. The non-Appalachian miners have been ordered to leave the pits then if a settlement is not reached in the meantime.

HEARST GROUP IS SUED FOR AN ACCOUNTING

New York, May 3.—(AP)—William H. Coe, who described himself as the owner of 100 shares of Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc., started suit in federal court today against the corporation, for which he sought a receivership, and against American Newspapers, Inc., seven alleged affiliated corporations, forty individuals, and two estates.

William Randolph Hearst, William Randolph Hearst Jr., George Hearst, John Randolph Hearst, and the estate of Arthur Brisbane were among the defendants named.

Coe's complaint alleged carelessness and misconduct on the part of the individual defendants as directors of the publishing concerns, and asked that all defendants, except Hearst Consolidated, be required to account for their acts as directors and officers, and for acts allegedly damaging to Hearst Consolidated Publications and its wholly owned subsidiaries.

6 Men Make 446.6 Tons of Tinplate in 8 Hours

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 3.—(AP)—A crew of six men at the new $75,000,000 Irvin works of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation turned out 446.6 tons of tinplate in an eight hour shift today, setting what Foreman Charles Larkin said was a world production record. The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company of Birmingham, Ala., a United States Steel subsidiary as is Carnegie-Illinois, held the previous high of 409.8 tons in eight hours.

CHANGE LIKELY IN WAGNER ACT, BUSINESS TOLD

Burke Sees Hope; C. of C. Assails Law.

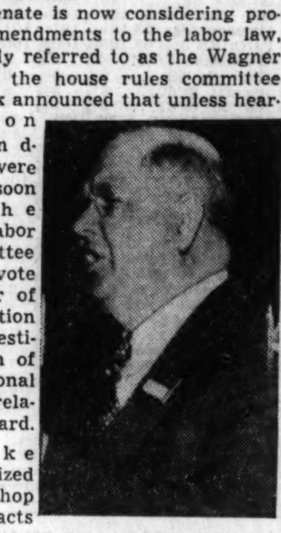
a rush to adjourn congress by the middle of June.

He said he would prefer to let the whole matter go over until the next session and lay the groundwork for substantial changes in the future, adding that "many of my colleagues have just begun to fight" for labor law amendment.

The senate is now considering proposed amendments to the labor law, commonly referred to as the Wagner act, and the house rules committee last week announced that unless hearings on amendments were started soon by the house labor committee it will vote in favor of a resolution for investigation of the national labor relations board.



Dr. Hugh S. Magill criticizes economic theorists.

Burke criticized closed shop contracts and agreements under which employers deduct union dues from the workers' pay envelopes, a procedure known as the checkoff system.

He said that Wagner act changes are "one of three or four things which must be done before we can give the 10,000,000 or 12,000,000 idle workers a chance to find jobs."

Carey, in his address said: "I make the unqualified statement that this legislation has induced unrest, built bad feeling, decreased productivity, and displaced thousands of men from private employment. The National Labor Relations act should be amended."

Rights Infringed, He Charges.

"To fair minded men it is by now clear, I think, that the act we are discussing infringes not moderately but deeply the basic rights of employer and employé," Carey continued. "Is it not sufficient proof to mention briefly the recent testimony of the chairman of the national labor relations board, who said, in effect, that an employer's mention of communistic influence might, even if true, be an unfair labor practice?

"With such interpretation by an important official, we had better think deeply of our personal rights of free speech in these United States."

Heacock charged that administration of the act had increased labor strife, produced idleness, and that it has been terribly damaging in that its whole tendency is to destroy democracy. He said the federal government should leave legislation in the labor field to the states.

Chamber's Aims Stated.

He said the chamber is sponsoring amendments to assure:

1. Right of the employer to demand of the labor board that it determine who represents who as a labor bargainer.

2. That the act not interfere with nor diminish the right of free speech.

3. Assure employés and the affected public that employés may join or resign from, or refuse to join, anything and all things without coercion or intimidation from any source.

4. Elimination of the so-called "majority rule" so citizens of America may claim their own souls and even retain the right to discuss, as they please, terms and conditions under which they sell their services.

Asks Closed Shop Repeal.

5. Repeal of the closed shop proviso.

6. Fix it so the labor board cannot continue to be prosecutor, judge, jury, and hangman.

George H. Davis, president of the chamber, opened discussion this morning on thawing out the frozen capital of the nation. He said the greatest single force which pulled this country out of past depressions was the flow of capital into old and new enterprise. The same thing is needed now, he said.

Dr. Hugh S. Magill of Chicago, president of the American Federation of Investors, Inc., said that the 20,000,000 families of American investors are holding back their savings from useful enterprises until what they regard as unsound government policies have been corrected.

Criticizes Economic Theorists.

"I hold no brief for big business," said Magill." I do not belong to that class myself. But I am thoroughly convinced that our people have suffered far more from economic theorists than they have from economic royalists.

"The millions on relief should be conscious of the fact that funds that furnish them their daily bread must come from taxpaying citizens whose ability to pay such taxes is dependent to a large degree upon the industrial prosperity of our nation. A serious economic breakdown would ultimately fall most heavily on the poor."

LONG DECLINE IN STEEL PLANT OUTPUT HALTED

The long decline in steel making has been halted, the magazine Iron Age reported yesterday. The national ingot production rate rose 0.5 point to 49 per cent this week. The slight gain is the first since 56 per cent of capacity was reached in the week started March 13.

Production in the two principal steel districts, Chicago and Pittsburgh, however, continued to ease slightly, but gained in Youngstown, Cleveland-Lorain, Wheeling-Weirton, and St. Louis.

The major steel plants are not seriously disturbed by the soft coal shutdown, Iron Age said. Precautions have been taken to prevent excessive use of coal and coke. Most companies have enough supplies for six to eight weeks of operations.

DRY WEATHER AFFECTS MUCH OF WHEAT BELTS

Deterioration Reported in Parts of Kansas.

Dry weather prevailed over the larger part of the winter and spring wheat areas in the last week, the weather bureau reported yesterday. Winter wheat deteriorated in parts of Kansas as a result of the dryness, said the report. The crop made poor progress in parts of central Nebraska, and there was some deterioration in parts of Oklahoma. In most central and eastern districts progress of the crop was mostly good to very good. Some wheat is heading in Texas, and jointing is extending well into Kansas and Missouri.

Wheat Seeding Progressing.

Seeding of spring wheat is nearing completion in parts of South Dakota and Montana, but rain is needed over a large part of the northwest. Planting of corn is general in Kansas, fairly general in Missouri, and is beginning in Nebraska, Iowa, Kentucky and the southern parts of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

Rainfall for the week ended May 2 and from April 1 to May 2, in inches, as reported by the weather bureau follows:

Canadian Northwest Dry.

Dry weather prevails in the Canadian northwest. Rainfall in the week ended May 2 was light. Precipitation in the three western provinces as shown by a report compiled by Sanford Evans, a Winnipeg statistician and wired to J. S. Bache & Co., has been materially less than a year ago and below normal. Rainfall in inches follows:

WHEAT AND CORN SELL LOWER AS DEMAND EASES

At no time yesterday did wheat and corn futures on the Chicago Board of Trade sell above the closing prices on Tuesday. A pause in the export demand and profit taking by commission houses and professional traders resulted in a lower range. Wheat closed ½ to ⅝ cent a bushel lower. Corn declined ½ to ¾ cent.

Oats finished unchanged to ¼ cent higher. May and July equaled the high price of the season. The soybean market continued its creeping advance, with May and July selling at new seasonal high prices. Net gains were ½ to 1⅛ cents a bushel.

Estimates on the winter wheat crop by Chicago statisticians showed an average of 538,000,000 bushels or the same as a month earlier, and was 11,000,000 bushels less than the department of agriculture April 1 estimate. Last year's harvest was 687,000,000 bushels. The report was about as expected by brokers, and had little effect on the market.

FIELD STORE BUYS ITS 2 LOOP SITES FOR 15 MILLIONS

State Street Deal Among Biggest in History.

the two properties will be given to secure the loan.

The Field estate said its decision to sell the property was made to diversify its holdings and to increase its liquid assets.

George Richardson, trustee of the Field estate, said no decision has been made on the reinvestment of the $15,000,000 cash which will be realized on the deal. It is known that most of the $950,000 annual rental paid to the estate in ground value has been absorbed by income taxes. The same principal invested in tax exempt securities, it was pointed out, would yield a higher net return to the estate than the land investment.

ORDER ARREARS PAID

First quarter sales and earnings of Marshall Field & Co. exceeded those of the corresponding 1938 period, Frederick D. Corley, president, reported yesterday. At the same time he announced that the directors of the company have authorized the payment of all dividend arrearages on the prior preferred stock. The payment will be made May 17 to stockholders of record May 15.

The dividend, amounting to $7 a share, will be distributed to holders of 8,965 shares of the senior stock. No action was taken by directors on preferred or common stock dividends. Dividends on the preferred stock are $6 in arrears.

Sales Rise in First Quarter.

Corley said that first quarter sales totaled $18,049,598, an increase of $18,517 or 1-10th of 1 per cent over the first quarter of 1938.

Net profit, after federal taxes, was $428,184 for the first quarter compared with $381,815 in the first quarter last year, an increase of 12 per cent.

The net profit in each of the company's three divisions—retail, manufacturing, and real estate—was higher than in the first quarter of 1938, President Corley said.

Monsanto Acquires Resinox Corporation, Plastics Firm

The Monsanto Chemical company yesterday announced the acquisition of Resinox corporation, manufacturer of plastic molding compounds. Financial details of the transaction were not divulged.

WHAT INFLATION DID.

Investors' Guide: I have asked this question of a number of persons and no one seems to know what the answer is. Perhaps you can help me out. What happened to holders of insurance policies and annuities in Germany in the period of inflation after the world war? Were they wiped out completely?—W. L. K.

Answer: In most cases the holders of insurance policies and annuities received about 10 per cent of the face values after the inflation had taken place and subsequent adjustments had been made.

After the inflation of 1923-'24 had run its course, it required about a thousand billion [1,000,000,000,000] old marks to purchase one new mark. This, for all practical purposes made the old marks worthless.

The government, however, made "revalorization" loans to a number of private corporations, including the insurance companies, and with the help of these loans realization of about 10 per cent of the old policy values was afforded to holders of insurance contracts. Mortgage holders in most cases also received about 10 per cent of the old face value in the new marks.

WHY BUY WARANTS?

Investors' Guide: Please tell me why Commonwealth and Southern warants, listed on the New York Curb, are selling for any price at all, even though it is very low. The warants entitle one to buy the common stock at $30 a share, but it is now selling for less than $2 a share. Therefore, it seems to me, the warants are worthless. Have they ever sold for more than $1 each?—A. B.

Answer: Commonwealth and Southern warants are purely speculative. It is true that they are of no actual use now, because the stock is selling so far below the price at which the warant gives the right to purchase.

The warants, however, do not have any expiration date. Hence, so long as there is the slimmest chance that the stock will rise to more than $30 a share, the warants will have a market value. Those who buy them now at 1-16 or thereabouts are taking a long speculative shot.

The price of the warants went as high as $12 in 1929.

BUTTONHOLE DIVIDENDS.

Investors' Guide: What dividends were paid on International Button Hole Sewing Machine company's common stock last year?—M. S.

Answer: The I. B. H. S. M. Co. paid $1.20 a share last year.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Light receipts bolstered the trade in cattle yesterday and steers and yearlings sold strong to 25 cents per hundred pounds higher. All of the losses incurred earlier in the week were recovered. The $14.00 top equaled the highest price paid for steers since December, 1937.

Recent advances in prices of lambs caused a slower trade in the sheep house. The bulk of wool lambs held steady, with top loads at $10.60. Slight advances in shorn stock and a 10 to 15 cent rise in new crop springers were recorded.

A two-way market developed for hogs. "Lard hogs" sold under pressure at steady to 10 cents lower prices, while other stock held firm and in some spots sold 5 to 10 cents above the preceding day's quotations.

[All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]

WANT TO BE HAPPIER?

Would you like a position where you could take a 3 month vacation, and always have a position waiting for you? Would you like to earn as much in 6 or 9 months as you now earn in twelve? Would you like to average $50 a week? Would you like to be your own boss, have your own shop? Then you should investigate Beauty Culture and Burnham's.

We have the largest enrollment because we offer a student so much more. Thanks to our methods of training [result of 67 years of knowing how to teach]. Burnham students on graduation are so expert that we cannot supply the demand by beauty shop owners. That's why Burnham graduates get into the better shops, earn more from the start, have such a wonderful prestige in the profession.

As little as $5 enrolls you in the world's oldest, largest and most famous beauty school. Unbelievably easy terms. Day and night classes. Valuable equipment, with which you can earn extra money in spare time, given without extra cost if you enroll now. To qualify for it [even if you enroll later], you must visit, phone or write us this week. Open every week day and Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.
P. W. A. Project Pennsylvania, 1949-F.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission through the Chairman, 11 North Fourth Street, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, until 1:00 P. M. Eastern Standard Time, the day of May 19, 1939, and immediately thereafter will be taken to the Public Utility Commission Hearing Room, No. 1, Ground Floor, North Office Building, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read aloud for the following contract:

For the construction of the Rays Hill Tunnel, designated as Contract No. 24-Section No. R2, and its west and east approaches in East Providence Township, Bedford County, and Brush Creek Township, Fulton County, State of Pennsylvania. The work consists of the construction of the tunnel [not including, however, the ventilation building at the west end of the tunnel, or the stone portal at the east end of the tunnel, interior finish or mechanical and electrical installation], and the grading and drainage and the construction of reinforced concrete structures for the approaches. The work to be performed under this contract extends from approximately three-fourth [¾] mile west of the Bedford-Fulton County line at Station 1913+60 to approximately three-quarters [¾] of a mile east of the Bedford-Fulton County Line at Station 36+00.

Copies of Contract Drawings, Specifications, other contract documents and reference drawings including cross-sections, are on file and open to public inspection at the offices of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission located at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, on or after May 4, 1939, and at the District Office of the Commission located at Everett, Pennsylvania. Contract Drawings, Specifications and other documents, including reference drawings, will be on file and open to the public inspection within a reasonable mailing time after May 4, 1939, at the following locations:

Associated Pennsylvania Constructors, Masonic Building, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.
Frederick Hoitt, Sec., New England Road Builders' Assn., 89 Broad St., Boston, Mass.
Ralph W. Ibenfeldt, Ex. Sec., Illinois Road Builders' Assn., 228 N. La Salle St., Chicago, Illinois.

General Contractors Association, 341 Madison Ave., New York, New York.
Pennsylvania Construction Digest, 340 Architech Bldg., Philadelphia, Pa.
Pennsylvania Construction Digest, 1161 Century Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Copies of reference drawings, including cross-sections, may be purchased from the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission for the sum of Twenty-Five [$25.00] Dollars per set.

Contract Drawings, Specifications and contract documents may be obtained from the Commission upon deposit of Fifteen [$15.00] Dollars for each set, such deposit to be refunded in full to any actual bidder upon the return of such documents in good condition within five [5] days after the date of the opening bids. Refund will be made for all contract drawings, contract documents and reference drawings returned if the project is withdrawn from the letting by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission. Remittances are to be payable to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission and must accompany request for the contract drawings, specifications and reference drawings.

The character and amount of bid security to be furnished by bidders is stated in the Instructions to Bidders.

No bid may be withdrawn for thirty [30] days after the scheduled closing time for receipt of bids.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission reserves the right to waive any informalities in or to reject any or all bids.

"How I Got a Loan of $100 without embarrassment or delay."

"I needed $100 in a hurry. I dreaded to ask friends for a favor. And I had no security for getting a loan at a bank. What was I to do? Fortunately I heard about Household Finance and so went to a nearby office. The manager was courteous and friendly. He merely asked me a few simple questions. The next day I got the money, with 20 months to repay. Only my wife and I signed the papers. I was delighted to get a loan so simply and promptly."

Whether you are married or single, if you need a loan of $20 to $300 the manager of the Household office near you will be glad to discuss your problem with you in complete privacy and without obligation. Why not phone or visit him today?
